ALPINE HISTORY

By permission of the writer, Mrs. Beatrice La Force, we are publishing excerpts from her booklet, "ALPINE HISTORY—A Brief Account of Early Days," copyrighted in 1952.

THE ALPINE HALL 1899

As Alpine grew it became apparent that a public meeting place was necessary. In 1899 the Alpine Hall was built. This is the building now belonging to the Alpine Women's Club, and housing the Alpine library, and women's club auditorium where all large public gatherings in the community have been held for the past 55 years.

The story of the Alpine hall is this: Believing that the people would have more interest in it if they helped pay for it, Mr. Arnold advanced half of the cost, with other local citizens supplying the rest. Thus the Alpine hall company was formed with $600.00 worth of shares at $10.00 a share owned by the stockholders. This was Alpine's first incorporated venture.

THE SCHOOL 1899

Around 1899 Hr. Arnold built a new school on the site that held the Alpine grammar school for the next 53 years. It began as one room with one teacher for all grades. Gertrude Cummins was the new teacher as Mrs. Finley had

THE DAY OF RESURRECTION

Henry Smart, 1836

The day of resurrection!
Earth, tell it out abroad
The Passover of gladness,
The Passover of God.
From death to life eternal,
From this world to the sky,
Our Christ hath brought us over
With hymns of victory.

Our hearts be pure from evil,
That we may see aright
The Lord in rays eternal
Of resurrection light;
And, listening to His accents,
May hear, so calm and plain,
His own "All hail!" and, hearing,
May raise the victor strain.

Now let the heavens be joyful,
Let earth her song begin;
Let the round world keep triumph,
And all that is therein;
Let all things seen and unseen,
Their notes of gladness blend,
For Christ the Lord hath risen,
Our Joy that hath no end.

Wedding Ceremony For Local Girl

In an 8 o'clock ceremony at the Chapel of the Hills in Descanso Saturday, Miss Bonnie Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bates of Willowside Terrace, became the bride of Patrick Malone, formerly of Kansas and now in the U. S. Navy.

Rev. W. L. Truman officiated at the wedding; Miss Claudia Marks of Alpine was bridesmaid; and Mr. Fred Anderson of Descanso acted as best man.

The Bates' home was the scene of a dinner for the wedding party preceding the wedding, and a reception following.

Mr. and Mrs. Malone are making their home in Alpine.

A Visit To The Coliseum

"I knew the first thing I had to do when I arrived in Rome was to visit the Coliseum.

"We arrived in the city in the evening just at dinner time, and as soon as I had eaten I grabbed my raincoat and started out. It had been raining all day; the streets shone with silver wetness, and the sky was filled with ragged grey masses of clouds scurrying around a big staring moon. I grabbed a bus and 20 minutes later got off at the gleaming white marble monument of Victor Immanuel.

"Stretching back of it a parkway leads through the old Roman Forum—past the evacuated shops and buildings of ancient Rome directly to the enormous circular ruin that stands by itself alone and still. No other people were about. The wind was sharp and the wintery weather encouraged them to stay inside—home, or the bars, cafes, theatres.

"Off to the right of the main ruin stands the Arch of Constantine. Two thousand years it has stood there. The arch is weathered and old. Carved marble friezes are dulled and the Roman writing

DISCUSSION MONDAY, MARCH 30, AT ALPINE SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a news release from the Water Committee of East County Municipal Water District.

The functions of the East County Municipal Water District are as follows:

1. Annexation to the San Diego County Water District at the earliest possible date.
2. To provide transmission line facilities from the present source of supply to a common service point within the reach of the District at an elevation of approximately 1,400 feet.

It will be the responsibility of individual neighborhoods and other unincorporated communities and existing agencies to work out the water improvements for water distribution to the property owners. During the past six months, the East County Municipal Water District has been at the crossroads in procuring water for this District. (1) One road will be that of annexation to the existing districts. (2) Another road would be a joint agreement with other Agencies in bringing water facilities into the area.

(3) The last road would be to build a transmission line from the San Diego Water Authority to a common point within the District. Since the District's first request, in November, 1957, there have been many reviews by existing Water Districts on a proposed annexation. The Helix Irrigation District employed Mr. John Longwell to make a feasibility study of the water recommendations and requirements in this area. He reported to the Helix District Board in September, 1958 and his report deemed it inadvisable to annex the entire area at this time.

The East County District met in September and recommended a

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Water Committee of the East County Municipal Water District will hold a meeting at the Alpine Union School Auditorium at 7 o'clock p.m. on March 30, 1959.

The agenda for the evening will include the progress of this District's concurrent annexation to San Diego County Water Authority. Previous actions regarding this area's request for annexation will also be discussed.

The interest in water development is of paramount importance to the people of East County, and a large attendance at this meeting is anticipated.

The boundaries were formed according to the area requested for inclusion in November, 1958 and a study sent forward and a new Map to the San Diego County Water Authority which was approved on December 18th with recommendations as to boundaries.

On February 19th the property owners in Blossom Valley on Flynn

SOCIAL SECURITY

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION:

Before I married my present husband, I was receiving widow's benefits on my first husband's social security record. My marriage terminated these benefits and I was not eligible to get payments on my present husband's record. Does the recent change in the law help me?

ANSWER:

Yes, if you could have received a widow's benefit on your first husband's social security record in the month before you married your second husband, it is no longer necessary to be married to your present husband for three years before you qualify for payments on his record. Effective for September 1958, if you second husband is receiving retirement benefits now, you may receive them also by applying at your social security office.

QUESTION:

Can all widows past 62 who remarry draw benefits immediately on their present husband's account if he is getting old-age insurance benefits?

ANSWER:

No. The widow must have been entitled to benefits the month before marriage to immediately draw benefits on the present husband's account. Otherwise, there is a 3-year waiting period to qualify for wife's benefits.

QUESTION:

I will reach age 72 on August 6, 1959. Will my earnings for 1959 affect the number of checks I will receive?

ANSWER:

If your earnings for 1959 are over $1200, you will be subject to loss of one month's check for each $80.00 or fraction of $80 by which your earnings exceed $1200. However, you will not lose a check for any month in which you are age 72 or older, or in any month in which you neither earn over $100 as an employee or perform sub-

Letter To The Editor

In the March 20th issue of this paper information was provided regarding the use to be made of the funds provided by the proposed school bonds. It is a help to some doubtful people to have this information, however, there remain other considerations or problems which should also be discussed and clarified before the election.

First, the proposal to build the new 12 room unit (8 classrooms, office facilities, etc.), at a location far separated from the present Alpine school represents a step backward and violates the national trend of years for centralization of schools. No rational person today would consent to trade his automobile for the horse and buggy of the times that are behind us.

The statement has been made that the building costs would be lower in the new site. However, it should be pointed out that no comparative estimate of figures have been published to give this validity. DO THEY EXIST? The present school in Alpine has utilities installed, consisting of a sewage system, water and electrical services. The cost of these plus that of land at the new site should be compared with the cost of providing suitable land adjacent to the present school, and Junior High School. If such comparative figures were to be published they could do much to dispell the present uncertainty felt by many of the people. However, we should not overlook the fact that the desegregation of the Alpine school represents a retrogressive action in a progressive era. Therefore, even should it cost more to build in Alpine (and this has not been proved), it would be advantageous and more economical in operation (eliminating duplications) to keep the school together as a unit in Alpine.

Another consideration which may be of major interest to some residents in Alpine is the possibility that some of the pupils now attending the Alpine school (and not living in the Harbison Canyon area) could be, and maybe would be, forced to attend the school in the new area proposed. This was pointed out by the school superintendent at the first public meeting at the school, where a large size map of the school district was provided showing the probable area or sector of the district in Alpine thus affected, altho it was stated that the line shown on the map was at present flexible and could be moved either to the right or left to include more or less of the Alpine residential area. This would not happen should the new buildings be placed in Alpine.

Experiments Disprove Nuclear Physics Theory

Experiments conducted at Columbia University have overthrown a fundamental concept that has been built into the whole of nuclear physics theory during the past 30 years. The principle of "conservation of parity" states that the laws governing physical phenomena are identical in any situation and its mirror situation, and that distinction between the original and its image is not possible. According to the parity limitation, the decay of subatomic particles was not affected by the direction of their spin. The experiments proposed by Profs. Tsung Dao Lee and Chen Ning Yang showed that "parity is not conserved"; there are such things as right-handed and left-handed particles, and their properties differ.

Dr. I. I. Rabi commented: "In a certain sense, a rather complete theoretical structure has been shattered at the base and we are not sure how the pieces will be put together." The experiments disproving parity were executed by Chen Shiung Wu, Ernest Ambler, R. W. Hayward, D. D. Hoppes, R. P. Hudson, Leon M. Lederman, Richard L. Garwin, and Marcel Weinrich.

New Form Of Writing Created

A form of writing that makes use of two sets of syllabic symbols was created in the Caroline Islands during this century. The major syllabary contains 78 stylized pictures of familiar objects—a bird's wing, a fish net, a porpoise—each representing a syllable in the language. The second syllabary consists of 19 modified capital letters of the Roman alphabet.

According to Salu H. Reisenberg, of the Smithsonian Institution, who has made a tentative reconstruction of the writing's history, the second set of symbols appears to have come first and been the contribution of an American missionary cast ashore in the islands in 1905. The letter-based system apparently proved inadequate for the language and the islanders developed the complementary system themselves. The dual syllabary, employed on five atolls, has been falling into disuse for several decades.

Multiple Brazing In Missile Building

The use of multiple brazing processes for precision assembly of complex, lightweight, strong metal components will figure prominently in the building of advanced missile and space vehicle structures, members of the American Welding Society were told last week.

Describing this metallurgical joining process were George D. Cremer, senior staff engineer, and Richard S. Mueller, research engineer, Solar Aircraft Company, in a paper presented to the AWS technical meeting and Western Metal Congress and Exposition in Los Angeles.

Entitled "Multiple Brazing," the paper discussed successful applications of the advanced process, that utilizes two, three, or sometimes more, separate and distinct braze operations, and the fabrication advantages to be derived from high temperature, corrosion resistant brazing.

Citing descriptive examples of assemblies that have been multiple brazed by Solar, the two engineers showed how the process is meeting space age demands for fabrication of materials that will have a high strength-to-weight ratio and withstand high temperatures.

Multiple brazing also offers quality control benefits and production economies, according to the paper.

moved away. No history of Alpine school could be complete without mention of Hazel Hohanshelt who began her teaching career in that little one room building in the 1920's when she was very young, and who has continued on the school staff ever since. She has taught the 8th grade for many years, presenting the community with an excellent 8th grade graduation play each year, and maintaining a fine school choir. It is Hazel's home that stands on the site of that early school about which Mrs. Finley wrote the poem.

It was in the twenties that a second teacher was added, then a third, and new rooms built on the original one to accommodate the growing young population. The Indian school at the local reservation became part of the Alpine Union School District in the early 1930s. The schools' enrollment continued to increase until it outgrew all possible expansion on the old site.

THE SCHOOL 1953

The need for a larger school resulted in the new modern $450,000 structure just completed this spring 1953 on a site across highway 80 north from the old buildings. The teaching staff now numbers 14; twelve full time teachers and two coordinators. Frank Brown, who has been principal for the past nine years, continues in that capacity. The enrollment is approximately 400, and growing.

150 Yrs., $8 Billion To Make Calif: City Thorofares Modern

"At the present rate of municipal street improvement, it would take a century and a half and $8 billion to bring the thorofares of California cities up to acceptable standards," Richard "Bud" Carpenter, executive director and general counsel of the League of California Cities, told a meeting of the San Diego Chapter at the El Cortez Hotel last Friday evening, March 30.

Carpenter also spoke of a current Assembly Bill which proposes to add 1c to the state gasoline tax. Monies raised through this measure would be allocated: 60 percent to California cities and 40 percent to counties, utilizing the present gas tax distribution under which the major portion goes to the counties.

Assembly Bill No. 156 which would require schools to meet the planning and zoning requirements of local jurisdiction passed the Assembly 41 to 37 last week. Carpenter reported that opponents to the measure previously maneuvered for reconsideration of the Bill.

Julius Acevez, Mayor of the City of La Mesa, stepped up to presidency of the San Diego County Chapter, League of California Cities upon the resignation of Mayor Charles C. Dail as president of the local chapter. Dail's letter of resignation pointed out that his duties in San Diego do not permit him sufficient time to do justice to the League's activities.

Carl Tuttle, Mayor of the City of El Cajon was unanimously elected vice-president. Both officers will serve until the regular election at the end of the fiscal year.

Justin Evenson, vice Mayor of the City of San Diego, presided over the dinner meeting attended by more than 150 representatives of incorporated cities within San Diego County.

The League of Women Voters with Mesdames Ian Thomson, president, Lloyd Droske, vice-president, Robert S. Massie, Chairman of Planning Study Group and Sidney Chemmick, editor of "The Voice," gave a brief history including the purposes of the League of Women Voters and stated the organization is a direct descendant of the Suffragette Movement. They seek to determine all of the facts pertaining to both sides of any political issue and make these facts known to women throughout the county. "In some instances," said Mrs. Thomson, "the LWV will take a stand on an issue or proposition, but never will it endorse or oppose a candidate."

Darrell Hauser, 16, of 3604 Collie Way, a junior at Clairemont High School, was introduced as San Diego's "Public Administration Student." He was unanimously nomi-

The questions raised here concern matters of long time importance to the Alpine schools and indicate the need for concrete information before the bond election. These statements and opinions expressed are not raised against the proposition of increasing the present school facilities. We all recognize that these are needed and must be provided, but should be done as efficiently and economically as possible. —I. C. C.

Transplant Dog Hearts

Dog hearts, dehydrated and cooled well below their freezing point, have been transplanted into the neck of another animal and resumed beating, it was announced by a Harvard Medical School surgical research team.

Canine hearts weighing up to 30 Gm. were transplanted to the necks of larger dogs following as much as seven hours of ischemia and cooling to -8 degrees C. Some beat again for as long as 60 hours.

The experiments, which they said show for the first time that the heart of a large animal will resume beating after it has been cooled below its freezing point, were reported by Dr. J. Englebert Dunphy, Professor of Surgery and Director of the Sears Surgical Laboratory at Boston City Hospital; his associates, Drs. Stanley W. Jacob, Ernest Borsonian, and Owen E. Owens; and Samuel C. Collins, Ph.D., Professor of Mechanical Engineering and Director of the Cryogenic Engineering Laboratory at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

U.S. Births Exceed Deaths Almost 3 to 1

Births in the United States during 1958 exceeded deaths by nearly a 3 to 1 ratio, Census Bureau figures showed.

The Bureau reported that 4,249,000 births were recorded last year. There were 1,648,000 deaths for the year.

Actually, the nation's population chalked up its smallest percentage increase in 12 years in 1958 because the number of new babies fell 52,000 below 1957. But the figure recorded last year still was the second highest on record.

U. S. population as of Jan. 1, 1959 was estimated at 175,602,000, an increase of 25,050,000, or 16.6 percent since the beginning of the decade.

The mortality rate last year was 9.4 deaths for every 1,000 persons. The birth rate was 24.4 per 1,000 persons.

RECIPES

EASTER MENU

Baked ham will probably appear on most of the Easter dinner tables. So many different kinds can be found in the markets today—big and little sizes; whole or half, both cooked and uncooked; shank on or shankless; bone in or boned rolls; and in cans. Whatever your choice, follow the label directions for baking. Top with your favorite glaze. Here are two good ones.

Brown Sugar Glaze

Combine 1 cup brown sugar, 1 tsp. mustard and 1 cup crushed pineapple. Spread this glaze mixture over ham and return to oven until heated through, basting at intervals with pineapple juice.

Apple Jelly Glaze

Heat 1 cup apple jelly with 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, and ¼ teaspoon ground cloves in small saucepan; brush some on top of ham; continue to bake, spooning on more glaze about every 15 minutes, for 1 hour, or until top is a rich golden color.

Candied sweet potatoes go well with ham. Slice 6 pared cooked sweet potatoes. Place in greased casserole. Add a syrup made of 1 cup brown sugar, ¼ cup water, ¼ cup butter, ½ tsp. salt. Bake at 350 degrees 45 minutes, basting occasionally.

This Vegetable Medley would be something different.

Vegetable Medley

Cook 2 packages frozen green peas, 1 cup sliced celery, and 1 bunch green onions, sliced, in 1 cup boiling salted water 10 minutes, or just until peas are tender; drain; season with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and ½ teaspoon pepper. Reheat with ½ cup cream. Makes 8 servings.

Hot rolls, and some kind of fruit salad would be good. Choose your own dessert to top off the Easter feast.

a bit obliterated. But nearby hovers the skeleton of the great Arena. How many times have I seen pictures of this? Since I was a small boy in school I have dreamed of seeing it in the original. And now here I was.

"I walked to the building hearing my footsteps echoing from the worn brick and stone. The building towered above me and swept away to the arches that circled high above my head. One of the lower arches inside looked dark and gloomy. Clouds covered the face of the moon as I entered. It was very still inside. I passed the first entrance and two inner arches. To my left part of the original wall rose four stories high and curved away to the two-storied section. Pieces of marble were strewn about. I walked slowly to the inner rail that separated the arena floor from the galleries.

QUESTION:

I'm 69 and drawing my social security checks. My wife is 66 and also receives benefits. This year she expects to earn over $1200. Will this have any effect on my checks?

ANSWER:

No. Under the earnings test the working husband and working wife's earnings are treated separately. Your wife should of course notify us if she has not already done so.

QUESTION:

After drawing disability benefits, my condition improved. My doctor says I may return to work. Should I report and stop my benefits even though I haven't been able to find a job?

ANSWER:

Yes. When you applied for disability benefits you agreed to report if you became physically able to work. You must report whether or not you are able to find a job.

QUESTION:

It's my understanding a woman worker can apply for a reduced payment at age 62. What would the benefit be at 62 and at 65 on average earnings of $65 a week?

ANSWER:

Since there are 4½ weeks in the average month, your benefit would be based on average wages of about $281 a month. The payment at age 65 is $101 a month, reduced 20 percent it is $80.80 at age 62.

TEEN TALK

By JANIE

Members of the girls' 4-H Clubs in all the surrounding area had a very interesting Field Day Tuesday at El Cajon Valley High School.

Eight members of the Alpine Cloverettes went down and all reported having a wonderful time.

The day started off with a judging contest with the girls judging things like flower arrangements, snacks, cotton blouses, dress material, etc. Awards were given for the judging contest to the following: First Place, Patty Wilson, Maxine Kinikin, Judy Williams, Bobbi Runbeck; Second Place, Linda Wilson, Janie Woodall; Third Place, Carol Cost, Linda Tyler.

Since the 4-H Dress Revue is coming up, the chairman and co-chairman were there to give pointers to the girls. Mrs. Schlick, a model, comes every year to talk to the girls and help them in modeling for the Dress Revue.

Bobbi Runbeck was awarded a special certificate in the field of business at El Cajon Valley High School where she is a senior. Bobbi, who was nominated along with five others, didn't know she had received the award until she read about it in the paper.

HOBBIES: This week's hobbyist is Linda Wilson. Lynn's hobby is one which many teenagers have—collecting records. She has almost 80 records now.

Her favorite types of music are entirely different from each other: Rock and Roll and Classical. Her favorite recording artist for Rock and Roll is the one and only—Ricky Nelson (I'm a Nelson fan, too!) Chet Atkins sings a different type of music, but he is also a favorite singer of hers.

Linda says, "I keep most of my records in the storeroom for they take up too much room."

Mrs. Mark Schaeffer; Mrs. Jack Wilson and children, Karen and Kirk, are vacationing at Green Valley Falls this week.
