Mrs. Orville Lusk, president, has invited Mr. Ben Dixon to be speaker for the evening. Mr. Dixon has spent eight years with the Serra Museum and has founded the adult education program in history. He is the originator of the annual Serra Cross Trek. He is well-known for organization and conducting of the History Hour on TV University which was enjoyed locally for two years. Mr. Dixon also organized the California Committee for Overland Mail Centennial. During the course of the evening Mr. Dixon will touch on the part Alpine plays in local history.

Mrs. Bessie Hickey, hospitality chairman, and her committee will supply table service and coffee. If you are interested in local history, you are cordially invited to attend any and all meetings of the Alpine Historical Society.

Mallette Reports Business Activity

Southern California's booming business activity continued at record levels in September, rising nearly nine per cent above a year ago, M. Ross Mallette, manager of Security First National Bank's Alpine Branch reported today.

As of the week ended September 27, the bank's business index stood at 134.8 (preliminary), compared with 134.1 in August, and 124 in September, 1962, Mallette said. Construction activity and bank clearings were the leading business components of the index for the month. Both registered substantial gains after adjustment for seasonal influences.

Also showing a substantial rise were department store sales. Real Estate transfers declined from the record summer peak. The bank's Research Department's report noted that total volume of construction activity in the Southland so far this year is running at a rate of 14 per cent higher

The Silver dollars are to be used by the Association in paying prize money for Appaloosa races which will be held in connection with a horse show being held this coming weekend at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds in Pomona.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LA FORCE

Maybe you're well informed on this subject, but until recently I didn't know what GNP in our government stood for, or OBE, either. GNP especially sounded so sinister, I felt it safer to know what it meant, whether it called for another legal permit for something or other, or some kind of medical shots, or was merely a new spray can product.

Well, GNP, in case you are still with me, is cozy talk for GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT. And figuring the gross national product is the job of the OBE, which is not a new virus, as I at first thought, but stands for the Office of Business Economics of the U.S. Department of Commerce which office has the job of adding up the Gross National Product, which tells us whether we are inflated or deflated. It's a kind of National score-card, production wise.

The word economics comes from an old Greek word meaning "household management," and our OBE represents the government's careful housewife who takes stock of her household's annual financial condition. The Gross National Product is measured in terms of final goods, by which is meant the finished product whatever it is; a car, a jar of pickles, a fur coat, a can of paint, a dentist's or doctor's services, when it is sold to the final purchaser. This amount includes the labor of all the people involved from the very beginning of the product's manufacture, and its materials. The OBE also keeps score on who buys and sells. The purchasers fall into three main groups in our country; individual consumers; business investors; and government. Foreigners are a fourth group from whom we buy and to whom we sell. OBE also keeps tract of this.

In 1961 individual consumers, you and I, purchased almost twice as much as did business investors and government combined. Of the total GNP of $519 billion, we bought $388 billion. Business investors bought $69 billion, and government, federal, state and local, totalled $107 billion. As consumers, of our total purchases we spent $44 billion for non-durable goods which means foods and beverages—this last item chalking up $81 billion! Clothing, including shoes, cost us $29 billion, and we spent only $12 billion on gasoline and oil. Note the astonishing difference in the amount spent for beverages and for gasoline, and we're supposed to be such a touring people!

We spent another whopping $139 billion for services. These include such a wide variety of things as rents and recreations, and private education, bus fares, shampoos and haircuts, medical and dental services, car repairs, laundry and dry cleaning. What did business investors do with $69 billion? $42 billion of it went to new construction, this including residential properties bought by

Rabies Found In Bats In San Diego

The San Diego Department of Public Health Laboratory confirmed two cases of animal rabies this week.

The first case occurred in a stray dog picked up on this side of the international border. The second case occurred in a bat found at 3627 Yosemite St. in Crown Point.

Dr. J. B. Askew said the Public Health Laboratory has been running rabies tests on bats that have bitten someone or have acted sick. The Public Health Laboratory has recently tested three bats brought in to the Pound.

One of the bats, which was from the vicinity of Palm Ave. in Chula Vista, tested negative. Laboratory tests have not yet been completed on the third, which bit a Crown Point woman when she found in on the beach and tried to pick it up.

The bat which tested positive for rabies was taken to the Pound by Mrs. Nelson of 3627 Yosemite St. When asked about the bat, Mrs. Nelson told the Department of Public Health her children called her last Saturday afternoon and said their cat had a "funny looking bird." A neighbor killed the bat to protect the children.

Dr. Askew said that there have been no reports of human exposure to the rabid bat.

He added that this is the time of year bats normally migrate and that is not unusual to find an occasional bat in the San Diego area as well as other parts of San Diego County.

Dr. Askew said persons are frequently bitten when they find a sick or injured animal and try to help it. He advised anyone finding an animal that behaves abnormally not to touch it. If a person has reason to believe an animal is rabid, he said the animal should be captured alive if possible and brought to the attention of the authorities in the area who are responsible for animal regula-

Laws Dealing With Equipment Of Autos

A number of changes in laws dealing with the equipment of motor vehicles became effective September 20, according to the California Highway Patrol. These revisions and additions are among more than 300 made in the California Vehicle Code during the 1963 Legislative session.

On and after January 1, 1964, every new passenger vehicle sold in California must be equipped with safety belts for the front seat passengers.

No motor vehicle may be equipped with interior lamps except those specifically permitted by the vehicle code. This amendment eliminates, for example, red stop lamps or amber warning lamps on the rear deck of a passenger car just inside the rear window, and interior-mounted spotlights.

Another amendment provides in effect that low beam headlights must be adjusted to account for conditions of loading. For instance, the attachment of a trailer sometimes depresses the rear end of the towing vehicle, changing the headlight angle. Previously, low beam lights were deemed to avoid glare regardless of loading conditions.

Trailer coaches less than 80 inches wide must now be equipped with one red combination side marker and clearance lamp on each side of the vehicle near the rear, rather than the amber lamps formerly required.

Motor vehicles which tow trailers or semi-trailers must be equipped with both right and left-hand side mirrors if the towed vehicle or load obscures the driver's view to the rear. The mirrors must provide a view 200 feet to the rear.

One equipment change pertains to motorcycles. The law provides that a motorcycle seat must be positioned so that the operator can reach the ground with his feet.

HORSES! HORSES! HORSES!

By MARGARET LOWTHIAN

Jack Berg on Tavern Road has set up a maze of obstacles on his property and all the kids in the neighborhood have been his guests. They are working their horses over and around logs, brush, jumps and various unusual trail obstacles. This is a wonderful training for both horses and riders in learning to control their mount. One day about 16 kids showed up on horseback to participate in the activities at Berg's. This is a great thing that Jack is doing for the young Alpine horsemen and horsewomen, and is certainly the type of activity they should participate in to learn horsemanship and control of their horses.

Jack Berg is doing a fine job with his nice young mare, Misty. He has been working her with a hackamore and she is responding to her training very well. She looks like she would be a fun horse to ride.

Jack Wilson's nice Appaloosa station, Banjo, has been moved from behind the Alpine Store for some time, and I just learned that Jack is keeping him in Doc Woodall's corral behind his home on Victoria Drive. This is a real convenient location for Jack as he just has to go across the street to take care of Banjo, or to get him for a ride. Dick Cooper is now helping Jack in advance training of Banjo and he is coming along nicely. We'll get Jack and Banjo in an Alpine show yet. And then he'll probably beat us all.

Seminar Planned On Appraising Rural Acreage

An educational seminar on appraising rural acreage will be held October 18th at the University of San Diego. The seminar is being sponsored by the Society of Real Estate Appraisers and the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers. One of the featured speakers will be Andrew Andeck, president of the La Jolla Real Estate Brokers Association. Mr. Andeck will discuss institutional lending policies and current trends in acreage sales.

The seminar is aimed at brokers, appraisers, lenders, owners, and others interested in the sale and development of unimproved land. The panel of speakers will include a geographer, geologist, civil engineer, appraiser and representative of Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Government.

For additional information contact John Guth at Home Federal Savings and Loan Association, BE 9-7581.

Driving along Arnold Way to Highway 80 the other day I saw a rider on a very good-looking appaloosa gelding. He was a light blue roan with black spots on his rump, and he looked to have a good fast, smooth walk that was really eating up the miles. A quick conversation out the window of the car was all I had time for. The horse came from Arizona, and his owner lives on Dunbar Lane. Have not had the opportunity to follow up—but it's nice to know that there is another potential trail rider in the area, and I'm especially happy to see a new Appaloosa.

Jerry Webb is planning to bring her buckskin mare home from Lakeside where her niece has been keeping and riding her. Jerry says she would love to ride, but has to take the baby with her, and her good Morgan mare, is just too much horse to permit riding with the baby along. Hope you get your other mare home soon, Jerry, and maybe we can get together over

DULZURA AUTHORESS SPEAKS AT Security Bank DEERHORN VALLEY CIVIC CLUB Reports Earnings

The highlight of last Friday's meeting of the Deerhorn Valley Civic Club, held at Deerhorn Valley Lodge, was Mrs. Dorothy Clark Schmid's talk on the historical background of this area, in general, and the community, in particular. Mrs. Schmid related some amusing anecdotes about the pioneers of Deerhorn Valley, showed geological samples and artifacts unearthed in her research, as well as historical photographs which weren't included in her book, "Pioneering in Dulzura." Accompanying her to the meeting were Mrs. Charlotte Holcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Harver (Mrs. Dorothy Remaley Harvey was the teacher at Honey Springs School from 1914 to 1917), and Charlie Bratton (one of the subjects of her book and the oldest-timer living in the community).

Mrs. E. J. Crowley Jr., secretary of the Club and chairwoman of the "Road-Naming Investigation Committee," gave a very complete and thorough report of her investigation on the road-naming of the road from Brattons to Reeds, locally known as "Honey Springs Rd.," from sources which included the County Road Department, the State Road Department, and Mr. Dave Bird, Supervisor for this area. Her report had been studied by the Board of Directors of the Club, consisting of Mrs. Delta Hewitt, Mr. Joe Vallee, Mr. W. L. Wolf, Mrs. C. Sellers, and Mrs. E. J. Crowley Jr. Mrs. F. Meanea was unable to attend the meeting, and the Board found that the road in question could not be named "Honey Springs Rd." as it is a feeder road to the main road, connecting Highway 80 and Highway 94 (and ultimately the South Bay area), a portion of which is already named "Honey Springs Rd." The Board recommended a vote be taken, by secret ballot on the name "Deerhorn Rd." with a space for a "write-in" name. The recommendation was accepted, and the results of the vote were: "Deerhorn Road," 17; "Deerhorn Valley Road," two. A letter was drafted by the Club to Mr. Dave Bird, stating this, and signed by the property owners adjoining the road, present at the meeting.

Mr. W. L. Wolf, president of the Civic Club, requested 100 percent community membership in the Club so that all sides of all issues can be presented, examined, discussed, and, if necessary, voted upon, and further stated that any hint of "clique-control" of the Club was unfounded, suggesting that the authors of such com-

More About Wheat

The daily press informs us today that President Kennedy has approved the sale to Russia of approximately 250 million dollars of American wheat at regular world price, which has brought forth praise from many persons and criticism from others.

We wonder whether it is the proper thing to place the authority for determining whether American business men can carry on their trade with foreign governments and businessmen in foreign countries in the hands of one official unless it be in times of war or extreme emergency. Our government has been conducting itself on the basis that we are not at war with Russia, but that we are only opposing their political philosophy. They, in turn, appear to be opposing our political philosophy as well as the political philosophy of all of the so-called "free" countries. Yet they do not hesitate to transact business with the other free countries, who also are agreeable to trading with them, and seemingly are perfectly agreeable to transacting business with us.

If the President has the authority to turn on or off the wheat "faucet," does he also have the authority to pick and choose other commodities which may be traded by our businessmen with other countries?

We are quite confused. We believe the American businessman should be permitted to carry on his trade in all other countries in the world unless a state of war is declared or we are in such short supply of a commodity that its exportation should be curtailed in order not to jeopardize our own welfare.

LAW IN ACTION

TRIBAL LAW

American Indians are the only 100 per cent native Americans; many thousands of them are coming to live in California these days.

1. Indian matters come under Federal law and the terms of some 3,900 Indian treaties which are also the law of the land.

Thus long ago Rev. Samuel Worcester, preaching to the Cherokees, refused to take out a license, and to swear allegiance to the State of Georgia. When Georgia jailed him for not taking a loyalty oath, the U.S. Supreme Court freed him: The Court would allow no state to interfere in United States Indian affairs which our treaties governed.

In 1834 Congress set up the Bureau of Indian Affairs to make and carry out rules made under these treaties.

2. Until the Civil War, the Federal government regarded Indians as wards and dependent nations—foreign nations, yet under U.S. control. In 1871, however, Congress declared that Indian nations were no longer independent. Indians still ran their own affairs for the most part, as illustrated in a case titled In Re Crow Dog.

In 1883 Crow Dog killed another Sioux for stealing a friend's wife. Crow Dog made amends under tribal law, and the tribe closed his case. Soon afterwards federal officers sought to try him for murder, but the Supreme Court said a tribal divorce by mere voluntary separation.

der tribal law and this one had been settled.

3. Shortly afterward Congress gave Federal courts jurisdiction over most criminal cases on Indian territories. Accordingly, just the other day, the U.S. Supreme Court invalidated the conviction of a California Indian for murder. He must face trial in a Federal court instead.

4. Indian tribal courts still try some criminal cases; and within the tribes, tribal law still holds. For example, they can tax and license traders on reservations.

Recently, a tribal adoption ceremony was confirmed even though it took place off the reservation. In another case, the Federal courts recognized a tribal divorce by mere voluntary separation.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

private owners, as well as factory buildings, shopping centers, and public utility plants. Did you know that of the $107 billion spent by government, by far the biggest amount, $57 billion, was spent for national defense? $2 billion dollars was used for conservation and development of natural resources. This item should take some of the sting out of some of the others. State and local expenditures, now almost as large as federal, totalled $50 billion, with $19 billion for education, $9 billion for highways, and $4 billion for civilian safety services. This latter item includes, among other things, $2 billion for police protection and $1 billion for fire protection.

Dear me! Does all this billion talk dizzy you as much as it does me? Anyhow, next time some glib TV talker rattles off GNP and OBE you needn't call the doctor and ask if it's catching, just take a few deep breaths and relax. The OBE has us all added up too. As of the first of July, 1961, the population of the USA totaled 183 million, and our gross income was estimated at $302 billion. Since we spent $388 billion, somebody is living beyond his means.

Westerly to the Alpine Elementary School.

Mr. Ed Houser, General Manager of Rio, states that the cost of the work is $15,000.

This section of line was petitioned some time ago by property owners along its route to be installed by Rio, but the work was delayed until there was a sufficient number of signers to comply with the requirements that had previously been established by the Rio Board in regard to the number of connections signed up per 1000 feet of line.

The Alpine Fire Department has also requested Rio to install a fire hydrant in front of the Fire Station which will furnish water to their fire-fighting equipment. This hydrant will be paid for by the Fire District.

Mr. Houser states that requests for new meters are being received each week, and that the total number of meters installed and in use within the Improvement District is now approximately 680.

California Cigarette Consumption Up

Cigarettes sold by licensed distributors in California during the fiscal year ended June 30, generated gross revenue of $72,219,000. This amount was nearly four percent above the gross revenue from distributions during the preceding fiscal year.

Per capita consumption in California of 146 packages of cigarettes during the year was virtually the same as for the two preceding years and about 11 packs higher than the national average.

Schrade Reports On Legislation

California's 160,000 hunters all are concerned with the need for increasing our state's deer population to meet the demands of our steadily rising number of hunters. Continued shrinking of hunting areas, food supply, and possible over-hunting are all factors in the problem which requires study and action if the state is to maintain its top position in deer-hunting.

Deer herds are no respecters of state lines, so one important element in the situation is the preservation of those which migrate from one state to another within the year. Several such herds move irregularly between California, Oregon and Nevada. Depending on the times of their movements, they may be protected by the laws and regulations of any one of the three states during open seasons. Differences in these legal controls may influence herd size even more than natural factors.

Legislation relating to deer hunting was prominent during our 1963 regular session. The bill to continue power of the Fish and Game Commission to set dates for open seasons in various districts, enactment of which was needed to extend the existing pattern, proved unexpectedly controversial, and was finally dropped. It was finally passed in a limited form at the special session. Also introduced, but referred to interim study, was an Assembly resolution calling for investigation of the need for an interstate deer herd commission.

The Assembly Fish and Game Committee recently held hearings on this resolution in Yreka, and set something of a precedent by also meeting with a joint committee of the Oregon Legislature on the subject in Klamath Falls. Sportsmen, game management experts, forest officials, and cattlemen from both states participated in the proceedings.

The resolution calls for a study of the desirability of creating a commission to regulate the migrating deer herds which move between California and Oregon and California and Nevada. It was brought out that such a commission would require a formal interstate compact, with appropriate action by the state legislatures, and eventual approval by Congress. It was said this could be a lengthy process.

The Committee was also reminded that with respect to specific migratory deer herds, joint study and action had begun as far back as 1945. At that time a California-Oregon committee was set up, to deal with problems of a large herd of mule deer which ordinarily winter in north-east California, and summer in southern Oregon. Later a similar group was established for a California-Nevada herd. In view of these two active organizations, question was raised as to the need for the proposed commission.

As to allegations that the mule deer herd had been reduced below a reasonable size by over-hunting, it was pointed out that all of the herd does not migrate each year, and that a sizeable portion of it stayed in Oregon all during the last season. All indications for this season are that the total take of deer by hunters in the California area will approximate normal.

Deer hunting is certainly an important recreation in all three states, as well as economically valuable. The interim study by the Committee may develop some basic facts to help improve cooperation between them in protecting a great natural resource.

than last year's record, Mallette stated.

Statistical data for the first nine months of 1963 indicate that, if the present rate continues, the industry will achieve a $4½ billion record for the current year. According to Mallette, principal contributor to the advance is residential construction, which is operating at a dollar level 25 per cent ahead of last year.

Commercial building is up moderately, while industrial construction is virtually unchanged from 1962's level.

Woman's Club Hears Music Program

The regular meeting of the Alpine Woman's Club was held Tuesday, presided over by President Mrs. H. W. Johnson. One new member, Mrs. Ladonna Muhhauser of Pine Valley, was welcomed.

An excellent program of music was enjoyed by the ladies. Three young people who were award-winning accordionists at the Western States Accordion Festival held in Long Beach in August were the guests on the program. They were Lynn Singleton, 12; Vickie Singleton, 8; and Ronnie Gleason, 10, all of La Mesa.

The musical selections included popular music, Hawaiian tunes and some sacred songs. The three accordionists have been invited to participate in the Woman's Club Christmas program and party, according to Mrs. C. P. Vancil, publicity chairman.

In a recent letter from their daughter, Mrs. Christel Marcus, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Spear were told of a new telephone cable which had been laid between the United States and Panama. The day after receiving the letter was the 20th anniversary of Christel and her husband, Lowell, who is the manager of the Goodyear Rubber Company in Panama. As a surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Spear phoned Panama and had a long conversation which was very enjoyable and Mrs. Spear reports that the cable carried the voices excellently and clearly.

DEERHORN VALLEY

The Rev. and Mrs. John Amundson entertained a group of friends with an outdoor barbecued chicken dinner on their ranch last Thursday. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. McNutt, and Mr. and Mrs. Eckels of Presscott. Mrs. Eckels is visiting her sister, Mrs. McNutt of Little Winnetaka Ranch. After sampling Rev. Amundson's culinary talents, the group retired to the Campbell's residence to view color slides of Mexico City, Acapulco, and other places of interest, visited by the Amundsons.

With his step-son, Don Fread, Jim Wolf bagged his first deer this season upon Barber Mountain—a three-point buck that weighed about 110 pounds, field-dressed.

John and Susie Ellis are going into egg-ranching as a hobby, with an ultimate view towards perhaps developing it into a full-fledged egg ranch, if all goes well. John mentioned that he had eggs available now for his neighbors, so let's drop by and pick up a few dozen—can't get 'em any fresher. Good luck to you both in your new enterprise.

More and more talent on the Hill. Mike Wiman, presently living on the Eaton Ranch, has a real fine voice as has Mrs. Dave Barnum, both specialize in the songs of Old Mexico and Dave himself is no slouch on the accordion and piano. Perhaps one of these days we can slow Mike down to hear all three together.

Here they come, ready or not: Due back this Friday from their six-week tour of Europe, Marila and Otto Becker, and Marta Krause, of our valley, will be arriving at Lindberg Field in the morning hours. More about their trip next week.

In a sadder vein, it's sorry we are to hear that George (Wes) West of Monte Robles Acres was stricken with a heart attack a week ago Wednesday. Wes was taken to Chula Vista Hospital and released last Sunday—he's recuperating at home now for about six weeks—take care now, and follow the Doc's orders. As if that wasn't enough, Mrs. West had a near-serious accident last Sunday when her pickup jumped the road, went down an embankment and rolled to a stop within a cat's whisker, between two fair-sized oaks, right near Tom Reed's place. Dave Barnum helped tow the truck back on the road. No serious damage to the pickup or Mrs. West, so all's well.

Tragedy also struck our younger set last Saturday afternoon when a stranger visiting our community, hit and killed "Rosita," Carol Knapik's little dog, lying by the side of the road, and sped off when he saw the results of speeding and carelessness—not much of a man, to our way of thinking.

ments attend the monthly meetings and voice their opinions openly so that rumors and half-truths can be dispelled and truth and right prevail so as to permit the Club to fully exercise its basic function, the organized voice of Deerhorn Valley.

The president appointed a Nominating Committee, consisting of Mrs. C. Cook, Mrs. R. Wallin, Mr. R. Daum, and Mr. C. Sellers, to present a slate of officers and directors for 1964 at the November 1 election, general meeting. The Nominating Committee is to meet at the Lodge on Friday, Oct. 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Delta Hewitt suggested that all community members with telephone service call the business office in Chula Vista and request their listing to read "Deerhorn Valley" to eliminate confusion by calling parties in finding similar or same name listing in Jamul, Dulzura, or under Honey Springs, as well as to further establish the identity of Deerhorn Valley. She further requested that this be done within the next few days as the cut-off date for the new directory is only a few weeks off. As a retired telephone supervisor and active member of the community, Mrs. Hewitt's suggestion was recommended by the Club. The meeting closed with refreshments served by the hostess, Mrs. Vallee, and the door prize won by Mrs. Holcomb.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Congressman James B. Utt

The following Washington Report was prepared and released more than three years ago. At that time, I set forth my position on the then pending CIVIL RIGHTS BILL and I am reprinting the Report without dotting an "i" or crossing a "t," to show that the basic principles involved do not change. While the Administration's present bill goes much further into the field of social and economic legislation, the principles surrounding the 1960 legislation are equally applicable. The Report follows:

For Release
 March 17, 1960

Washington Report
 By Your Congressman
JAMES B. UTT

As this report is written, the House begins debate on the so-called Civil Rights Bill. This debate will be in progress for a period of one week, ending on the day upon which this report is released for publication. The Senate filibuster on this subject is still going on, and probably will continue for another week or two, while legislation vital to the country is being set aside. The House bill will pass by a substantial majority, and it is my prediction that I will be the only member of the California Delegation of 30 who will vote against it, and my constituency is entitled to an explanation as to why I take this position.

My reasons are many. Among them is the fact that it is not a civil rights bill in any sense of the word. For one thing, civil rights are not defined. There are sufficient laws on the books, if they were properly enforced, to protect civil rights. If the proposed legislation dealt exclusively with voting rights, I would support it, but less than 10 percent of the proposed legislation is in this field, and the other 90 percent is in the field of sociology and other collateral subjects.

The 15th Amendment provides that "The rights of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by an State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude," and "Congress shall have power to enforce this Article by appropriate legislation." This Amendment has been in the Constitution for 90 years, and Congress has not done much to implement it. If we would confine the present legislation to this implementation, we would be wholly within our rights. Anything beyond that is an attempt to abridge the rights of the sovereign states, and leads directly to a highly centralized, all-powerful, bureaucratic government, the effect of which would be to shrink the sphere of individual freedom and impose a servitude upon the individual.

In the emotionally charged atmosphere which prevails on Capitol Hill, there is danger of the destruction of rights, duties, privileges and immunities of the individual which equal and even transcend in magnitude those rights set forth in the pending legislation. The last Civil Rights Bill passed by the Congress eliminated in certain cases the right of trial by jury guaranteed by the Constitution, and that is one of the reasons I voted against it.

Let no man tell you, if given the absolute power, that he could create a human paradise on earth. History has renounced this concept at every turn, as witness the power of Hitler, Tito, Khrushchev, and now Castro.

The law of Isaac Newton, that for every action there must be an equal and opposite reaction, not only implies but insists that for the action of civil rights there must be an equal reaction of duty and responsibility. This right and this duty are as inseparable as Siamese twins. You can't have one without the other. In my humble opinion, a majority of a thousand to one does not make the proposition right. Christ was out-numbered a thousand to one, but His Presence survives to this day. If I am right in my position, even though under condemnation, I will be vindicated. If I am wrong, as Lincoln said, "All the angels in heaven cannot justify me."

As regards the sociological aspect of the bill, I adopt the proposition stated by Booker T. Washington, himself an emancipated slave, who became one of America's greatest educators as founder and head of the Tuskegee Institute, with a national and international reputation as a platform lecturer. In one of his lectures he said, "The whole future of the Negro rests largely upon the question as to whether or not he should make himself, through his skill, intelligence, and character, of such undeniable value to the community in which he lives that the community cannot dispense with his absence. An individual who learns to do something better than anybody else—learns to do a common thing in an uncommon manner—has solved his problem, regardless of the color of his skin, and in proportion as the Negro learns to produce what other people want and must have, in the same proportion he will be respected."

As proof of this doctrine, I could cite you hundreds of successful cases; principal among them is the case of George Washington Carver who took the common peanut and elevated it to a position of importance and dignity as a result of his research and development of peanut products.

I do not mean to say that everyone must be a doctor, dentist, lawyer, or a scientist, to be worthy of respect. There is as much honor and dignity in manual labor, in working in the fields, driving a truck, digging a ditch, building a home, or building a fence, as there is in the professional fields. It matters not whether you have one, five, or 10 talents, it is the constructive application of those talents which is important.

We must remember that Christianity is nearly two thousand years old, and yet we who are Christians are far from perfect. The Emancipation Proclamation is less than a hundred years old, and yet great progress has been made in that one hundred years in fulfilling the ambitions, privileges, and dignity of a minority race. Much more will be made in the future, without the application of legal force.

When the present legislation becomes law, it will abridge the right of free speech and free assembly guaranteed under the First Amendment, and will abridge the property rights guaranteed under the Fifth Amendment which states that "No person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property without the due process of law." Those people, both Negroes and whites, who are engaged in the present sit-down strikes, are depriving the owner of his property rights without due process of law, and are doing so on the false premise that two wrongs make a right. It takes more self-discipline and self-denial to resist a wrong than to meet it with another wrong.

Sociological transformation take place slowly, and CANNOT be forced by law. The attempt of Congress to do so is very apt to produce race riots of a magnitude which is inconceivable, and Congress will have to bear the blame for its intemperate actions.

COKE'S KITCHEN

Our weather has turned to fall with even a little crispness in the morning air making it nice to have the oven on.

Two cookie recipes this week. "Sunflower Oatmeals" are very good using sunflower seeds or peanuts instead of the usual walnuts. The children will love them in their school lunches and even old Dad will come back for seconds.

Walnut slices could be used as a dessert topped with whipped cream or as a brownie-type treat for lunch boxes.

During the past month, a visitor from the state of Washington was very interested in obtaining a recipe for using Alpine's cactus apples now appearing. Do you happen to have a recipe in your files using this fruit? Why not send it along to Coke's Kitchen, Rt. 1, Box 255, Alpine, California. Thanks.

rett, second soprano, and Judy Ellis, alto.

The rapid popularity of this group has been keeping them busy. While they are adding steadily to their selection of songs, they remain dedicated to the patriotic music which is too seldom heard today. The group makes all their own arrangements and have come up with some unique changes in familiar songs. The singers thrive on the versatility of Mrs. Lusk's accompaniments, which add great depth to all the music.

tend this service and meet these fine, dedicated people.

Mrs. Pat Naud of Silverbrook Drive was the honoree at a stork shower given a week ago Sunday in the home of Mrs. Shirley Dana. Mrs. Jo Hampton served as co-hostess. There were games and refreshments as well as the 'girl talk' that is a part of a baby shower, plus the opening of the lovely gifts.

Recent newcomers to the canyon are Mrs. Darlene Baxter and her five children, Dianna, who attends El Capitan High, and Janet, Eugene, Gail and Kenneth, who attend the H. C. school. They have moved here from Lawton, Oklahoma. Mr. Baxter is stationed with the U.S. Army in Germany and has just recently returned to duty after getting his family settled. Mr. Baxter is the brother of Georgie Michael, long-time canyonite, who is happy to have her sister-in-law and family nearby.

According to Bert Camacho, the rummage sale held last weekend by the Scout Mothers was satisfactory. Mrs. Kitty Glenn, Marvel Wallenborn's mother, took the left over cloth items and has offered to make a rag rug on her loom which can be raffled off at a later date. She also donated a rag rug which will be raffled off at the Halloween Carnival. Many thanks to those who helped make the rummage sale successful and a special thanks to Mrs. Glenn who has made such a generous donation and offer.

Mrs. Virgie Presley, President of the Harbison Canyon P.T.A. has moved with her family to 240 Patrick Drive.

There will be a meeting of the Scout Committee on Monday, the 14th, in the Fire Hall. All scout parents and other interested parents are urged to attend as there are many matters which should be resolved at this meeting. Mrs. Frank Mindt from Scout Headquarters in San Diego will be on hand as an advisor.

Speaking of scouts—You might call the local group that went camping recently, the "unlucky thirteen". Thirteen boys and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dessert started out in two cars for a camping trip last Friday at 10 p.m. Heading for the Colorado River, they arrived at the Imperial Dam at 3 a.m. Saturday. Facilities were so miserable they drove 40 miles to Picacho, right on the river, arriving at 6 a.m. They fixed breakfast but the mosquitoes were so bad they decided to move on to Yuma to visit the old prison and some stagecoach stops. On the road, which was terrible, both cars became stuck. One was finally freed and the boys were taken to Yuma in two trips and then Bill and two others went back for the second car. The group went to the Salton Sea where they camped for the rest of Saturday and until 4 p.m. Sunday. On the trip home, one of the cars broke down and had to be towed 40 miles into Julian. The boys were brought home in two loads and the out-of-commission car and all the gear stayed in Julian until Tuesday. The final blow was when Bill dropped a brake drum and injured his foot after arriving home. Needless to say, this is one outing which will long be remembered and called to memory many times through the years by the boys in the group.

Mrs. Jennie McCoy was honored at a baby shower Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Mary Lou Vidal. Mrs. Lucy McConnell served as co-hostess. Guests included Mrs. Bert Camacho, Mrs.

Shirley Dana, Mrs. Beth Cole, Mrs. Louise Matthews, Mrs. Shirley Meeks, Mrs. Ruth Arey, Mrs. Carolyn Palthe, Mrs. Virgie Presley and Mrs. Valerie Clouse.

Joanne Oddy and her son, Albert, are moving to Chula Vista, having sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. Baker, formerly canyon residents who are returning.

JAMUL

By HELEN VAN NORMAN
Mrs. Carl Impink, 3580 Willow Glen Dr., El Cajon gave a surprise baby shower for her niece, Jacqueline (Miller) McNobb. Games were played, refreshments served and the new mother to be received many lovely gifts.

Everyone was very sorry that Ernest and Flora Williams left us for Fort Smith, Ark. Ernie is now in partnership on a used car lot in Fort Smith and asks all his friends to stop by when they are in the vicinity.

The Williams Egg Ranch is now owned by Jule O. Duty, formerly of El Cajon. We wish her lots and lots of luck.

All of our sympathy goes to Mr. and Mrs. Brian Borneman on the death of their 16-month-old son. Sunday, Oct. 6.

To all of Maude Boles friends, her condition remains about the same.

Bud Gfeller is doing very well after undergoing major surgery last Friday at the El Cajon Valley Hospital. However, he will have to remain in the hospital for awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Mangels are very busy entertaining Cliff's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Crews of San Pedro.

The passing of Ralph E. Jack Sr. is mourned by all and especially the old-timers who knew him when he had the Beacon Grocery and Feed Store at the corner of Highway 94 and Steel Canyon Rd. He operated the store for 18 years and sold it in the late 1940s to retire.

Laurence Van Norman, president, announces the regular meeting of the Jamul Community Club to be held at the Community Centers Oct. 18. All are invited.

Mr. Burton Bryant of Jamul who as you all know is president of El Cajon Farm Bureau wants all members to know they held a potluck at the Meridian School in El Cajon at 7 p.m. Oct. 9. The 4-H all-stars put on the program. Nancy Candler and Paul Kistrup Jr.

MT. LAGUNA

By KATHY McMANUS
October 2, was the date of the bunco party held at Mrs. Ruth Holmes' home. Those in attendance were Mrs. Anita Ludwig, Mrs. Liz Taylor, Mrs. Carol Stoneking, Mrs. Molly Haggadorn, and Mrs. Betty Williams. Liz Taylor won a prize for high score and Carol Stoneking won the booby prize.

The Mt. Laguna Youth group meeting was a great success. The Jacumba Youth Group met with Mt. Laguna in a joint meeting. Jacumba picked the topic for discussion which was "Where Was God?" and Mt. Laguna was in charge of refreshments and entertainment. About 35 young people were in attendance. We hope to see more of the meetings like this to promote community activities.

Mt. Empire students are taking Senior Life Savings. Mr. Wasil, biology and P. E. teacher is teaching 10 girls and five boys water safety and life saving. The students joined the class on a volunteer basis only. The 15 students are taking this class during school October 7 to 10, and after school October 7, 9, 10, and on Oct. 12, at 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. All of the students taking this course think it will prove to be an asset in future years and a life-time experience.

Friday, October 4, Mt. Empire lost their first game. San Miguel won 13 to 12 over Mt. Empire. Although M. E. lost, the game was exciting and very well played.

Mt. Empire High School's Homecoming Queen will be announced at the game October 11. The nominations for queen are Miss Sue Blaylock, Miss Beverly Duval, Miss Pat Richardson, Miss Betty Prince, and Miss Alaina Strand. The game will be played at 8 p.m. with Rancho del Campo, under the new field lights. The Homecoming dance will follow immediately after the game.

If someone comes to your door or calls on the telephone asking questions pertaining to the reorganization of the Parents and Patrons Club and your feelings on the Boosters Club, it is the result of the meeting of interested parents last Friday, Oct. 4, held in the cafeteria of the Mt. Empire High School. We all feel there should be such an organization between parent and teacher, but if you are interested and no one contacts you come to the meeting which will be held in the cafeteria Oct. 11, at 7 p.m. or contact one of these persons from your area, Connie Jones of Potrero, Pearl Fullerton of Campo, Betty Cambell of Descanso, Ruth Stuart of Mt. Laguna, or Gloria Ketchum of Jacumba.

PINE VALLEY

By AMY N. HARVEY
Want to learn the art of conversing with our neighbors south of the border in their native tangle? If so be sure to attend the adult classes in Spanish next Tuesday at the Descanso school starting at 7 p.m. The minimum requirements to hold these classes are the enrollment and attendance of at least 15 people. It's fun, it's educational and it is also a step in the right direction for better international relationship.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles George has as their house guest Vern Young, who hails from Woodstock, Illinois and is now stationed in San Diego with the navy.

Vacation time is any time in Southern California, not just confined to the summer months and to prove our point we have Minnie and Harry Woodbury off to Astero Beach in Baja California for a few days, while "Bronco" the Staffordshier Terrier, pride and joy of the Woodbury household will be residing with friends in San Diego until his master and mistress returns. Also on the list are Lois and Gratus Roe, they plan on arriving in the great state of Missouri next week visiting relatives and friends. Jim and Bess Warne have wandered up to Hemet again for awhile and the Bob Kemps have forsaken our village for a short time. Happy holidays to all of you.

The Giesbrechts had their children and grandchildren visiting them from San Diego. Naturally the topic of conversation of mainly hunting, which led to Mary Jeanette, John and James getting up at the crack of dawn to brave the cold and fog for a chance to bag a deer.

Overcrowded rooms and paper thin walls are not conducive to the advancement of good teaching or studying for either teachers or students involved and that is the situation at the present time at the Potrero school. To try to correct this deplorable situation there will be a meeting at the Pine Valley school at 7:30 p.m. October 22 to discuss a bond issue to eliminate this bad situation.

Frank Fortune our racing enthusiast will be racing around the park in the near future, helping Bert Kendrick keep the park in apple pie order when Sam Jones and family leave on a vacation in the not too distant future.

If you failed to put in your appearance at the meeting of the Improvement Club last Saturday you missed a very busy and informative business session. The pro and con of the zoning was discussed. Mr. Lynde brought some maps with him and they were displayed where everyone could see them, he also enlightened some of us not so familiar with the zoning regulations and the area that the zoning takes in. Mr. Bird, Mr. Pingley and the president, Mr. Danials expressed their views on the subject. After all aspects of the question before the floor was thoroughly gone into, it was voted upon to continue with the existing regulations.

John Pingley was presented with a beautiful plaque for his continuous six years as president of the club and his ever unflinching and tireless efforts to make this valley of ours a better place to live. Our sincere thanks to the man who saw his civic duty and was unafraid to tackle the problems they involved—John Pingley. Mr. Art Preston resigned from the Board of directors due to his heavy schedule in other fields. Mr. Harry Darsney was nominated and voted to replace the vacancy left by Mr. Preston. After the business meeting there was a delightful social hour devoted to light happy talk, good food and trying to identify pictures taken years ago of many of our members. That was real fun, but my score was practically zero. Mrs. Pharr, our social chairman and her committee dreamed up that idea and it was terrific. Mrs. Danials was hostess for the evening and Jane Orbom co-hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Thompson have their beautiful daughter, Pat Toomey, staying with them from Fort Worth, Texas. Pat's husband, Lt. Toomey, is a helicopter pilot stationed at Fort Walters, he will join them, he hopes, during the Christmas holidays, then on to overseas for two years. We are happy to have you with us, Pat, and do hope that you will enjoy your stay in our community.

Let's all turn out for the card party on the 19th at 8 p.m. in the club house. A donation of fifty cents a corner. Be sure to put a red circle around the date on your calendar for the 25th of October, for the square dance starting at 8 p.m. to be held in the club house. The caller for the evening will be Ralph Mullins and boy how he can call. Feels as though one could dance away your shoes. If this venture proves to be the success we think that it will, the plans are to continue them through the winter months at least.
