AERIAL VIEW OF ADOBE HACIENDA POULTRY RANCH

ADOBE HACIENDA POULTRY RANCH AGAIN OPERATED BY ED ZIMMER

The Adobe Hacienda Poultry Ranch on Highway 80 east of Alpine is once again owned and operated by Ed Zimmer, and his wife, Scotty. The Zimmers gave up the establishment two years ago because of Mr. Zimmer's health.

During these two years an extended trip to the Orient, and the enjoyment of their home at Honey Hill, occupied the Zimmers. Also, hospitalization was required by Mr. Zimmer, all of which has resulted in his improved health.

The Adobe Hacienda was started by Ed Zimmer in 1947, and during the 14 years of operation under his able management became a nationally famous egg producing ranch.

At the peak of its operation, the ranch had 35,000 chickens including chicks, growers and layers. Mr. Zimmer buys top quality day-old leghorn chicks and raises them for his laying stock. The pullets do not start laying eggs until they are 6 months old, and they are kept

Bible School To Hold Closing Exercises

The closing exercises of the Vacation Church School of the Alpine Community Church will be held on Saturday, June 29th. The program will be presented by 20 children accompanied by three teachers from the Casa de Todos School of Tijuana. The theme of the Bible School was "Widening Relationships," and the visitors have been asked to take part in this program to emphasize the theme to the children who attended the sessions.

Preceding the exercises the Ladies Guild of the Church will hold a potluck dinner in Fuller Hall starting at 5:30 p.m. The main meat dish and the beverages will be served by the Church ladies, and those attending are asked to bring their own table service in addition to either a salad, vegetable dish, potato dish, dessert, or rolls and butter.

The visitors from Tijuana will be overnight guests in various homes in the area, and will participate in the Sunday Morning Services of the Alpine Community Church.

Communication Units For Firemen

At a special meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Alpine local Fire District, Monday evening, June 24th, at the Fire Station, it was voted to purchase communication equipment for the Alpine Fire Trucks.

Careful consideration was given to all bids and the matter duly discussed. J. C. LaForce made a motion that the equipment to be purchased be Motorola; that it be a cash purchase; that the Fire District ask for a service contract with Motorola at a stipulated set price; that the equipment to be purchased be tested to the satisfaction of the Alpine Volunteer Fire District; and that the contract be approved by the San Diego County Attorney's office.

The motion was seconded by Phil Hall and unanimously carried. As soon as possible the equipment will be installed, to be ready for the coming fire season.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LA FORCE

When true city people, those with "boulevard feet" come to see me, I can be fairly certain that before they leave to speed back to the perils of urban life, one of them, sometimes it's a man, sometimes a woman, will look at me with a mixture of pity and horror and ask, "What in the world do you DO all day?" adding, as he or she looks around as if viewing the outer rim of Eternity, "Way out HERE!" Often this remark is followed by a shudder varying in degree from a lady-like shiver to a real wig-shaker.

Since I have so often been asked this question, I wondered whether other country people had been asked it as well, so took a census of friends hereabouts and in every instance the answer was yes. Their visitors from inside the city limits ask the same question. What do we DO all day indeed! We stare at them in amazement. Can't they see the flowers to be watered? Look at all those hanging baskets and potted plants to which everything must be served as to invalids! Can't they see the orchard and the garden to be tended? Do they think the horses dip their own grain, fork their own hay? Do they think the hens bring in the eggs and store them in the refrigerator? Of course, they see those things, they patiently explain, but what they mean is . . . well . . . what do we DO?

We finally realize that what they mean is not how do we labor, but how do we keep our interest alive. What do we find out here to amuse and please us: to excite the mind, rouse the spirit, warm the blood? Lacking the at-

Brush Fire At Palo Verde

A small brush fire was contained very quickly this past week, Saturday afternoon by three trucks from the Alpine Fire Department in company with a fire truck from the U. S. Forestry Service.

The fire was from an undetermined cause and started at the south side of the spillway on the Palo Verde Ranch. Several homes were in danger only momentarily due to the immediate response by these valuable public servants.

About two dozen cub scouts from Harbison Canyon, Alpine, and La Cresta enjoyed a Field Day held Saturday, June 22nd at the Palthe Ranch on Harbison Canyon Road. Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts of Post 375 participated in the event by acting as supervisors of the activities of the smaller Cubs.

ZIP Code Numbers Go Into Effect

The five digit ZIP Code goes into effect July 1. Everyone will use their ZIP Code on all their correspondence to speed mail deliveries and reduce the chance of missent mail. ZIP Code is the Post Office Department's revolutionary new system of improved mail dispatch and delivery.

Citizens are urged to learn the ZIP Code for their area and use it in the return address on all correspondence. In answering mail the ZIP Code from return addresses on incoming mail should be used.

The ZIP Code is literally the last word in mail addressing and should follow the City and State in addresses. Mr. Philip G. Hall, Alpine Postmaster, cited this example of the proper use of ZIP Code:

Opening at 11 a.m. and continuing to 5 p.m. the event included athletic contests. There was a 60 and a 75 yard dash; a baseball game, a running high jump, and a ball throw. Mr. John McConnell, chairman of the Cub Scout Committee and director of athletics, had charge of the sports events.

Scout Master Frank Vaughn, Cub Master Don Palthe, and Wm. Dessert, Institutional Representative for the three Scout units of Post 375, arranged and managed the Field Day with Mr. McConnell. All the men are from Harbison Canyon.

When the day's activities ended the boys adjourned to the Community Hall in Harbison Canyon where at 6 p.m. the parents and families were invited to witness the Presentation of Flags to the respective Cub Dens. This ceremony was handled by the Fleet Reserve Association's Alpine Branch. A color guard from the Marine Recruit Depot added drama and solemnity to the occasion. Three flags were pre-

Elephant Will Appear In Starlight Opener

Caroline, an 18-month-old Asian elephant, will be loaned to Starlight by the San Diego Zoo for the three-week run of the season opener, "Around the World in 80 Days." This hilarious comedy will open on June 27.

All of the cast has been selected, the scenery and sets are about completed, and rehearsals are in full swing. One performer has failed to show up for a single rehearsal. The missing actress is Caroline.

Caroline is not playing hooky from her theatrical chores. She is getting some preliminary training from her keeper at the zoo. She is being taught the routine by a keeper who will accompany her during her nightly stage appearances. She is learning to enter and leave the large trailer which will transport her to the Balboa Park Bowl. As soon as she is accustomed to this, she will be acclimated to the stage and the bustle of a large production.

By June 27, Caroline will be ready for her first appearance at Starlight in "Around the World in 80 Days."

R. H. Marvel II going thru trail obstacles

HORSES! HORSES! HORSES!

By MARGARET LOWTHIAN

Jack Wilson is considering selling his Appaloosa stallion, Banjo. Jack is planning to spend a vacation in Florida visiting some quarter horse breeders, and will be away for some time. This would be a good opportunity for someone to acquire a really nice Appaloosa as Banjo is proving to be a good sire, and he is also a well-broke riding horse.

A lot of the folks around town are working hard on the plans for the Alpine Viejas Days Horse Show. Requests for prize lists and entry forms are being received from distant places; such as, Arizona, Imperial Valley and even Northern California. This show should prove to be one of the larger ones in San Diego County this year. If you have not already pledged an ad for the program or sponsored a class, drop in to the Chamber of Commerce office and do so. This horse show will be an asset to all Alpiners, and your support will be appreciated.

Haven't heard any more news about the riding club that was being contemplated. Now that the kids have time to take advantage of such a club it would seem that it should get started pretty soon if such a club is to be organized.

Willow Glen Farm is very happy this week. Last weekend Frank Evans took four of our horses to the big Appaloosa show held at Simi Valley. Our new stallion, Joker Red, came home with Grand Champion Stallion, first in Appaloosa Western Pleasure, first in Open Trail Horse, fourth in Appaloosa Stock, and fifth in Appaloosa Trail Horse. Marvel was third in her breeding class, first in Appaloosa Trail Class and fifth in Appaloosa Stock. R. H. Bonnett was first in her breeding class and Reserve Champion Mare, and third in Western Pleasure 13-17. Hi Yu Skukum was first in yearling filly class. This was the first big show for Joker Red and we are a little proud of his fine showing.

Hope to see you all at the Del Mar Fair horse show. When you are up there stop at Barn G-G and visit with Frank Evans and the Willow Glen Farm Appaloosas.

"NOR BOB" SIGN

Attractive Sign For Local Business

The attractive sign pictured above is located under a tremendous oak on Arnold Way at the corner of South Grade Road. It designates that this is the home of the Nor Bob Trophy Company, owned and operated by Norman and Hazel Foster. Norm makes trophies and does engraving in a shop at the rear of the property. He is equipped to supply the trophies and ribbons for any event for which these items are required. He has supplied the good looking trophies and ribbons for the Alpine Viejas Days Horse Show and for the other horse shows held recently at Dinosaur Park.

The sign is made of redwood, and the letters are white on a red background. A small lamp in the center of the sign illuminates it after dark.

Mr. Rich Zuelke, another local business man on Alpine Heights Road, designed and made this sign for the Fosters. He has made many of his original signs for others in the area, including the sign with the white turkey at the

JFK Visits Europe

Mr. Kennedy, in his capacity as President of the United States of America, is paying an official visit to the so-called free countries of Europe where he is getting a reception ranging from a hearty welcome in some countries to seemingly a downright rebuff in others.

We read in the daily press that he is vowing great vows all over the place, and it appears that before his visit is over most of Europe will be knee-deep in vows.

Some of these vows seem to have an implication of cost to the United States, and we sincerely hope that he does not vow more vows than we can afford.

Our Grand Jury

The San Diego County Grand Jury has had a special committee investigating the conditions in the County Welfare Department, and have released for publication a report which appears in this issue.

One of the comments made by the committee regarding the conditions which they found is in reference to the "American tradition."

We have been led to believe that the American tradition and way of life has had to change on account of the great advances that have been made in our civilization, and that the old order is now out the window. So, maybe the Grand Jury committee is just old fashioned and not keeping up with the times.

Grand Jury Reports On County Welfare

Viewing with great concern the high percentage of increase in the San Diego County welfare budget, the increase in welfare employees, the heavy turnover of welfare personnel, and the increased caseload in aid to needy children, the Welfare Committee of the 1963 San Diego County Grand Jury issued an Interim Report today through Col. Frank W. Seifert, Foreman.

The report states that inquiry and investigation by the Welfare Committee points out that positive improvements can and should be made in the administration of the public assistance program.

The report has a condemnation of the philosophy of the Public Welfare Department on the theory of "how much money can we give this 'client,' rather than the theory on which public assistance programs were established to provide aid to needy persons until such time, and only until such time as that person was able to provide for himself."

"To a very real and substantial extent the excesses in the program are due to a compounding of unsound theories of administration at the state and local level," the report states. "In our review of welfare cases and in our interrogation of welfare workers, we have found examples of irresponsibility and a lack of concern for taxpayers' money."

"In 1956 there was a complete reorganization of the Welfare Department. It is hoped that the situation that caused such an upheaval in 1956 with the complete change of management of the Department of Public Welfare is not repeating itself again," says the report.

Taking 1955 as a base year, the Welfare Committee, consisting of Mrs. Marion W. Fisher, Chairman; Paul R. Beck, Rodolph W. Begert, Col. George L. Dutton and Stanford E. Steinbeck, pointed out that the budget has increased 69% from $19 million to $32 million in 1963; employees in the department have had a similar increase of 61% from 435 in 1955 to 701 today; caseworkers in all sections show a 33% increase from 225 to 298, and the turnover of workers per year is 57% against a state average of 33%.

The total number of cases in aid to needy children shows a 71% increase from 2610 in 1955 to 4465 in 1963, with the number of children in this group increasing from 8337 in 1959 to 12,933 in 1963, an increase of 55% in only four years. To take care of this needy children caseload the number of positions has gone up 92% since 1955 from 63 to 121. The report states that the average length of time on the aid to needy children rolls has increased from 39 months in 1955 to 58 months in 1963. In only one category does the report show no change and that is in the cases handled by each caseworker. This figure has remained constant at 60 to 65 since 1955. The committee pointed out that increases were necessary as there has been a population increase of 42% since 1955, but that cases and personnel have far outdistanced population.

The report continues, "It is desirable that action should be taken

Dear Editor:

I learned the other night that some of the boys of Alpine are forming a baseball team. I learned of it when two teen-age boys, dressed ready to play baseball, knocked at my door after dark and told me of their wish to form this team and asked if I would like to donate 50 cents for buying equipment.

I told them that I would rather not make a donation. However, I added that if they were willing to work for the money to buy their equipment, I could find some yard work for them to do.

They went their way, and I haven't heard from them.

I am sure there are other neighbors in Alpine who have odd jobs for these teenage boys to do, who would find that in helping others they are able to help themselves.

Sincerely,
MRS. J. STEGER

There's the motion of trees and grass in the wind, the movement of birds across the sky, wing shadows flashing over us in the field. WE garden and meet adventures in the task—a lizard surprised doing his push-ups on a shady rock as if practicing for a wrestling bout. A nest of sleeping June bugs beneath a stone; a cocoon unfolding on a leaf; butterflies meeting in mid-air, pausing to exchange a greeting and flying on together. A green worm, the kind we used to call Measuring worms when we were kids and scare each other with the superstition that if the worm got on you and crawled your length you'd die because he was measuring you for your coffin. We watch the green worm with a nostalgic reliving of a childhood hour. We see two lady bugs gossiping on a cabbage leaf, watch them suddenly start up and take flight as if just realizing how late it is and dinner still to be fixed.

We see the roan mare lift her head, put up her ears and gaze off across the pasture with such intense interest we must see what she sees and glimpse a bobcat disappearing into the brush. The mother cat strolls by with a gopher in her mouth. Our eyes meet, hold for a moment and we experience a thrill of empathy. We know how it is to be a mother cat taking a fresh meal to her kittens. We feel her pride and her tiredness as she walks by, balancing her burden, the many cat-steps through the dust to the barn where her kittens wait. There are other things like the times we just sit on the corral fence and become part of the landscape, or lie on the ground beneath a tree and watch blue sky through moving green leaves.

All this is doing something, we think, but there's no use trying to explain, so we smile and change the subject. I recently spent a week-end with friends in their beautiful city apartment where convenience is the BIG word. Everything arrives by Genii Express. They have only to reach out the door and haul in milk, bread, newspapers, anything they want. I admit it's real handy. But what I can't understand about those people is, what do they DO all day, cooped up in town? When I asked them they stared at me in amazement, then smiled, and changed the subject.

The first two were presented by Mr. Bert Fuller of Alpine, the third by Fleet Reserve officer, Ira Smith. The men gave the flag to Sgt. L. G. A dance beginning at 9 p.m. followed for the boys' parents.

Office Department to short cut repeated address reading. The address on mail must often be read as many as eight or 10 times by postal employees to get it to the proper destination. Each handling slows the process of mail dispatch and adds to the opportunity for human error.

With ZIP Code a clerk needs only to glance at the code to know immediately to what national area, state and post office the letter is destined and speed it on its way, cutting up to 24 hours off the time between deposit and delivery.

Mr. Hall said that when ZIP Code is in full swing, the United States will have "the most modern system of mail distribution and delivery in existence."

DEERHORN VALLEY

By ROY WALLIN

A very reluctant farewell to our old friends and long-time residents Emil and Sybil Melfi, who have sold their ranch on the Mother Grundy Truck Trail, and are moving to Banner Grade, near Julian. At the same time, we'd like to say "Howdy" and "Welcome" to Dwane Campbell, the new owner.

Down at Honey Springs Estates, Bob and Twila Daum and family left this past Monday on a month's vacation to visit their folks in Marysville, Ohio.

Also at the Estates, Homer, Laura, and the little Haughney's are off on a short fishing trip to the Colorado River (as long as the stories are good, Homer, we don't care if you catch any). Their son, Airman 2/c Walter Haughney, on 30-day leave from an air base in Istanbul, Turkey, will spend several weeks with the family, before reporting to his next duty station, an S.A.C. base in Arkansas.

Walter (Jim) Wolfe is terminating his duties as a keeper at the San Diego Zoo this Friday to return to his life as a gentleman rancher in our valley. Jim tentatively plans a trip to Alaska about the middle of July . . . said he might run into Joe Crowley (Crow Valley Ranch) and have a drink or two some night (isn't that where the nights are six months long?).

Frank and Goldie Gute are leaving on the first of July for their summer home on Pend O'Reille Lake in Bayview, Idaho . . . a line, c/o Box 118, Bayview, will reach them 'till they return home in October.

(Inside Las Vegas). Gene and Terry White, still of Deerhorn, are doing well in the formica business and are residing at 4204 Sunrise Street in that town. Jim and Frances Welker, formerly of our Valley, are now in Apt. D, 2034 Castleberry St., Las Vegas.

It looked like ol' times Sunday evening at the Lodge with Bill and Sally Grogan (first president of our Civic Club) visiting with the Beckers, Marta Krause, Jim Wolfe, Connie Crowley, the Arledges, the Sellers and the Wallins.

Tom Wiggins and Bill McBurney are entertaining the employees of the Security First National Bank—Lake Murray Branch—and their families in an outdoor patio party. (Tom is an officer of the bank).

About 300 people, the employees of Land Title Insurance and their families will be picnicking this Sunday at Honey Springs Estates.

There was great excitement on the Snowflake Ranch and on Mt. Laguna this weekend, June 21-23.

As the tale is told, a fuse blew in a transformer on an electric pole on Snow Flake Ranch and an electric current was sent to the ground through a guy wire. The ground became hot and the grass started to burn and so did the pole. Carol Stoneking, who lives on the ranch, used the wooden end of a hoe to knock the guy wire out of the ground. When she finally succeeded the guy wire hit the barbed wire fence and sent an electric current through it. The current traveled through the fence to the rabbit hutch which also became electrified. The rabbits became quite excited with the shock they encountered. All in all, it was a busy day on the Ranch.

main open as travel corridors through the "Closed Areas."

All persons having official business in these areas must obtain a written permit from the nearest ranger station prior to entering.

The closed areas include: The area east of Pine Creek to Corte Madera from U. S. Highway 80 to Barrett Lake; all National Forest land on Palomar Mountain excepting Forest Service public campgrounds; all of the Trabuco Ranger District except the area of the 1958 Stewart Burn and the area above Lake Elsinore from the Ortega Highway south along the Main Divide to the Wildomar Road. Maps and complete descriptions of the restricted areas are available at all Forest Service stations.

Stevenson stated that the Cleveland National Forest faces one of the most critical fire seasons in history. He noted that rainfall was only 30 percent of normal.

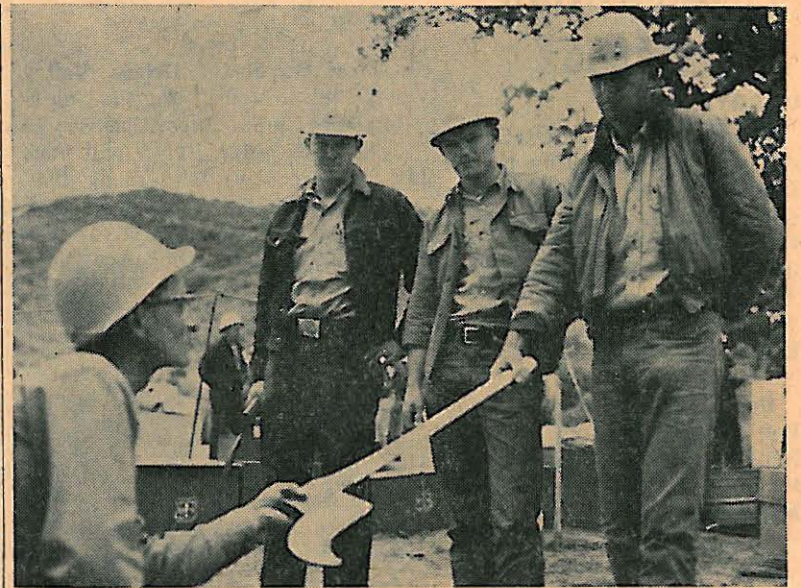

As a result the forest has had three times as many fires to date than had occurred last year at this time. He urged everyone to be extremely careful with fire if we are to get through the long dry season ahead without disastrous forest fires.

Caution Urged In Hot Weather Driving

High speed . . . hot weather driving during the summer months increases the chances of a tire blowing out to cause a fatal accident, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden points out that blowouts, though infrequent these days, tend to occur more often in the summer because of the added strain placed on tires by extreme heat which builds up pressure.

"A driver's natural reaction is to apply the brakes in the case of

and experimented in new areas which will lead to improvements in the present methods of quelling fires.

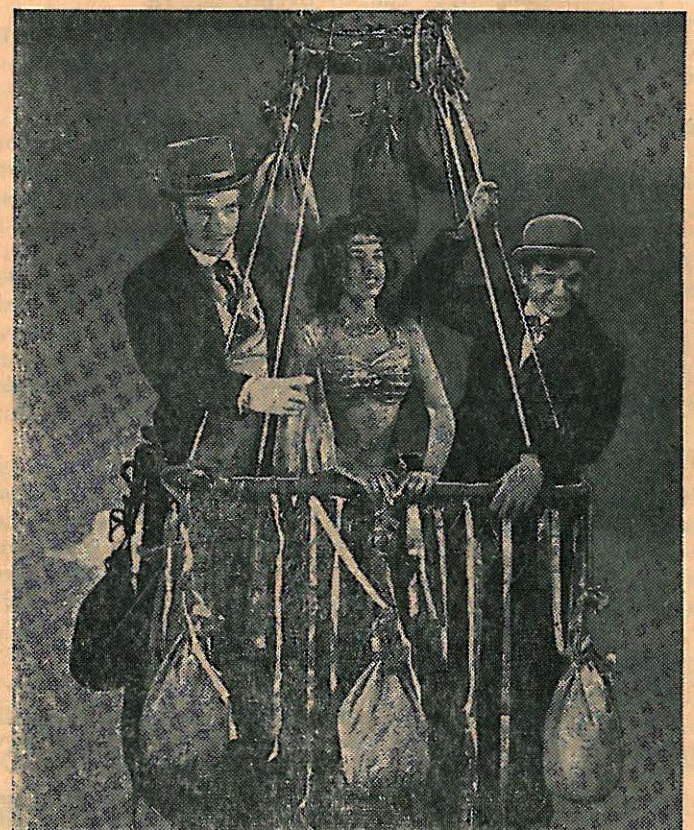

The five-day school ended on Thursday with actual fire fighting. The men were divided into 21 fire control groups and fought deliberately set fires with aerial and ground tankers, helicopters and hand equipment. The instructions received during the proceeding days were put to actual use in fighting these large fires.

The fire fighting school this year was a combination of two annual events. The Department of Agriculture's Cleveland National Forest training session and the controlled burning of the forest's adjacent areas. It was held specifically to train novice and experienced firemen, and placed special emphasis upon the coordination of the Department of Agriculture and other cooperating fire control agency programs for the Cleveland National Forest area.

a blowout, but forceful braking can send your car into a dangerous skid or possibly a rollover."

The safest procedure is to let the car slow down before you brake, keeping the steering wheel in a firm grip and the car on a straight, even course.

When the vehicle slows to the point where you have absolute control, apply the brakes smoothly with moderate pressure, Crittenden said.

ALPINE GARDENER

By JEAN McCULLOUGH

Summer has arrived with all the beauty of fulfillment which the season implies and how wonderfully each season fulfills its part in nature's scheme of things. The buds, the flowers, the seeds, the resting period — how perfectly everything in nature is regulated.

If anything disturbs the scheme of things, it is the human element wanting to improve on nature. Of course, that same human nature has created many wonderful hybrids in both flowers and vegetables. For instance the familiar pelargonium (geranium) to most of us, hybridists have done just endless things with them—bred such a variety of color in the foliage of some, white edges on some, as many as four different colors in others and still others so pleasantly scented. The ones we usually speak of as pelargoniums (the aristocrats I think) come in so many colors and ruffles that for color and variety one need go no further and still would have longlasting color and greenery in the garden the whole summer.

For further variety to carry on into the fall there would be such old standbys as zinnias, lilies, dahlias, asters, chrysanthemums, all or most of which come in a great variety of sizes and colors.

COKE'S KITCHEN

Don't you just love summer! Strawberries and rhubarb are now in season and with Alpine having so many rhubarb growers, thought you might enjoy this first recipe with a special thanks to Mrs. George Henderson of Solana Beach (who also grows her own) and the other recipe a "special" from Mt. Laguna, California.

RHUBARB PIE

- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup flour
- 3 egg yolks (beaten well)
- 1 cup water

Mix the above all together. Place 3 cups uncooked rhubarb in an uncooked pie shell. Pour custard mixture over the top—bake until rhubarb is soft—375 degrees. Add meringue and brown. Note: cut rhubarb quite fine—baking time approximately 45 minutes.

STRAWBERRY PARFAIT PIE

Dissolve 1 package strawberry jello in 1 1/4 cup hot water. Spoon in one pint of vanilla ice cream and stir until melted. Place in icebox until thickened but not set (15 to 25 minutes). Fold in one cup drained strawberries. Turn filling into flaky pie shell.

Chill until firm (20 to 30 minutes). P. S. You may also use lemon jello with crushed pineapple. Delicious for a warm summer day.

Outdoor Eating

With the picnic, potluck and barbecue season just around the corner, the San Diego Department of Public Health offered some advice on how to be sure the food you serve is really safe to eat.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said yesterday that in the enthusiasm of a potluck affair, people tend to forget that eating "on location" has its hazards.

"When you take the food you prepare out of the home into the patio or off to some picnic ground and let it stand for hours before you eat it," he said, "you are giving the bacteria present in food an opportunity to generate toxins or multiply to the point where they can cause food poisoning by the time the food it eaten."

Dr. Askew went on, "Room temperature is dangerous. It promotes the rapid growth of bacteria and the toxins they produce that may cause food poisoning. Prepared food should be served immediately or be stored under refrigeration until time to serve. If necessary to reheat, do so just before serving and reheat thoroughly, serving piping hot. Cold dishes should be kept and served cold."

Certain foods are particularly favorable to bacterial growth and should be treated with special care. These include creamed sauces, ground meats, gravies, salads, eggs, and cream or custard filled pastries or cakes and puddings.

Use only pasteurized milk, cream or whipped cream. Commercially prepared ice cream is generally safer to use than homemade ice cream. Custards and cream filled pastries must have refrigeration at all times until eaten.

All foods should be prepared with careful attention to cleanliness. This is particularly important with salads and cream filled pastries and custards.

Above all, serve and keep hot foods hot at temperatures above 140 degrees Fahrenheit, and keep cold foods refrigerated at temperatures below 50 degrees Fahrenheit until time to serve. Serve food as soon as prepared, if possible, and enjoy eating out rather than regret it.

Hiway Construction Causes Dangers

Care in driving through highway construction zones was advised this week by California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden.

"Last year there were 42 fatal accidents and nearly 1,200 injury accidents in highway construction and repair areas—an indication that many drivers are failing to take the proper precautions when proceeding through these zones."

The commissioner pointed out that the hazards increase in spring and summer months when more road repair work is underway.

"A sign indicating construction work ahead should always be a signal to slow down. The speed limit through the zone is 25 mph, when posted.

"In some instances, construction work may mean a temporary reduction in number of lanes, a detour, or a brief stop. A driver approaching a construction area should always be prepared to stop," he cautioned.

"A particularly dangerous practice is rapid lane changing with the intent of getting a better position to move through the zone. It is far safer to maintain the same position, reduce speed and proceed through the repair area with the flow of traffic."

Stolen Car Found

Dr. Earl C. Woodall got his car back after nearly three weeks from the time it was stolen in El Cajon. The Cadillac was unharmed, he said, and he is very glad to have it home again. Though police apprehended the thief in Tijuana the day after the car's theft, it was held in custody all this time due to the process of law involved in the case.

Tomorrow is often the busiest day of the year.

to materially change the prevalent theories, philosophies, training program, policies and practices of the Department of Public Welfare."

"The abnormally high turnover in the ANC caseworkers personnel is a matter which no effective management would continue to overlook," stated the review.

"It appears to this committee that a very real but virtually neglected potential for achieving a decrease in the welfare caseload is available in the Department if it would take realistic advantage of the vocational rehabilitation program provided by the State of California for the purpose of training and guidance of long-term welfare recipients toward gainful employment," the report continued.

It was stated that the caseworkers training program as now outlined by the Department of Public Welfare appears adequate and complete; however, it was pointed out that it was indicated by interviews with caseworkers that this program made comparatively small impression on welfare workers and had been ineffective.

"The entire welfare program should be geared toward achieving the independence and self-sufficiency of the welfare recipient at the earliest possible time. Too frequently social workers appear to have been indoctrinated with an attitude of patronage and over-protection toward their clients (welfare recipients); and as a result of this attitude the workers encourage dependency and the continued and uninterrupted reliance upon the welfare grant as a way of life," it was stated.

"Some of the cases which we studied," the report continued, "strongly indicated that money which was intended to be used to feed, clothe, provide housing and education for children was actually used to subsidize delinquent adults, including the casual boy-friends who take up residence with the recipient and live off the aid grant for the children." It was pointed out that in the 150 cases reviewed by the committee there was a total of 169 illegitimate children.

"The matter of second and third generation welfare recipients should be of substantial concern to welfare administrators," the report continued. "Far too many welfare recipients are uninspired to any action except the acceptance of welfare. They are completely oblivious of the American tradition of taking care of oneself."

Recommendations by the committee were for a review of all applications for aid to needy children by the Family Support Division of the District Attorney's office; a permanent authoritative liaison between the Welfare Department and the District Attorney's office; a study by the Board of Supervisors regarding salaries and qualifications of welfare workers as compared to those in the Probation Department, and a hope that the new welfare building construction will overcome some of the over-crowding that tends toward inefficient work. It was indicated that there is too much office work and not enough field work, as field workers spend 60% of their time in the office, and there is an additional 1 1/2 of office workers for each field worker.

Finally, the report stated, "A realistic conclusion is that intensive efforts must be made toward getting people on a self-supporting basis and off aid as quickly as possible. This involves a substantial change in our present welfare policies and practices in this county."

until they are about 18 months old.

Approximately 15,000 eggs are laid each day. They are automatically gathered four times a day by electrically operated conveyors to the egg room. The egg department is managed by Mrs. Ida McKelvy who has been with the Zimmers for about seven years. In the egg room, Mrs. McKelvy grades each egg for size and quality and boxes them. The next step is into the refrigerated room which is kept at the proper temperature and humidity to insure completely fresh eggs for the customer.

The eggs are picked up at the ranch four times a week for delivery to consumers in San Diego, etc., which insures the customers who come to the ranch for their eggs that none of them will be over 48 hours old.

Since taking over the Adobe Hacienda two weeks ago, Mr. Zimmer has been working to get it back in the condition it was before when it was well known as one of the show places of the Alpine area. Last weekend four young men from the Air Force Base helped in removing fertilizer, repairing various equipment, and generally cleaning up the grounds.

Ed and Scotty Zimmer are going to have the same fine quality eggs, the same reasonable prices and the same good service as was available at the Adobe Hacienda during the 14 years they operated it before 1961. They will be open for business seven days a week from 9 o'clock in the morning to 7 o'clock in the evening for the convenience of their many satisfied customers.
