C. OF C. COMMENTS

Your Chamber of Commerce said we had a wonderful turnout for Santa Claus at the Chamber of Commerce office. Santa visited with 110 children. We hope the children enjoyed it as much as your Chamber of Commerce enjoyed having all of you. With this fine response we are certain that in the future this event will be repeated annually.

You have seen the green barrels on the streets since Tuesday. When you see litter on our streets, please put it in the barrels.

Keep Alpine clean and green.
Use the barrels painted green.

ALPINE HTS. MUNI. WATER DIST. ANNUAL MEETING

The Alpine Heights Municipal Water District will hold its annual meeting and election of officers next Wednesday evening, Jan. 3rd, at Fuller Hall, 8 p. m.

The public is invited. There will be a discussion of water hookups and distribution lines.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Citizens,

I helped put together the welfare boxes which are distributed by the P. T. A. This is supposed to be a season of giving but to look at the boxes that were put out I sincerely doubt it.

We may not have many families to give to but what was given was a disgrace to a town of this size.

I sincerely hope that next season when you are called upon there will be a little more of the giving in the spirit of the season.

NEW YEAR GREETINGS

ALPINERS QUALIFY AS CD INSTRUCTORS

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Waite, of Alpine Oaks Estates are two of the four San Diego County residents who were qualified by the federal government to be radiological monitoring instructors following a 5-day course at the Western Instructor Training Center at Alameda. The course was offered by the Department of Defense-Office of Civil Defense.

They are now qualified to teach radiological monitoring in this area, according to W. B. Marty, administrative officer for Civil Defense. Mr. and Mrs. Waite are retired teachers, Mr. Waite being a former University of Pacific professor.

ALPINE CUB SCOUT PARTY

Cub Pack 350 of Alpine will have a Holiday party Friday evening, December 29, at Fuller Hall for their December pack meeting, according to Cub Master McIntire.

Parents of interested boys ages 8 through 10 1/2 are invited to bring their boys and get acquainted; 8 in the evening is the time.

GARMENTS THAT WEAR WELL
 One of these days I must go shopping. I am completely out of self-respect, I want to exchange some self-righteousness I picked up the other day, for humility, which they say is less expensive and wears better. I want also to look at some tolerance, which is being much used this season.
 Some one showed me some very pretty samples of peace. We are a little low on that and one can never have too much. And, by the way, I must try to match some patience that my neighbor wears. It is very becoming to her and I think might look well on me.
 I might try on a little garment of long-suffering that they are displaying. I never thought I wanted to wear it, but I feel myself coming to it. And I must not forget to have my sense of appreciation mended and to look around for some inexpensive goodness. It is surprising how often one needs to take stock.

WHAT HAVE YOU INCLUDED FOR LISTENING IN YOUR PLANS?

The child's entire life is influenced by his ability to listen. Good listening habits make it possible for him to broaden his knowledge, enjoy music, conversation, storytelling, drama; discriminating listening makes it possible for him to select radio and television programs for enjoyment. Critical listening helps him function intelligently in the selection of governmental leaders. It is quite possible that the ability to listen effectively may be one of the most valuable tools he can use in his efforts to bring understanding and peace to the world.

HAPPY
 New Year 1962

We of the ECHO wish to extend our thanks to our neighbors for their many kind thoughts and considerate acts during the past year. It has been good to live and work among you. For our part, we have intended well; we have tried to be of service and to be fair and constructive without rancor or animosity toward anyone. If we have failed any of you we pray that you forgive us. If by thoughtless word or careless deed we have been less the friend than we should have been we ask that you help us to see beyond our own interests and to grow bigger than our weaknesses.

During the coming year we hope to serve you so well that you may grow to depend upon us, trust us, and make us feel that we are truly friends you would like to have and that we would like to be.

DISTRICT'S MANY BLESSINGS

As we, the fire commissioners, look back on 1961, we are mindful of the district's many blessings. In one of the driest years of our history, we were very fortunate in being able to keep fire losses at a new low, without any major injuries to our volunteer firemen or damage to district equipment. This splendid record could not have been accomplished without the full support and cooperation of the citizens of Alpine.

Looking into 1962, the commissioners will face many new problems with the coming of water, such as enlarging the department,

ANNUAL REPORT - TROOP 105

The Boy Scouts of Alpine have been very active in 1961 and enjoyed a year of Scouting. Enrollment has varied very little from 15 to 20 boys.

The troop had many camping trips this past year, at least one a month. Through these camping trips the boys have passed many tests and requirements to step up in rank. Thus we had two Courts of Honor where 18 boys advanced in rank.

This last summer the Parents Auxiliary of Troop 105 was formed. The members are parents of the Boy Scouts. With their time and effort we successfully put on the Fall Fun Festival which netted a good sum. Our thanks to the town people for making this possible. The proceeds are being used for Scouting equipment and Scouting activities.

The Parents Auxiliary also took the boys roller skating for a Christmas activity and also put on a Christmas party for the boys.

The troop enjoyed good adult leadership this year.

A MOMENT TO REVIEW

To bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in training the child, let's not lose sight of the purpose of Parent-Teacher Associations all year long, year after year.

Take just a moment to review the objectives of PTA-----

To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church, and community.

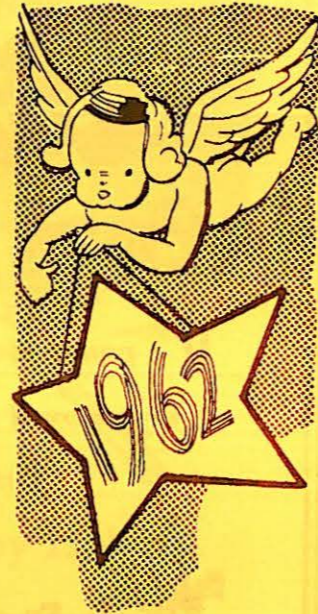

To raise the standards of home life.

To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.

To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education.

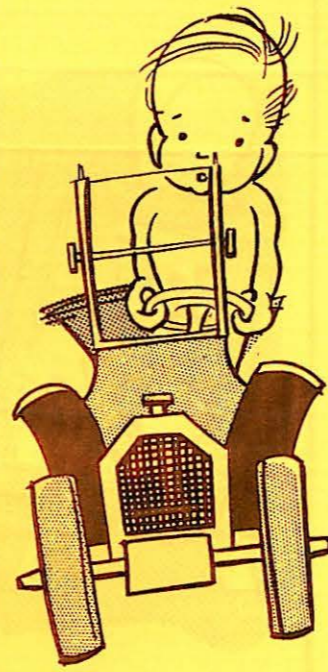

The Alpine PTA, in order that you may become better acquainted with the school curriculum, is featuring the student body and classroom displays at many meetings.

Headed For Trouble

The pleased smile on this tippler's face may soon be wiped away. Right now he is only drunk. But if he succeeds in starting his car he may become even more dangerously so. He may become, indeed, dead drunk.

Every day hundreds of drinkers around the world mix cars with cups and drive to their deaths. Unfortunately they often take sober motorists and pedestrians along with them. There is nothing on the road more dangerous than a drunken driver, to himself, to all unlucky enough to share his route.

The above photograph was taken from a World Health Organization cartoon film entitled "To Your Health." The film's lessons can be applied to many other hazards posed by over-indulgence besides road accidents. For almost invariably alcoholism is linked to mental illness.

Several years ago the World Health Organization devoted a special issue of its bimonthly magazine "World Health" to alcoholism. One of the photos illustrating the lead story was captioned: "This Man is Sick, Not Drunk." Pictured above was an alcoholic who had reached an ultimate state of depression.

It is in recognition of alcoholism as an increasing grave mental health problem that WHO and the Pan American Sanitary Bureau, its Regional Office for the Americas, are working to aid nations in cutting down the tragic human and economic wastes that result from too much drink.

Deaths and injuries on the road are only one of alcoholism's more dramatic damages to a society. Alcoholism is a disease. Like all diseases, its evils are not limited only to those who suffer from it. Directly or indirectly it affects all of us, all society. Society therefore must combat it in self-defense — else, like the drunk behind the wheel, society itself may be "Headed For Trouble."

OUR VFW OBJECTIVES

At this holiday season we extend our greetings and remind you and ourselves of our objectives and aims in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post #5233, Alpine:

The objectives of this organization are fraternal, patriotic, historical and educational.

Our aim is to strengthen comradeship, perpetuate the memory of our dead, and assist their widows and orphans.

To give true allegiance to our government and fidelity to its Constitution and laws.

To maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom, and to preserve and defend the United States from all her enemies, whomsoever.

To aid and educate the youth of our communities toward these ideals.
