HISTORIC ALPINE STORE RECENTLY SOLD

PURCHASE MADE BY SAN DIEGO DOCTOR FOR INVESTMENT

The Alpine Store property on the corner of Victoria Drive and Highway 80 has been purchased by Dr. and Mrs. Anton Yuskis from Mrs. Dorothy Hilton Scott of Visalia. This site is one of the oldest commercial properties in the region. According to old timers a store has stood on that corner for well over a hundred years.

Truth Is Stranger Than Fiction

The Kiwanis Club of Alpine is in store for a special treat this week, Thursday, 20th, 7:00 p.m., at Fuller Hall. A bizarre story which Mr. Bal Darnell will give in his own inimitable style. A rare instance where truth is stranger than fiction. A story of a Dutch flyer in World War II who spotted from the air what appeared to be a vast deposit of copper over the Paupan territory of Dutch New Guinea. No more of the story—don't miss the meeting.

Last week's Kiwanis "doings" was a chicken dinner preceding the graduation ceremonies at the school auditorium. Not a huge group but those who attended enjoyed the delectable dinner.

President Hollett and Mrs. have taken off for their native land, north of the border and expect to be visiting with families and friends for three weeks.

The first store, a small one story wooden structure, was kept by George Emery, who also kept the post office in a corner of it. Mr. Edwin Snow was the next store-keeper who as far as we could determine, sold it to Janet Nugget who still owend it in 1889 when Benjamin J. Arnold decided to make a town of Alpine, purchasing the store along with considerable other property.

Mr. Arnold made some improvements in the building which he bought from Janet Nugget in 1889, and in 1901 sold it to Henry B. Putnam, who continued in the tradition of general store and post office. In 1919 the first medical man to own the place, Dr. Hyman Lischner, purchased it. Dr. Lischner built a sanitarium here in 1922 and the store became the property of the Sanitarium company.

Five years later, in 1927, Charles and Maude Hilton, parents of the recent seller, bought the store and carried on the business, turning it

Fire Commissioners Vote For Hydrants

At a meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Alpine Local Fire District, Monday evening, June 17, it was decided to place four new fire hydrants in the business section of town. Fire Chief Jack Blankenship demonstrated the use of these hydrants to the Commissioners who voted to authorize negotiations with Rio MWD for the installation, in the near future.

The matter of the purchase of a radio communication system for the fire trucks was discussed and since only one bid has been received, it was decided to secure two more bids before completing the transaction. Dick Robinson was appointed to attend to the matter of the bids. A special meeting was set for Monday, June 24 to finish the business of this communication system.

After very thorough discussion and consideration of all points the Commissioners voted to adopt the budget for 1963-64.

Hiwy. 94 Near Campo To Be Improved

Bids will be opened July 25 in Los Angeles for the realignment of 0.8 mile of State Sign Route 94 in the vicinity of Campo in San Diego County, Jacob Dekema, Assistant State Highway Engineer for the California Division of Highways in San Diego said this week.

From six-tenths mile west of Campo to Campo, State Highway 94 will be reconstructed on new alignment. Motorists passing through the mountain community should experience little, if any, interruption to traffic during construction.

Dekema said the work is part of a continuing program to improve the roads in the State Highway system in this district as funds are available.

If a satisfactory bid is received, work could be underway by September with completion anticipated early in 1964.

W.A.S.C. Accredits Grossmont College

Grossmont College has won the exceptional honor of a three-year accreditation period from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, according to President John S. Hansen. The college district board of trustees informed Mr. Hansen last week that the Junior College Accrediting Commission of the W.A.S.C. has voted to give the local institution the maximum period of accreditation that can be given to a new college.

Grossmont College has had tentative accreditation from the State Department of Education since it opened in September 1962. This guarantees to the student, other institutions, and the general public that a quality program is offered. Permanent accreditation hinged in part on the assurance that the college, now sharing a high school campus, would have its own campus soon. Grading for the new school is now underway in Fletcher Hills.

On June 14, 69 graduates received Associate Art degrees at

Fire In Lawson Valley Controlled

This past Saturday Minnewawa Conservtaion Camp crew, under the leadership of foreman Rex Miller, was able to take immediate action on a brush fire that started near the Eagle Rifle Range in Lawson Valley. The first was soon brought under control with the aid of several other State Forestry crews under the direction of Asst. Ranger, Bart Myers. The Minnewawa hand crew had been working on the new Lyon-Lawson Valley truck trail and firebreak.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LA FORCE

A packet of very old letters came my way recently and through them a new experience, a new viewpoint of life's continuity. Well written history can vividly recreate the past, but it cannot give the feeling of living people that these old letters breathe forth. Here's one dated September 1855, New Bedford, Mass. Written on heavy blue paper, in a delicate firm hand, the ink now brown with age, it begins: "Dear Sister Lusane; I suppose before this you have received the sad intelligence of our dear grandmother's death and lonely indeed it is here; she who so many years has been with us is now no more . . ."

It goes on to speak of this much loved older parent and as I read the faded words, the hand that wrote them becomes poignantly real, and I see the grandmother as the writer saw her, and feel some of her grief. She speaks with sincere faith that "grandma is now with our dear Maker." Others in the packet from this same hand, complete a portrait of a gentle, thoughtful woman who lives on through her letters as no other biography could cause her to live again.

BRUSH FIRE STARTED BY CAR CRASH ENDANGERS HOMES

Last Sunday afternoon a car traveling on Highway 80 went out of control and over the bank behind the home of Bob Barrett on Willow Road. The car burst into flames and started a brush fire which quickly started East up the valley.

The car was driven by Mrs. June B. Clark, and went out of control when the car she was passing started to pass another car. Mrs. Clark's car hit the berm and she lost control. The other passengers were her daughter, Valerie Clark, 11, Catherine Roddy, 12, and Dale Kaessner, 11. An unidentified passerby rescued them from the burning car. All were saved from burning, and they sustained only minor cuts and bruises.

The fire endangered the home of Bob Barrett, coming within 30 feet of the building. Mrs. Barrett called the Forest Service where her husband, Bob, is a foreman. The wind helped in saving the Barrett residence, but swept the fire eastward across a tinder-dry field towards the homes of Albert Alder and J. T. McManus. Mr. Alder saved his house trailer, by hitching it up and pulling it out after having thrown as many possessions as possible into the trailer from his home.

The fire missed these two residents by jumping over the ravine in which they are situated. The wind conditions in the ravine saved these homes, leaving them as an island between two burning fields. Mrs. McManus, and her neighbors

Guests of Patty and Duane Strong enjoy the picnic area at Palo Verde Ranch.

STRONGS HOLD PICNIC AT PALO VERDE TO SHOW NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Strong now of La Jolla and soon to be of Alpine, entertained approximately 75 guests for a picnic at Palo Verde Ranch recently.

For the most part, the guests were friends from La Jolla and Rancho Santa Fe. The main purpose of the picnic was to surprise their friends by showing them the new home the Strong's are now having built at Palo Verde. The house is a large one with the master bedroom, the living room, the dining room and the large family room looking out over the valley and lake at Palo Verde, with the mountains in the background.

Mel Matzinger, the contractor who is building the new house for Patty and Duane Strong, attended the picnic with his family. Alpiners who participated in the festivities were Jeanne and Auren Pierce and their children, and Marty and Paul Parsons and their children. Ruth and Ben Polak, who are now in the planning stage of their home to be built at Palo Verde, were also guests.

The guests enjoyed a beautiful sunny day on the beach at the lake. Many took advantage of the fine weather to swim. Others spent some time fishing and good luck with Ed Sims catching a record 15-inch bass. The children enjoyed riding the horses which were furnished by the Pierces and Parsons, both of Alpine. The Strong's did not bring their own two horses from Rancho Santa Fe, where daughter, Janis is taking riding instructions from Bob Rice, but will have them here when the family is living here.

Mrs. Strong reports that they plan to move into their new home this week. Shortly after they are settled, she and daughters, Janis, 8 and Suzanne, 17 will leave to drive to Green Bay, Wisconsin and to Illinois to visit with family and friends.

Mrs. Strong is a native of Green Bay. Along the way, they will visit some of the colleges and universities so that Suzanne can become acquainted with them in order to

There will be ponies, rabbits, goats, sheep, pigs and baby chicks will be inside the colorful old barn. Pens outside will contain guinea hens, ducks and geese. Members of the Future Farmers of America will care for these animals and will assist children who visit the exhibit.

The 1963 Flower Show will be the biggest outdoor flower show in the west. The versatility of hanging flower baskets will be especially emphasized. Approximately 1,000 basket will be exhibited during the Fair. About half of them will decorate the entrance, light poles and background fences in the flower show.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By ADELIA P. WHITSON

When we first saw the hills of Alpine in the fall of 1886 they were covered with a heavy growth of brush five to nine feet tall and so dense that we didn't know for years that many large rocks were hidden.

On the flat land there were several groves of large oak and sycamore trees. The oaks bore hundreds of pounds of acorns. We walked through such a grove on the west edge of the Foss place on our way to school. I have seen the ground so thickly covered by acorns that a foot would crush several with every step. Indians camped in the groves and ground acorns by using a pestle rock on the larger rocks, to make their flour of the acorns. I tasted some and found it very good.

Every ravine had water running all year. There seemed to be springs all through the country. The hills were fertile and furnished food and water for many birds and animals. There were buzzards, eagles, hawks, crows, owls, black birds, blue birds, swallows, linnet orioles, wild canaries, humming birds, meadow larks, quails and many others. (Editor's note: Birds are still here in great numbers). The air was full of their songs.

For animals, there were mountain lions, bobcats, coyotes, badgers, jack and cottontail rabbits, and foxes. (Ed. note: except for the lions, our animal census is still high). The farmer had to be ready to fight for his chickens, and all young helpless animals. Both birds and animals were bold about helping themselves. My father kept a .22 rifle and a shotgun loaded and ready. One day, Mother Whitson saw a fox creeping up to a setting hen. He was so intent on getting that hen he didn't hear her. She picked up a club and whacked him a heavy blow, must have hit a vital spot because she didn't have to strike him many more times till that fox was dead.

In those days farmers worked hard for a living. Not one foot

They said that the new structure will be attached to the present baptistry by an opening which will be cut in the north wall. New rest rooms will also be built at the back of the church. Riding Class at Bright Valley Farm. L. to R., Sam Jaka, Terryl Armour, Jack Jaka and Mary Jaka of San Diego and Marjorie Armour, teacher.

HORSES! HORSES! HORSES!

By MARGARET LOWTHIAN

The Bright Valley Farm on Arnold Way in Galloway Valley has now been in operation at this spot for 14 months. Both David Armour, and his wife, Marjorie give equitation instructions in English and Western riding. At the present time they have a class for ladies on Friday morning, and group classes on Saturdays.

Private and family group classes can be arranged. The Zeigler children, Ted, Zack, Jeanie and Tina, of Tavern Road, are taking lessons on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The Armours now have 20 horses, and besides being used for lessons, they are for hire for riding over the trails around Galloway Valley.

Mrs. McManus and the McCartys had a scare last Sunday afternoon when the brush fire at the Willows endangered their homes and their horses. For the most part the horses were very calm, but the McManus horses were surrounded by flames. The fire was stopped at the driveway, and it was all that separated the horse corrals from the burning field.

A lovely summer scene—a little pony, a little sulkey, and two pretty girls. Maybe you have seen them trotting down the road from the Berg ranch on Tavern Road to Alpine. The pretty girls are Geri Lynn Berg and her school friend from San Diego State, Lani Herring. They figured it took them 20 minutes to make the trip to the post office, but they didn't rush—he's such a little pony.

A lot of us are getting our horses ready for the big one. The horse show at the Del Mar Fair will be the biggest they have ever held. A total of 1,500 horses, representing 800 exhibitors, coming from 15 states, are entered. Horses entered from this area are four from Willow Glen Farm, Dr. and Mrs. Bob Immenshuh have entered Camelot Sissy and their pony, Sam. The Ivanhoe Ranch will show six of their quarter horses, now that Del Mar has an approved quarter horse show. Probably a lot more horse are going from our area, but I'm sorry I have not yet heard about them. So, whenever you horse folks have some news, I'd really appreciate hearing from you. Thanks.

Youth Center Summer Program To Start

Mr. George Zeigler, who will be in charge of the summer activities at the Youth Center, urges all children who are interested in participating in this program to fill out their applications. The applications may be left with Mr. Blankenship at the Empire Market.

The program is scheduled to start on July 8 and activities will be conducted every afternoon on Mondays through Fridays. All sports activities will be conducted. However, it is necessary to receive the applications from the children stating their preferences before the schedule for the summer is definitely set. Therefore, it is important that the applications be turned in very soon.

Stewarts Return From Japan

By AMY N. HARVEY

The lost have been found! Wanna and Roxie Stewart have finally put in their appearance at their home on Laguna Trail, Pine Valley, after spending several weeks in Japan.

They left San Diego on April 1 on the Japanese freighter, the Ohshima Maru, after it had taken on cotton for its home port. They went to Los Angeles, where they were held up for three days while automobiles were loaded. Next to San Francisco, for the same procedure.

They steamed out of San Francisco Bay on the night of April 7. Wanna and Roxie were the only Americans among the eight passengers. Roxie reported the sea was a "little" rough the first few days. Waves mounting from 25 to 30 feet high crashed over the ship. Their arrival in Japan was 12 days later at Yokohama.

Aboard ship was Mrs. Oshima, wife of an attorney in Tokyo whom they found to be a very delightful traveling companion. A warm friendship formed between them.

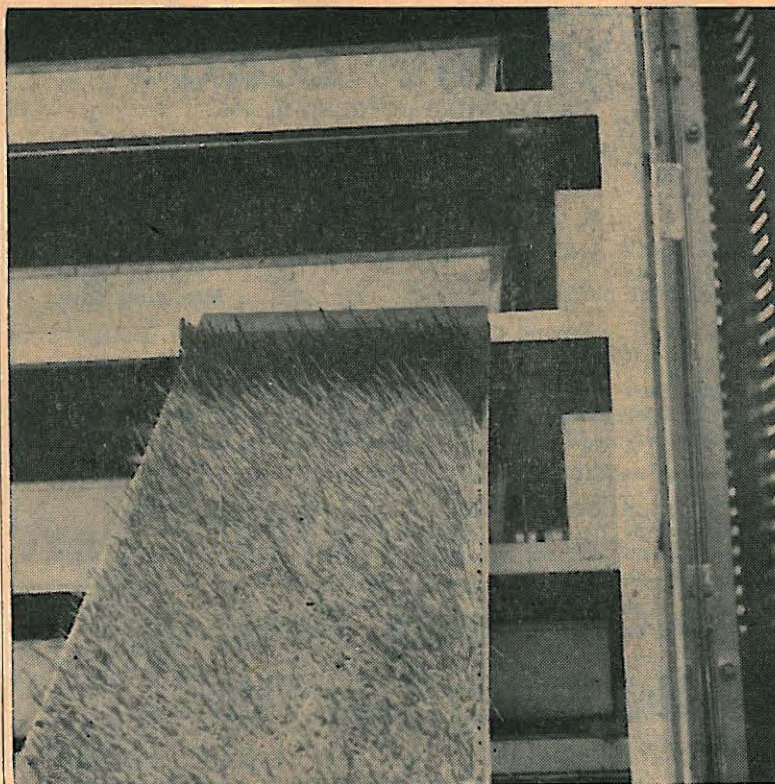

While in Japan Wanna and Roxie were house guests of Lt. Cdr. and Mrs. Pavela at their quarters on the naval base in Atsugi.

They visited many cities, villages, temples and shrines. Also, they took pictures of many beautiful scenes. While in Tokyo, they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oshima.

On May 11, the Stewarts left the land of the rising sun on the same freighter they had sailed on from the States. While aboard ship, they reported that breakfast and dinner were served American style, but luncheon was typically Japanese served with chop sticks.

Hydroponic Plant at Winnetka Ranch showing five-day-old planting of oats.

INSTANT GREEN PASTURE FED HORSES AT WINNETKA

Over Jamul way, at Dr. Howard Ball's Winnetka Ranch, they are feeding their fine horses instant green grass daily. This is provided by their new hydroponic plant where oats are grown from seed to a good stand of green feed in seven days.

The plant looks like a large incubator. Enclosed in a glass case are shelves with trays which hold about 35 pounds of grain each. The seed is covered with water and in the top tray is placed a level tablespoon of a special chemical which drips down through all the other trays aiding in the rapid growth of the grain. The oats sprouts in a day and develops speedily until at the end of a week 170 pounds of grass is taken from the original 35 pounds of seed. The temperature inside the cabinet is electrically controlled as in an incubator.

The Winnetka Ranch, now specializing in racing stock, feeds 20 horses a day on the hydroponic grass, and several colts pick up a share round their mothers. According to Dan and Olive Woold-

Every Congressman Should Get A Letter Exactly Like This

The following letter received by Representative F. Bradford Morse (R.-Mass.) speaks for itself:

"Dear Congressman Morse:

"I hate to tell you my troubles, but I have tried everything else I know. I feel that only you can help me.

"I have a dependent relative staying with me who has very little fiscal responsibility. He is very good natured and means well, but he keeps buying presents for my wife and me and our two children. He charges these presents to my account. When he sees something that he thinks we need he buys it for us.

"Many of these things are not needed by us and in very few cases are they exactly what we would have bought if we had bought these things ourselves. Because he doesn't work for a living, money doesn't mean too much to him and he tends to buy the first thing he sees and doesn't shop around like I would do if I were purchasing items. He is also quite generous to the poor and needy, but often gives to those he doesn't know are just feeding him a soft line.

CAR CRASH STARTS BRUSH FIRE

moved her horses to a large fenced field in the front of the property from a corral at the rear where they would have burned. The fire fighters stopped the fire at the driveway to the McManus home before it reached the horses.

After jumping the ravine, the fire burned across another large field to the McCarty home, and was stopped there at the driveway, with only the driveway width between the fire and the McCarty's new home.

The U. S. Forest Service fought the blaze with 10 tankers and one bulldozer, and the State Division of Forestry had out five tankers and a bulldozer. Three bombing planes from the Forest Service dropped their loads to bring the fire under control. A total of 41 men from these two services and from the Barrett Honor Camp worked to stop the fire and some stayed to keep it under control. Two tankers and their crews stayed at the area all Sunday night checking for hot spots, and they were relieved by another crew on Monday.

Many volunteers stopped and helped. Members of the Side-Winders Automotive Association, one of whom was the McCarty's son, stopped when they saw the fire on their way to the mountains. They were instrumental in saving the McCarty home.

This could have been a very serious fire for Alpine, with many homes lost, but for the quick action of the Forest Service and the State Division of Forestry. Mr.

Austin of the Forest Service stated that the reason the homes that were in the path of the fire were saved was because all were protected by a 30-foot fire break as required by law.

over to the management of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Flegal for a year or so. In 1933 the building was destroyed by fire. The Hiltons rebuilt the present structure, the same year and leased it to the Simmons family who kept the store until November 26, 1936 when Gordon Wilson, father of the present merchant, Jack Wilson, took the business over. The Wilsons have kept it ever since. Jack says the "new" building is built over the original basement.

Dr. Yuskis, who lives on Grossmont, is a San Diego heart specialist. Asked what his plans for the property were, Dr. Yuskis stated that he will do some modernizing, mainly redecorating of both the store and the house behind it, but that he does not intend to make any major changes. It will continue to be operated as a store as at present, he said. He expressed faith in the future of the community and interest in its growth.

The site includes 158 feet frontage on Highway 80 and 200 feet on Victoria drive. J. H. McKie, jr. Alpine realtor, was agent for Mrs. Scott while Anthony V. V. Miscuraca represented Dr. Yuskis in the transaction.

Intimate Glimpses

1850. From Ireland, it is to a son who has long since left the Island for the New World. Apparently, the mother has just heard from him after some years absence. Her letter eloquently recreates her emotions, her home, and the economic condition of Ireland at that time, as she writes to "Dear James" from the valley of Gortfin. "In reply to your letter dated 24 June, I beg leave to inform you that we all are in a tolerable good state of health hoping that the arrival of this will find you in the enjoyment of the same blessing. In the 1st instance I beg to inform you that we were very uneasy this long past on account of not getting a letter from you, but now we are better content." She goes on to say that she's glad he is with his aunt in the country for it must be a better place than New York. "Indeed," she says, "to tell you in plain, I shed many a tear for you thinking of you in a strange country and what was worse than all we heard you were married in New York."

She says, yes, they do need money and explains "the unfortunate blight of the potato crop paid its visit this season again over our unfortunate Island. It is now the first day of August and the potato stalks are standing up in the fields like bare stumps. We have to pay the rent at November coming and if we dispose of our little crop it will be very hard because it is all we have to support life. If we have to dispose of our cow it would be equally bad, because then we would be left without one drop of milk." She gently reminds him how bad it is to eat oatmeal without any milk.

She sends her report with a humble apology for having to tell him such sad facts and begs him not to let any one else know their "real condition". She speaks of neighbors, his old friends, who have "removed to the Bindoran Shore", relates cases of illness and death of others. The almost matter of fact statements, written in the careful, steady hand, the ink browned and the paper yellowed with these more than one hundred years, brings a sobering realization of the briefness of life, and at the same time a curious conviction of its endlessness. This mother, writing in love, and pride, and sorrow to her son, "in the strange country" is as alive in her letter as the mother on the next ranch writing to her son in some other "strange country", perhaps Japan, or Germany, with the Navy, or the Air Force, or whatever takes sons these days to the strange countries.

A recent survey stated that people have stopped writing the long personal letters once such a firm form of communication. Instead they send cards with some canned sentiment on them to which they need only sign their names. Or they telephone. I hope this is not generally true, for the personal letter, words written from the heart in the correspondent's own hand, is a kind of life-record linking the ages as no other document can do.

NEW SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT AND FAMILY MOVE TO ALPINE

Mr. Paul C. Clay, who will start his duties on the first of July as the new School Superintendent of the Alpine Union School District, and his family moved to Alpine last week.

They arrived late on Wednesday evening, and moved into the three bedroom home at the end of Olivewood Lane owned by Robert Baarlaer.

Mrs. Clay states that they have a number of relatives in Southern California, including her mother at Riverside, and brothers at Escondido and La Mesa. Her relatives have visited them since they arrived here, and helped them get moved in.

One daughter, Marianne, is 13 and will be starting in the 8th grade next September. She plans to spend part of her summer vacation visiting her grandmother in Riverside, but also wants to get acquainted with Alpine before school starts.

The Clays are pleased with their new home, and particularly with the wonderful view they have from all windows of the house on Olivewood Lane. The view from the living room is of Victoria Hill and is quite fascinating.

Mr. Clay has left a position as Superintendent of the Newman (California) Elementary School District to take the position of School Superintendent here in Alpine. He will enjoy a very short vacation here, getting settled and seeing Alpine, before he starts the duties of his new position. He will start his duties on the first of July with the beginning of summer school and a regular monthly meeting of the School Board on that evening.

Shady Rock Opening Successful

The management at Shady Rock Picnic area picked the most beautiful day for their opening. After several dreary days here in Alpine (one of our rare conditions), the sun shone its brightest and with an invitation last Friday extended to all school children for swimming, picnicking, dancing and the like, summer was officially opened.

Shady Rock's facilities include ping-pong, swimming, picnicking, dancing, horseshoes, baseball, volleyball. For children under 16 years of age, the price is 40 cents—over 16 years of age 60 cents with a special rate being made for families. One of the advantages of the swimming pool is the one price includes swimming all day. And, for those who want a bite to eat after a nice swim—the snack bar is opened.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Collard, from National City have recently purchased the Ranch which is located on Marshall Road in Alpine. The former owners found it necessary to sell the property due to Mrs. Villinger's health.

Approximately 100 children, junior and high school students enjoyed the facilities last Friday at this delightful picnic area.

Susann Carol Sockwell Wed

A lovely June wedding was held Sunday afternoon, June 16th at 2:00 p.m., at the Congregational Community Church in Alpine uniting in marriage Miss Susann Carol Sockwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sockwell of Arnold Way and Harold Laverne Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson.

Miss Dody Evans was Susann's Maid of Honor with Reverend Roger Larson officiating.

A reception for approximately one hundred persons was held in the Sockwell's home on Arnold Way, immediately following the ceremony with the traditional punch and wedding cake being served to the guests.

Susann has lived in the Alpine area since coming to California and Harold has lived his entire life in Descanso. He is presently employed at Sweetwood & Sons in El Cajon.

The new couple plan to reside in the Willows area upon returning from a week's honeymoon at an undisclosed location.

Susann was graduated from El Capitan High School. Her new husband, Harold was graduated from Mt. Empire High School in Camero

ALPINE WOMAN'S CLUB SEASON ENDS WITH A GALA MEETING

With an outstanding three-point program which included an epicurean feast with Mrs. Ed Orbom as hostess, a brilliant entertainment program presented by Lenore Lusk, and an impressive ceremony in which Mrs. Harry Colby installed the officers for the coming year, the Alpine Woman's Club closed a very successful season.

Mrs. H. W. Johnson, President, held a brief business meeting following the pot-luck luncheon for which every member prepared one of her best recipes for the crowd of about 90 women.

In a solemn candlelight ceremony, Mrs. Colby, Southern District President, installed the following officers: President for her second term, Mrs. H. W. Johnson; first vice-president, Lenore Lusk; second vice-president, Mrs. Pete Vancil; third vice-president, Mrs. Katherine Black; recording secretary, Mrs. H. H. Latham; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ed Orbom; and Mrs. J. Simms, treasurer.

Mrs. Lusk presented her Betsy Ross singers in a stirring patriotic program honoring Flag Day, in four fine numbers. Soprano soloist, Jerry Lou Webb, with Florence Barrett, Elva Weisiger, Judy Ellis, and Elna Bratt made sweet harmony. Coke's Kitchen

With the emphasis on one of San Diego's important industries, "tuna," this week in our kitchen, we tried a very delicious casserole named "Bird's Tuna Delight," a recipe invented by a gentleman, not one of our feathered friends, who resides in Pine Valley, California. It is quite good.

The Tuna Fritterettes is an old standby for a last minute "what to cook" dish in case you've completely forgotten to take anything out of the freezer. Buy two cans (of tuna), they're small.

Bird's Tuna Delight

- 2 cans chunk tuna (small)
- 2 cups corn flakes
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 diced onion (medium, according to taste)
- 1/2 diced bell pepper
- 2 eggs
- 3 small cans of tomato sauce

Combine all ingredients in greased loaf pan or for less work, line dish with aluminum foil. Topping: Crumble six Ritz crackers, combined with one can tomato sauce and spread before baking 45-60 minutes, 300 degrees. Turn oven to 350 degrees last 10 minutes to brown.

Tuna Fritterettes

- 2 cups flour
- 2 tablespoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 small cans tuna
- 4 tablespoons oil
- 1 cup milk
- 2 eggs
- Grated parmesan cheese

Sift flour, baking powder, salt, add tuna, milk, oil. Blend—drop by teaspoons into deep fat heated 370 degrees. Fry until golden brown (two minutes). Drain on paper towel and roll in parmesan cheese. Makes approx. 60 fritters.

ridge, managers, the grass, when it is ready for feed, is rolled up, roots, seeds, and all like a little green carpet and fed in this manner. The horses like it very much, Don said. Olive stated that this green feed is well tolerated by the horses whereas a similar amount of earth grown feed might give them colic.

As to the expense of the arrangement, Dr. Ball said that after the initial installation, the expense is not great considering the long range benefits of green feed over a prolonged period of dry feed which our arid climate usually decrees.

Groups To Unite Lost Children

Good news for all parents planning to attend the San Diego County Fair to be held at Del Mar, June 28 through July 7.

For the fifth year, Goodwill Industries in cooperation with the Girl Scouts of America will help reunite lost children with their parents at the Fair, this year, it was announced by Allen J. Sutherland, president of the charitable organization.

The Girl Scouts will man the three gates at the Fair daily from 10 a.m., to 7 p.m., using approximately 300 senior and junior Girl Scouts, according to Mrs. Gene McFall, executive director of the Girl Scouts.

Girls in uniform will contact the parents with small youngsters as they enter the Fair grounds. Then with the parents' consent, the girls will pin the "Good Willy" I.D. tags on each youngster. The tag reads, "If my parents get lost, take me to the First Air Station here on the Fair grounds." At the first aid station, the Fair management takes over and locates the parents.

Last year, 478 children were reunited with their parents, 98 percent or 468 were wearing "Good Willy" I.D. tags.

Echoes Of The Past

of my father's 40 acres had ever been touched with plow, pick, or hoe. Where he wanted to build our house there wasn't a vacant spot. He hired Indians to help cut down brush and dig out roots. With several Indians it did not take long. They leveled a place to build the house and he kept the Indians long enough to clear a yard around the house and space for vegetable, and flower gardens and a small orchard. We did not have to irrigate, but how things grew. The virgin soil was rich; we never had to fertilize.

The roads then were not set down in deep gorges as they are now. We could drive along through the country and see the views on all sides, such pleasant sights.

When we arrived in Alpine we found about 35 families located there. They were good, friendly neighbors. Some had been there many years. Everyone was busy about his own affairs, building, plowing, planting trees from nurseries in San Diego, all preparing homes and orchards for the future. The air was full of the song of birds, sounds of building, of driving hoes in fields or orchards, all so peaceful. We had the fragrance of ferns growing in the deep ravines, of the freshly turned earth, of smoke coming from the chimneys. I liked the smell of burning roots and branches of wild lilac, sumac and other kinds of native brush.

Alpine had a schoolhouse and 20 or 30 children attending school taught by Edwin Snow, son of a pioneer family. He was the second teacher. Mrs. Finley was the first one and she started teaching the children of the community in the Foss home. The first school was a one room building about 7 by 12 feet with a snake roof, a homemade door and no windows. How long this was used I don't know, but there was a larger, nicer building when we arrived. It looked about 20 by 30 feet, had a nice door and three windows on each side and a large blackboard. We had what they called "patented seats and desks." This building was weather-boarded and painted white.

A group of Congregationalists held services in this school building where a minister preached once a month, then later twice a month. Those faithful people were meeting in that white schoolhouse in the fall of 1886. That would be 77 years ago this fall, 1963. I was there.

LET WANT ADS WORK FOR YOU

ALPINE GARDENER

I have had occasion to work with what will be an exhibition of succulent and cacti recently and I have found the plants most fascinating. Such seemingly common looking plants will surprise you with the beauty of the blossom they will put forth. This is the blooming season for a great many of them.

I have some epiphyllums in red and pink which are in bloom right now and they are real show pieces. I also have the Empress a smaller pink one which blooms quite profusely and these dainty blossoms last quite well when used in a corsage or for small bouquets anywhere. Any of these cacti are easily grown preferably in partial shade as they are not desert type cacti.

If you prefer some of the smaller types of desert cacti, there are no end of fascinating and unusual ones which you can plant in pots so you can move them around or plant in a little colony by themselves in the ground. Most of these little cacti like a good sandy soil mixed with some humus. I have had a very special one eight or 10 years called the Bishop cap—thick bulky star shape, the blossoms of which just seem to boil up out of the center and just recently it produced six yellow daisies all at once. They lasted two days but it will start producing a new crop very soon. The nice part about these little plants is that they require so little space and also so little water and care. Here are the names of several nice ones, Tiger alo, Roche falcata (scarlet paint brush) stapella gigantea, the blossoms of which will surprise you with their size—10 to 12 inches across. There are others of the stapella group with smaller flowers, the bearded star, russelstar and others. The panda plant is an attractive plant, sort of furry leaves with brown spots along the edge. There are the split rock, sand dollar, Mexican living rock. These are all spineless types of cacti. I prefer this type for ease of handling.

You will fall under the spell of these little critters once you start collecting them.

S.D. County Scout Council To Meet

A program of musical entertainment will highlight the 46th annual meeting of the San Diego County Scout Council in El Cortez Hotel's International Room in San Diego, Tuesday, June 25.

All Scout leaders and friends of Scouting throughout the county have been invited to attend the event, which will include election of officers for the coming year and presentation of reports on the 1962-63 Scouting year in San Diego County. Reservations must be made by Friday, June 21, at Scout Headquarters, 1207 Upas St., San Diego.

The Starlight singers will give a 20-minute performance of songs from shows the groups will present in Balboa Park this season. The "Magic Violins" will provide the dinner music.

Col. Charles E. Yeager, commandant of the Aerospace Research Pilot School at Edwards Air Force Base and the first test pilot to break the sound barrier will also address the meeting, with the theme being "Scouting—a Program for America's Space-Age Youth."

Family Night At Starlight

Starlight will continue its Family Night one-half price children's ticket policy this season, according to Municipal Judge Earl J. Canots, Starlight Association president.

Family Night was started two years ago and is being continued because much of Starlight's productions are the type of theater that younger children can understand and enjoy.

Sunday night performances have been earmarked as Family Night. All children 12 and younger will be admitted for half price to any seat in the Balboa Bowl for this particular evening.

Starlight's 1963 season opens on June 27 with the West Coast premiere of Michael Todd's zany comedy, "Around the World in 80 Days."

Newcomers To The Area

Newcomers to the Alpine area are Rear Admiral and Mrs. Federal J. Nelson, USN (ret.), who have recently purchased the Tip home and 10 acres located on Victoria Drive, Alpine.

Adm. Nelson is presently teaching mathematics at Grossmont High School in La Mesa.

The Nelsons plan extensive remodeling and are looking forward to enjoying Alpine's wonderful climate.

Shakespeare Festival Freeway Driving Opens At Old Globe

"A Midsummer Night's Dream" opened the 14th San Diego National Shakespeare Festival, at the Old Globe Theater in Balboa Park Tuesday evening, June 18. The second production, "The Winter's Tale" will follow on Wednesday, June 26. The two productions will alternate until "Anthony and Cleopatra" joins the festival July 26. The current season will continue through September 15.

"The Winter's Tale" is a gentle romantic fable of love and jealousy, comedy and young romance. Guest director, Duncan Ross, will stage the play for the Old Globe. Ross had acted and directed in major theaters in London including the Old Vic and Stratford-on-Avon. This is his first production for the Old Globe Theater.

In presenting "The Winter's Tale" the Old Globe Theater keeps up its tradition of presenting one Shakespearean play not previously staged by the National Festival for this is the play's first production at the Globe.

The professional Shakespeare Repertory Company of the Old Globe Theater will be featured in major roles in "The Winter's Tale," and new costumes were designed by Peggy Kellner. Craig Noel is the theater's producing director.

Freeway traffic according to the San Diego County Traffic Safety Council is a family of drivers moving at a constant rate of speed, all trying to anticipate their fellow driver's next move. Going too fast or too slow wrecks the harmony. How can a driver tell if he's living up to freeway family standards? If the traffic is passing him, he's going too slow; if he's passing the traffic he's going too fast. And he shouldn't be a bumper pusher—following too closely is a cause of many multiple car collisions on freeways. A worthwhile highway rule for freeway driving is one car length distance for every 10 mph. Increase the distance, and stop worrying about the other guy filling the gap—you'll get to your destination as fast or faster if you leave proper distance between bumpers.

MT. LAGUNA

By KATHY McMANUS

Mt. Laguna Elementary School had four graduates. Mr. James Kemp, member of the Board of Trustees, presented the certificates. Terri Williams, Sharon Holmes, Mark McEvoy and Wayne La Plante were the recipients. Sharon's great grandmother, Mrs. Dora Holmes of Holtville attended the festivities with the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Holmes of Chula Vista. Refreshments were served by the mothers.

Last Sunday the Community Presbyterian Church held their children's Vesper Service at 4 p.m. Presentation of Certificates to the Primary and Junior Choir were made by Rev. Addison Moore. Under the direction of Mrs. Flora Moore with the accompanist, Mrs. Marjorie Gerhung, the choir sang all the hymns they had learned throughout the year. Parents and friends were in large attendance, and were served refreshments by the junior girls.

Plans are being made for a lovely swimming pool behind the Pine House. We all hope that it will be open by July 12.

The Elks from Calexico held their annual picnic last Sunday, June 16 on the slab behind the Pine House. A barbecue with all the trimmings and games for the young folks were the plans of the day. All had a good time. Come again.

Andy Anderson and his wife of San Diego are the new caretakers of the Al Bahr Shrine Camp. We hear via the grapevine that they have a new well with lots of water. Hope the Anderson's stay will be very enjoyable.

Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Smith and family are up for the summer from Brawley. They've been summer residents for longer than they care to remember.

PINE VALLEY

By AMY N. HARVEY

Our summer residents are beginning to arrive, some for a few days others for the season. Noticed around town were the Hatfields, the Beynons, the Karns, the Wohlers, the Straubs and the Strachmans. With the continuance of the good weather we are looking forward to seeing many more.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spangle from San Francisco brought their three children, Douglas, Kathy, and Keith for a week's visit at the home of the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Houck. The Spangles are no strangers to our valley. They have spent many a delightful day here. Mr. Spangle is connected with the National Park Service.

The Jim Warnes are back with us once again. But for how long this time is a moot question.

Our lovely park, which opened last year, is in full swing now, with lots of picnics both large and small. Many out-of-the-area people are taking advantage of its many facilities. Sunday a record breaking crowd for the season so far, was a happy throng of over three thousand.

Kendra Sanders is helping her two popular grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Pine Valley Store or should I say Tootsie and Harry Kendrick and her Uncle Bert feed, pamper and spoil the colt that is the pride and joy and very personal property of Bert. Kendra is officially here for one week but plans on staying longer, although she hasn't confided that bit of news yet to her parents in San Diego.

The Rev. Edward Keller of St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Church recently celebrated his 25th jubilee as a priest. A dinner for Father Keller was held at the Hobart House. Those present were Most Rev. Charles Buddy, bishop of San Diego. Rt. Rev. Msgr. James Booth, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Wm. Bergin, the Very Rev. Msgr. Donald Doxie and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick Walsh. Father Keller was assistant pastor at St. John Evangelist Church until 1957 and assistant at St. Joseph's in Upland. He is now pastor at Jacumba.

His sister, Mrs. G. P. Bower flew out here from Williamsport for his ordination. Father Keller will return to the east with his sister for a two months' vacation.

Jack Moore, the jovial bartender at the Hobart House was off work with a bad back, but is now on his vacation with his family at Yuma, Arizona.

Two very proud sets of parents this week are Mr. and Mrs. Mario Trenti and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Reynoso. And rightly so. Their two girls who graduated from the Mountain Empire School last week captured the bulk of the honors. Maria Reynoso who resides with her parents at the Corte Madera Ranch, won top honors in leadership and in service. Mareen Trenti lives with her parents on Valley View Trail, took top honors in science, math; social studies, art, band, English, Spanish, girl honor scout, and was valedictorian of her class.

Mrs. Henry Duwe and her friend from Yuma, Mrs McClaren, spent three days in our pleasant valley, visiting old friends and renewing acquaintances. Mrs. Duwe at one time was a resident. While here they made their headquarters at the Hobart House.

Mrs. John Clarke who makes her home with the Jim Harveys, had a whale of a good time getting acquainted with her two great grandsons, Matt (4 years), and Paul (3 years) Bauermeister, who came from Washington state, along with her grand-daughter. Mrs. Robert Baurmeister (Janice) and her son, Al Clarke. Also to make this an added pleasure, her nephew, Harry Clarke, drove here from Inglewood. The two Clarke boys hadn't seen each other in over 30 years. It was a week loaded with fun and happiness for Mrs. Clarke who is past 90.

Honey and Dick Wellband are always having visitors from all four corners of the globe. And this week proved no exception. From Woburn, Massachusetts came Mr. and Mrs. William Hilbrunner fashioned rocking chair, stitching on the flag, were a lovely picture. Appropriate patriotic readings, selected by Mrs. Lusk, were interspersed with the musical numbers andread by Bea LaForce, also in costume. A unique feature of the musical program was the fact that the piano accompaniments, which were Mrs. Lusk's own arrangements, played by her on her piano, were recorded on tape by Dick Robinson who handled the recorder back stage during the program, thus allowing Mrs. Lusk to be in front to direct the singers.

Mrs. Orbom was assisted "back-stage kitchen" as usual by her nice husband, Ed, to whom the club is often indebted for man-help at these affairs. Mrs. Marcus Shaeffer, Mrs. Johnson and others helped the hostess arrange the buffet.

The Club will re-convene in late September.
