OLIVE TREES BEING MOVED FROM ALPINE TO OTHER AREAS

A trailer load of olive trees were transplanted last Monday from the olive grove on the Rancho del Sycuan on South Tavern Road opposite the County Highway Station to La Jolla.

The trees were removed and transported by the El Cajon Tree Surgery Company for Mrs. Harriet Wimmer of Wimmer & Yamada, Landscape Architects, to be used by them in landscape work now underway under their direction in La Jolla.

The tree surgery company uses special equipment for the removal of the trees from the ground and for the loading and transporting of the trees to their new

4-H Club Holds Box Social

Approximately 45 young adults, parents and friends, all associated and interested in the 4H Club of Alpine, met at the James Dyer Ranch in Japatul Valley last Saturday evening for an old fashioned box social.

To "sweeten" the 4H Club treasury, boxes containing delicious food prepared by the 4H girls were auctioned off to the highest bidders.

While the parents enjoyed a potluck get-together, rousing games of dodge ball and ping pong were enjoyed by the members, climaxing an evening of fun.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LA FORCE

An article in a National weekly on new methods and materials for building both homes and commercial structures sounds like science fiction. They are making whole rooms, floors and all, in pre-fabricating factories, then assembling them with huge cranes and such, setting these rooms side by side and atop each other to build homes and apartments. They are also making brick walls in sections complete with framework and stress resistant mortar which can stand the strains of hurricane winds and earthquake shocks. These new materials, handled with huge machines for arranging them into buildings, eliminate much hand labor and increase speed enormously while decreasing cost. Sounds like soon the old fairy tale of a wish and a flash of light and there stands the new castle complete, will soon be coming true.

Much science fiction has become fact now and has been so, for as long as man has dreamed. All apparently, man-the-maker needs is for some imaginative artist to create in fiction or fancy something that appeals to him and he sets to work to make the fantasy become reality. Then the dreamer, unable to live in an altogether actual world, must build new and more fantastic dreams, again extending the world beyond its known horizons. This happens in simple and humble creations as well as great ones. It happens in farming, and in cooking, and in needlework. In Ireland I read an article about

Alpine Realtors Close Local Sales

Escrow has just closed on the Joseph A. Rabouin property of ten acres and four bedroom home on South Grade and Alpine Heights Roads. Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Schlesier Sr. purchased the property for an investment and also to build a nice 2000 sq. ft. home on the property. At present the family is living at 1222 Elkeltan Blvd., Spring Valley. The family consists of Robert A. and wife, Grace; daughter Deborah Lee, 2½ years old and Robert A. Jr., 1½ years old. Mr. Schlesier is from New York and works for the Division of Highways. Mr. and Mrs. Rabouin and four children have moved to Anaheim and have bought a new home. They visit Alpine often. Sale was made by Mrs. Charlene V. Brown of Pierce Realty Company in cooperation with Dick Garner of McCoy's Realty Company.

Rennie Hollett of Don Bates Real Estate reports the sale of 160 acres of land in the Palomar Mountain area, from Mr. A. T. Bogstie of San Diego to Dr. A. C. Henzgen of La Mesa. This was then used as a medium of exchange for an equivalent value of Forestry land owned by the U. S. Government in the Descanso area, adjacent to 160 acres already owned by Dr. Henzgen, where he has a fine herd of Black Angus cattle which he plans to increase now that he has more land for grazing purposes. Mr. Hollett states this transaction took 18 to 20 months to negotiate.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS TO MAKE STUDY OF FIRE HYDRANTS

The Fire Commissioners of the Alpine Local Fire District met at the Fire Station last Monday night. After a discussion of the need of fire hydrants in the District, the Commissioners voted to appoint a committee to make a study of the location of fire hydrants within the District, the cost of installing a fire hydrant, and a method of financing the cost of installation. Commissioner Clayburn LaForce was appointed by Chairman Al Hinkle as a committee of one to obtain this information.

It was brought out that the District had placed an order with Rio San Diego MWD to install four fire hydrants along Highway 80 in the business district and that two of these hydrants have been installed. They were installed by the maintenance and operation forces of the Rio District.

The Commissioners instructed their secretary to notify Rio not to install the other two hydrants until further notice after it has been determined the proper location, cost and method of payment.

Harbison Fire Dept. Asks for Support

All Harbison Canyon householders will receive a letter this week from the Volunteer Fire Department. The letter carries an appeal for active support of the Fire Department which meets every Thursday night at 7:30 in the Fire Hall. Men of all ages are urged to attend and serve in whatever capacity needed, within their ability. The Department needs active members as well as men who can serve without actually fighting fires.

Plans are being formulated to reorganize a Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fire Department whose main object is to raise funds for the Department's use. The funds are used primarily for equipment and insurance and expenses of absolute necessity to the running of the organization.

The women who make up the Auxiliary do not necessarily have to have men serving with the Fire Department. Any woman interested in supporting this much needed organization is asked to phone 445-2480 for further information and watch for notices of organizational meetings which will be scheduled as soon as plans are formulated.

Alpine Cemetery Association Meeting

The annual meeting of the members of the Alpine Cemetery Association will be held at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Feb. 24, at the Brabazon Fruit Ranch, five miles east of Alpine on Willows Road, according to Edwina Brabazon, secretary.

C.A.P. Members Taken on Flight

Sunday, Feb. 16, Squadron 129 from Alpine participated in a group activity. The United States Air Force supplied a plane, a T45, for cadet activities. Each cadet was given an hour long flight. Takeoff was from Lindbergh Field and flight was along the San Diego coast, due north to San Bernardino and around back over the mountains which were covered with snow.

The participating cadets were Steve Foster, Roger Russell, Barbara Bagel, Daniel Bagel, and Wanda Naylor, and Mrs. Hilda Naylor, leader of the group.

During Easter week the cadets will have leadership training at the Naval Training Center. They will be housed at the NTC for the full week and will receive instruction from Naval personnel.

Jim Dell, a member of the Maintenance and Operation Department of Rio San Diego MWD, painting the top of the "blow-off" and valve covers on the main water lines which serve the Alpine area. Mr. Dell explains that the tops of the "blow-off" are painted red, and the tops of the valve covers are painted yellow. He states that water can be drawn off from the "blow-offs" by the Federal, State and Local Fire Departments to be used in fighting fires. The pump houses and other structures of the Rio District are also being repainted under their present maintenance program.

Crest Women's Club Holds Auction

The Auction of household items, held by the Crest Women's Club on Saturday was a "going, going, gone" success. Mrs. James Doonan, general chairman of the auction, reported net profits were slightly over $100.

Everything from an exercycle to a TV set, went for bargain prices. We took several pictures at the event, but the milling enthusiasm of the group interfered with this dillitane camerawoman. However, this was the only phase of the auction which was not a success.

Mrs. Doonan was assisted by persons, too numerous to list. The refreshment committee was headed by Mrs. Leona Martin. This department was steadily patronized during the sale, for hotdogs, donuts, and coffee.

James Doonan, auctioneer, kept activities rolling at a "sales pace" from 10 a.m. to about 2 p.m.

Mrs. Doonan would like to extend a warm thank you to all Crest homeowners who generously donated items for sale and to all those persons who aided her with the auction. She said that many of the helpers were not even club members. She is also most grateful to all the folks who turned out and patronized this community affair.

Several weeks of committee planning, publicizing, soliciting, hauling and tagging of goods, drivers and the use of their trucks plus other volunteer hours, all contributed to a worthwhile effort, she said.

The Women's Club is gratified by the attendance, the results and most of all the team spirit that went into this community affair.

San Diego to Honor 200th Anniversary

San Diego will stage a major celebration of its 200th anniversary in 1969.

That was the decision today of a committee of San Diego leaders appointed by President Milton F. Fillius, Jr., of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce.

The committee unanimously resolved to recommend "to local government and to the community at large that it celebrate 1969 as its 200th birthday, and that studies be initiated to determine the appropriate observance."

Committee leaders interpreted the resolution as a decision to stage a celebration of international importance.

"San Diego already has staged two highly successful expositions. While our 1969 observance might not take the form of a world fair, we expect it to rate in international impact and in history as equal or of greater significance than the expositions of 1915-16 and 1935-36," Norman B. Foster, co-chairman of the committee, declared at a news conference that followed the committee meeting held at breakfast time at the San Diego Hotel.

"With the advantages that we have peculiar to San Diego and projects merging toward completion or advanced development in 1969, we cannot fail to have an anniversary event of international significance," Hamilton Marston, co-chairman of the committee, said. He referred to the completion or development of such major projects as Centre City, the Community Concourse, Mission Bay Park, rehabilitation of Old Town, master planning of Balboa Park and many other initiated or proposed community projects.

The 4-H Nickel-a-Dip supper Thursday, Feb. 13, at the Community Center was a big success, 165 people attended and enjoyed the many good, filling dishes. Nickel-a-Dip is a potluck, with a charge of a nickel a dish. The mystery dish of the evening was a delectable concoction of "rice topped with a chow mein-like mixture," the question being who brought it? Seventeen new members were initiated, bringing membership up to 65. 4-H is now the proud possessor of its own 36-cup coffeepot, bought with donations from parents of the group. Verna Woolery, during her term as hospitality chairman, will keep the pot at her home. Formerly whenever an event came up a coffee pot had to be borrowed.

'Time to Do Something for Someone Else' Says Harbison Canyon Resident

A "little bird" told me about Mrs. Hazel Stockman of Harbison Canyon. My lead told me that Mrs. Stockman has for several years, been knitting lovely garments for underprivileged people of Mexico.

I called on Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stockman last week to obtain this story. And learned that here at 514 St. George Road, where they have resided for the past eight years, it is a year 'round vacation retreat for birds.

Although not a bird, I occupied a garden vantage spot and observed contented species partake of Stockman hospitality. During our visit we talked about Mrs. Stockman's hobby.

The secret of a warm outlook on life, which the retired couple shares, is contained in her explanation of why she knits for charity. "I think the secret of happiness is to do something for someone else."

She went on to tell that three or four years ago she read a news article about the poorer people of Mexico. "I thought," she said, "that if everyone were to do some little thing for someone else . . . and what I knew best was knitting."

Forestry Study Group Has Meeting

The Citizen's Forestry Study Group met on Thursday evening, February 13, at the Descanso School, with approximately 50 people in attendance, to discuss fire hazards in the back country and what to do about them.

This group was organized in San Diego in 1951 to study and discuss the fire dangers in the back country, and to talk of ways to eliminate the hazards. Recently the group became active in this area, and will meet on the second Thursday of each month at the Descanso School, for the present, planning eventually to hold meetings in other areas of the county.

Everyone is invited to attend these meetings, and anyone interested may join.

Adult Group to Hear Mrs. Anderson

The Vernon Rood home on South Grade Road is to be the scene of an interesting meeting next Saturday afternoon, Feb. 22 at 2 p.m. when Mrs. Dorothea Anderson will provide the program. The group, a social organization developed from friends and members of the Alpine Community Congregational Church, has had the privilege of hearing Mrs. Anderson before and welcomes her back since she brings them something unusual and inspirational from her work.

Mrs. Anderson, formerly with the Council of Churches, organized the Sunday School material for the local church some years ago. She now teaches in the La Mesa-Spring Valley schools working with exceptionally bright children. This is a change for her since she used to teach the retarded pupils. Mrs. Anderson's family were missionaries.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

CAN YOU IDENTIFY THIS SCENE?

This is called "A Julian Eltinge Landscape." It is a view looking southeast, we think, over an area practically unpopulated when this picture was made in 1928. We know its general area but several people studying the picture have been uncertain just exactly the spot from which the picture was taken. Where, in fact, is this place? Is it the former home of Julian Eltinge? And is it looking over the present Palo Verde Ranch? Is that Bell Bluff over in the right hand corner on the skyline? Won't you help us solve this one?

If we can ascertain the location of this view we'd like to try for a present day picture of the same one for comparison. Send in your thoughts on this to the Echo. Join the picture game puzzle!

The picture with this column this week is of John Heinz and his sister, Mrs. Andre Pratt of Los Angeles, astride John's nice three year old gelding Sonny. John is a member of the Sycuan 4-H Horse Activity Group and he was giving his sister some instructions in basic horsemanship. John acquired Sonny as a yearling colt. He raised, broke and trained Sonny himself. The horse is a buckskin gelding, sired by Captain Silver who was a registered Morgan, and has developed into a fine gymkhana and trail horse through John's training.

Olive Wooldridge of Winnetka Ranch called a few days ago to report that she has been very busy recently sitting up nights helping with the foaling of four fine colts. One colt shows exceptional promise as a future sire for Winnetka. He is out of one of the mares brought from Germany that was in foal to a German stallion, and stood 42 inches at birth. That's a big colt, Olive. Two of the new foals are sired by the wonderful stallion, Money Trouble, and I plan to make a trip to Winnetka in the near future to see these, as Money Trouble stole my heart the few times I saw him, and I want to see his babies.

Security Bank Economy Report

Southern California's economic activity opened the new year on a record note, M. Ross Mallette, manager of Security First National Bank's Alpine Branch, reported today.

"Construction activity and real estate sales, two factors which fared strongly throughout most of 1963, were the major sources of strength in the local business upswing during January," Mallette stated.

As of January 24, Security's business index was reported at 137.1 (preliminary), a slight increase over December and more than seven percent above the same year-ago period. Bank clearings were virtually unchanged from December, while department store sales declined after adjustment for seasonal influence, Mallette continued.

Population growth continues to be a sustaining force for the Southland economy. During 1963, the area added approximately 420,000 new residents.

Security Bank's Research Department's report said that, as of January 1, 1964, the 14-county area population was estimated at 11.5 million, while the state's total was 18 million, Mallette concluded.

FOR MOTHERS OF CHILDREN ONLY

By ROSEMARIE RAIFSNIDER

A home without a sock bag is most likely a home being run on a neatly rational routine. Our home has a sock bag. In defense, I must say, however, that we do not let the socks fall where they may.

Instead we dump all socks regularly each morn on the living room floor, subsequently scooping them back into the bag sometime after all junior size feet have been shod and sent off to school.

The sock bag at our house is a large plastic one, left over from a king size box of laundry detergent. Kept in the hall closet, it is accessible to those minor members of the family who failed the rational routine bit.

At least 35 pairs, a dozen or so singles and an unknown quantity of cleverly dedicated rejects are stored therein. Some no doubt lingering agelessly in a futile indication that an inventory is long overdue.

Although colors and sizes vary greatly, one thing the socks have in common, is a standard shape. They are all foot shaped.

Back in the pre-child days when I subscribed to "House Beautiful" instead of "Parents Magazine," a practice like this would have left a blot on my spotless housekeeping conscience.

But my children have done an excellent job of "clean house" brain washing and I have found that some of the "spill-over" has kept my conscience also cleansed.

SCHOOL TALK

HARBISON CANYON

By SANDI CRAIN

The third graders are studying Mexico. They are making maracas out of paper mache.

There is a group of whales in the fourth grade. Whales is the name of a spelling group that is learning many more words than those found in the fourth grade spelling book. During their science period they are studying about turbine engines and the power of electricity, while in social studies they are studying about the California gold rush.

The fifth graders are also interested in their social studies. Their government committee is making a mace. The mace is a symbol of office. It consists of 13 ebony rods, a ball of silver, an eagle and a greed pedestal. They also have a weather committee which has already made two kinds of barometers. They are now working on a hydrometer.

Everyone in the sixth grade is trying to get to Mars and then back to Earth by book reports. The rocket ships are posted on a bulletin board.

Instead of a Valentine party on the 14th the sixth grade had a Mexican fiesta. Everyone brought a different kind of Mexican food. It was lots of fun.

Our choir had a talent show on the 14th. Obviously, there are many talented persons attending Harbison Canyon School.

ELECTION YEAR 1964

This year is what is generally termed the "Presidential" election year, the year in which the President of the United States is elected for a four year term.

Also, this year the people living in the Alpine area will have the opportunity of voting for candidates for a number of other positions to be filled. This includes one United States Senator (the position now held by Senator Clair Engle), a Congressman from the 35th District (the position now held by James B. Utt), a member of the Assembly for the 80th District (the position now held by Hale Ashcraft), a Supervisor for the 2nd District (the position now held by David W. Bird), and a member of the Board of Education for the 3rd District (the position now held by Patterson N. Hyndman).

During a Presidential election year, the contest for election to this high position steals the limelight and very often causes a lack of public interest in who the candidates might be for the other positions.

Each citizen who has the qualifications to vote should register and exercise his right to vote on all elections for the candidates who will represent them in public office. In fact, in our opinion, it is just as important, or more important, for each individual to be concerned with the election of persons to fill positions which have a more direct authority and influence over our everyday lives, as to get all steamed up over the "Presidential race."

We are now in the period during which time anyone interested in being a candidate for the public offices listed above must declare his intention and become qualified to be a candidate through the processes outlined by law. There are also a number of judicial offices to be voted on but the time for candidates to declare their intention for these offices has past.

Then comes the primary election to be held Tuesday, June 2, 1964, where the finalists will be determined, and then the general election on Tuesday, November 3rd, 1964, when the voters will make their final choices.

After the period for filing has past, we will keep our readers informed on who the candidates are for each of the positions to be filled.

floors and learned some things I didn't know before.

I did know, of course, that, at first, the floors in all our pioneer cabins were dirt, packed hard by much sweeping and use, often hard and smooth as rock. These floors are still found in some of the country cottages in Ireland where they look like polished stone. On this surface it is usual to find a pretty hand made rug or two, woven of wool grown and dyed by the maker and fashioned of her own design. These rugs are rare treasures. They also make the familiar hand braided and hand sewn rugs of old woolen rags. The article I read went back to the first floor decorations which, they said, were boughs of shrubs and trees brought in fresh and green and laid close together on the dirt floor to carpet it completely. These served not only as a covering but gave a sweet fragrance to the house in those days before deodorizers. When the boughs became dried and ugly they were taken out and replaced with fresh ones.

Another early floor treatment was done with the bare earth floor. It was swept smooth, then the housewife took a pointed stick and marked a design on the floor to resemble a patterned rug. This took some considerable skill, patience, and artistic talent, and the ladies vied with one another in the making of these designs. When an especially pleasing pattern was created it was copied and named for the lady who made it first. They say some old rug designs were first made thus on the dirt floors. In all the fine old castles the floors are of stone. Sometimes the skins of oxen and sheep were used on the cold stones.

But the long range favorite of countless homemakers has always been the handmade rag rug. None of the clever machine made rugs fashioned from synthetic materials can give us the feeling of home that the old rag rugs do give. Maybe it's the pioneer influence in most of us, the memories of memories told to us by our elders which make us long for the sturdy things they made and treasured. My favorite floor covering is a rag rug made by hand, especially for my house, of rags cut and sewn in the dozens of yards by Alpine women, and then woven by them on the hand loom at the Alpine Community Church. This handsome wool rug, rich in color, is durable and beautiful, expertly made and, somehow to walk on it is to walk with friends.

Initiative Backers File Petitions

Supporters of the initiative constitutional amendment to restore private control of private property have filed 764,625 signatures on petitions with county officials throughout the state. The total was announced today by L. H. Wilson of Fresno, chairman of the Committee for Home Protection, sponsor of the measure.

To put the measure on the next general election ballot requires 468,259 valid signatures of registered voters.

"This is the most massive expression of the will of the people in years," Wilson said. "They have shown conclusively by their eagerness to sign petitions that they want to vote on whether or not their traditional right to sell or rent their own property as they see fit should be restored."

Wilson said between 25 and 30 percent of the signatures turned in are usually not valid for one reason or another.

"It looks as if we have enough to qualify on this first filing," he commented, "but we can't assume that we do. We are starting immediately to gather more signatures for a supplemental filing and hope that will amount to 200,000 more signatures." He pointed out that the law allows 40 days additional for this purpose.

The Committee for Home Protection is sponsored by the California Real Estate Association, California Apartment Owners Association, some home-builders and other groups. Wilson is immediate past president of CREA.

The election code requires that a count of valid signatures must be made by county officials to the Secretary of State within 20 days after each filing, he said.

Fair Board

recommendations it makes are these:

The San Diego County Fair is one of the few fairs to keep abreast of changing conditions in a way that's meaningful to the populace.

The San Diego County Fair can and should lead its community toward new levels of growth and vitality.

Present site of the San Diego County Fair has limitations which must be remedied, or a new site must be sought to realize the full possibilities of fair development.

The study was authorized a year ago at a cost of $12,500.

Russell, named temporary secretary-manager, has been district controller for three years. Previously he was controller for the Mexican Light and Power Company of Mexico City, Mexico's largest public utility company. He has been a member of the Financial Executives' Institute since 1949 and a resident of La Jolla since 1952.

The Fair's new building, construction of which will start soon, will be named the D. Robert Jones Youth Center in recognition of the late fair manager's lifetime dedication to youth.

ALPINE RESCUED FROM LEDGE

Dr. Mildred H. Bredeson, an Alpine Chiropractor who operates the Sunny Knolls Rest Home on South Tavern Road, was rescued from a rocky ledge on Dehesa Falls last Thursday.

previously been instructed to obtain prices on a "pumper" fire truck. He reported that he was still obtaining prices and would submit a report as soon as he had more information. He further reported that he had obtained prices for hose of the proper size to be used with the pumper, which he stated would cost approximately $1.90 per lineal foot.

The Commissioners decided that since a pumper truck would only be useful after fire hydrants were installed that no purchase would be made until after a fire hydrant plan had been developed.

A legal opinion from the County Counsel on the responsibility of the Commissioners and the District personnel had been received and was read by the members. The opinion explained the personal liability in the operation of the equipment used by the firemen in the performance of their duties.

E. L. Freeland, who was recently appointed by the Board of Supervisors as a member of the Board of Fire Commissioners to fill the vacancy created by the death of Dick Robinson, was present as his first attendance as a Fire Commissioner at last Monday's meeting.

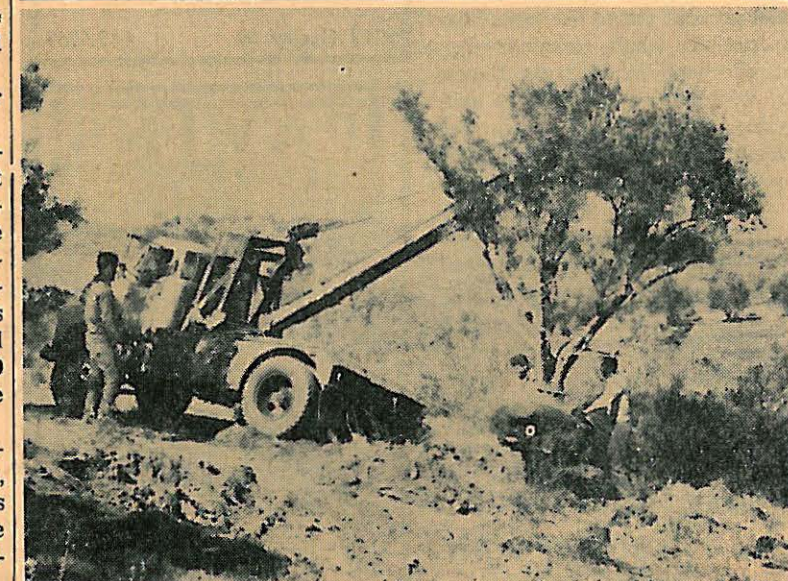

with the Doctor's dog, Butch. The dog ran ahead and became trapped on a narrow ledge approximately 60 feet from the base of the falls. Dr. Bredeson tried to reach her dog and became trapped herself when she could neither reach the dog or make a safe return.

Dr. Bredeson's companions walked to the nearby ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brown and asked for help in getting the Doctor and her dog down from the ledge. Sheriff Deputy D. K. Van Hooser answered the call for assistance, and with the help of Mr. Brown and two long ropes, made the rescue. The rocks were so slick that Deputy Van Hooser had to remove his boots and socks in order to obtain a footing while being lowered by ropes to reach the dog.

Church to Celebrate 70th Anniversary

The Alpine Community Church will celebrate its 70th anniversary with a dinner to be held in Fuller Hall, 6:30 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 21. The Ladies Guild will provide the meat dish and those attending should bring a salad, vegetable or dessert dish to pass and their own tableware.

Following the dinner there will be a guest speaker.

locations. Each tree to be moved is carefully selected by a representative of the tree surgery company to meet the specifications of the persons to whom the trees are being delivered.

There were three trees of uniform size and shape transported to La Jolla on last Monday's delivery.

The olive grove from which the trees were moved is on the property owned by Mrs. William W. Jenny of Los Angeles. The caretaker of her property stated that a number of olive trees have previously been transplanted from the grove to a number of locations throughout the County. He stated that they were especially desired by banks for use in landscaping around their branches within the County.

Woman's Club to Honor Washington

George Washington's birthday will be observed next Tuesday, Feb. 25, at the meeting of the Alpine Woman's Club.

Program and Music Chairman, Mrs. Orville Lusk, has written a series of colorful and informative sketches of the life and character of George Washington as revealed in his letters and addresses. The sketches will be presented by Club members, Mmes. L. E. Peterson, Orville Palmer and Pete Putnam, under the able direction of Mrs. Lusk. The players will be attired in colorful costumes of the period. Mrs. Mike Liebert will be back stage in charge of make-up, props and curtain. The grand finale will be group singing by the players and the Alpinettes, Mmes. Judy Ellis, Elna Bratt, and Jerry Webb.

Mrs. Daniel Westfall will be hostess for the day and she has chosen Mmes. R. S. Fagan and LeRoy Simms as her assistants. Mrs. Jim Dan Steger will be in charge of the decorations which will be carried out in the George Washington theme.

Mrs. Clifford F. Benton, Jr., and her two children flew down from San Francisco last Sunday to spend the week at the parental home Mr. and Mrs. John H. Peters. Mr. Benton will join the family later in the week. On Sunday the 23rd, the two Benton babies will be baptized at the Community Church where the baptismal font is a memorial to their paternal grandfather. The babies are age three months and 23 months.

Al and Renie Adams attended an area meeting of the Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation in Yuma, Ariz., last Saturday. In addition to the meeting was a tour of Imperial Dam and the All-American Canal, a visit to a date farm to see how dates are raised and processed, and a visit by Renie with the other women to the Yuma Prison. After an enjoyable dinner at the Flamingo Motel restaurant, they drove back to Alpine that same evening and hit the weekend rain in the mountains.

From Virginia Beach, Virginia, we have a cute little birth announcement beginning, "Here's what we've got to be proud about," and going on to say that Carol Candace arrived on Jan. 28 at 1:59 p.m., weighing in at eight pounds five and a half ounces, 19½ inches long, to the proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nyle Nation. Bev Nation will be remembered by the many friends she made here when she worked as Dr. Woodall's secretary.

Who were the two neighbors seen recently searching frantically in Mr. Ernest Wright's drain? Could it be they were looking for something?

Auren and Jeanne Pierce left last Sunday for a week of skiing at Mammoth. Their children were promised that they could go along also if they brought their school grades up, and Dennis was the only one of their four children who qualified so he got to make the trip with his parents.

Miss Melinda Roth and Mr. Robert Clinton are two brand new teen-agers effective this past week, having both celebrated their thirteenth birthday.

A stranger suddenly becomes a friend when you venture to the U-Wash and forget to take your soap.

Mrs. Basil Spear is feeling better these days, we are pleased to report. She was under considerable strain, as was her husband also, for the time of the Panama trouble days since her only daughter, Crystal, and her family are down there. Mrs. Spear let us share a fascinating letter from Crystal telling of the violence which we heard of in the news but which she and her three children and husband witnessed first hand. Crystal's husband is Lowell K. Marcus, manager of Goodyear's holdings in Panama.

Mrs. Thomas Hill, Sr., was hostess to a farewell luncheon for a friend, Mrs. Louis Hayes, who is moving to La Mesa. The luncheon was held last Thursday, February 13th. The guests included, Lona Schaefer, Jean McCullough, May Butcher, Margaret Vitalich, Adele Sells, Connie Johnson, and the honored guest, Mrs. Hayes. The afternoon was spent in an enjoyable game of Canasta.

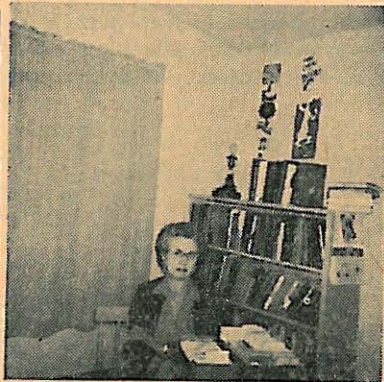

Mr. C. P. Vancil has been appointed to serve as 6th District Deputy Chief of Staff of the Veterans of World War I by the National Deputy Chief of Staff, Joe Kotva. Congratulations, Pete.

Carmen and Jack Hoistad had a number of visitors during the past two weeks. Last week Jack's three brothers together with their wives spent a few days with the Hoistads. His brothers, Albert and Ed and their wives, Julia and Edna, are visiting in California from North Dakota. Oscar and Hilga Hoistad have recently built a new home at Sun City near Hemet. This week Carmen's son and his family, Paul and Joan Bailey and their three daughters Debra, Denise and Diane, spent two days in Alpine. Paul says it is good to enjoy the clear fresh air in Alpine after the smog at their home in Whittier.

Several ladies from Alpine traveled to Lemon Grove to attend a Reciprocity Tea held in the Lemon Grove Club House last Friday. Marcy's entertained with a lovely fashion show. The afternoon tea was attended by Mrs. Lenore Lusk Mrs. Connie Johnson, Mrs. Rennie Hollett, Mrs. Tom Hill, Sr., Mrs. Harry Colby and Mrs. Jean McCullough.

Mrs. Charlie (Vern) Podvin

Mrs. Charles Podvin, Fern to her "reading family," checks books at the library on the Crest, 113 No. Park Dr. Mrs. Podvin has been librarian since July 1951 when the library opened. The little building behind the country clubhouse is open on Monday and Wednesday from 3 to 5 p.m. and Friday from 5 to 7 p.m.

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Montague, set up housekeeping on La Cresta Heights Road last weekend. The young couple, who were married Jan. 13, are just across the street from Gene's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Montague.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sanders moved into their temporary home two weeks ago on Wall Place. Grading was begun on their lot on East Lane last weekend and the Sanders hope to take possession of their brand new home in June or July. We'll be looking forward, with the Sanders, to the completion of their dream house.

Among the latest "mountaineers" calling Crest home are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Peterson, from South Carolina, who have settled on Lento Lane. The family will make California home, as Peterson expects to be stationed here with the Marine Corps for some time. While Mrs. Peterson and the baby get acquainted in the neighborhood, six-year-old Sandy is learning "kindergarten rules" at Crest School.

The senior Montague is a well-known square dance caller and I, for one, would like to see him put to work, here on the hill, as caller for some interested "squares." Several previous attempts to get a club going failed but if enough people show renewed interest, Montague has said he will give it another try. First thing on the agenda is for all you young seniors, old teenagers, inbetween type parents and anyone else with "step-pin" ideas, to call either Tom at 444-9006, or myself, 442-9310 and state your desire. Tell all your friends and we'll see what happens from here.

Mr. John Wade of Crest Blvd. is recovering from a serious operation he underwent Feb. 13 for a tumor and bleeding peptic ulcer. Wade was stricken suddenly at his home, Nov. 14. Mrs. Wade told that it was the prompt action of the Crest Fire Department, with the rescuator, which she credits with saving her husband's life, at this time. Wade spent six weeks in the hospital on that occasion, but will be ending this stay in a week or 10 days. We certainly wish Mr. Wade a quick recovery and continued good health.

Mr. Ken Howard, president of Crest Public Utilities, was host on Valentine's Day, at an "out to dinner birthday party" for his wife, Evelyn. The Howards, who live on Highline Trail, are long-time residents of the Crest. Mr. Howard was instrumental in obtaining water 15 years ago and has been a veritable backbone of the water district for the past 20 years.

The ladies of the the Crest Women's Club report a delightful time had at the Feb. 18 social meeting. Hostesses for the afternoon luncheon were Mrs. E. Grenier, Mrs. George Lacey and Mrs. Bertha Hinkle.

It's an even dozen grandchildren now, for Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Dutcher, owners of Suncrest Market on Juanita Lane. Son, Michael and his wife, Eleanor, of the College area, became parents of a boy, Daniel Joseph, on Feb. 7. Mr. Dutcher commented he is now "ready for the moon." However, kindly grandfathers are too valuable to lose, so we advise Mrs. Dutcher an eye on Danny's new grand-dad.

Mrs. Marie Cook, of Lento Lane, has a new grandson, born Feb. 8 to her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Cook of Palos Verdes. Adrian Andrew weighed in at slightly less than 8 lbs. His grandmother plans a visit to Los Angeles soon, before the bouncing boy has gained too many ounces.

DEERHORN VALLEY

Reckon we had a dash of just about everything in Mother Nature's bag of tricks last Sunday morning—snow, rain, hail, thunder and lightning. Let's hope that this was a preview of the "big rain" that's due the latter part of this month and next month.

Just about all the telephone service on the "Hill" was out last Sunday morning. Lighting struck the B-box (big telephone box on a pole) down at Charlie Bratton's ranch around 9:30 a.m. and blew all the carbons, and put us all out of service. Telephone repairmen effected temporary repairs by Sunday afternoon, and started effecting permanent repairs and replacing burnt-out carbons in subscribers' protectors early this week.

We welcome the sailor home from the sea—back to his first love, Crow-Vallee Ranch," Joe Crowley, Chief Engineer on the towboats, was back with us this weekend along with Connie and the boys, and with Kate and Bob Stephovich, also a chief engineer on the boats, sharing the weekend with the Crowleys. Joe hopes he'll have the rest of the month without recall, so do all of us, Joe. P.S. Next time, Joe don't try to shake hands with a chain saw, especially on your first weekend home, next time you might not be so lucky.

A howdy and a welcome from all of us in Deerhorn Valley to Jimmy Walsh, who's staying with Sami and Hugh Arledge at their Happy Day Ranch. Hugh finally gave in and let civilization, in the guise of a telephone, invade his mountain retreat. Let's face it, it is a necessary evil.

Homer Haughey, chairman of the Signboard Committee of the Deerhorn Valley Civic Club, has brought the community signboard, down at Meanea's ranch, up-to-date, and has given the second signboards to all members except the following: V. Parker, J. Fouts, C. Lawton, L. Lawton, H. Lawton, L. Cochran, F. Crews, B. Lee, E. Walker, and J. Thurston. Would these members please pick up their signboards at the Lodge at their earliest convenience.

Have just learned that Mrs.
 Harold (Ruth) Hershey was in the hospital for two weeks in January with a bad cough and cold. She is still not able to do her housework, and would love to have callers, as she is home alone all day while her husband is working in San Diego.

Forty members and friends of Mt. Empire Masonic Club enjoyed a delicious Swiss steak dinner at the Stone House in Campo on Friday evening of last week. The tables were decorated with Valentine trees, hearts, candy, and paper place mats. Whist was enjoyed after dinner, and there were eight tables. Everyone seemed to have a wonderful time. The chairmen were Helen Smyth, Dell Nielsen and Fay Farris.

Axel Lawrence, husband of Ruth Lawrence suffered a slight heart attack last week. He is back home after a visit to the doctor, and will have to be very careful, as this is the second attack. Mr. and Mrs.
 Lawrence recently moved permanently to Lake Morena to live.

Mr. and Mrs. Lam of Wyoming have been visiting the Hugh Smyths. They have a daughter living in San Diego. Mrs. Lam is the sister of Mrs. Smyth.

Mr. and Mrs. Casey Jones made their wedding anniversary and to attend the rodeo being held there.

Bob Miller was the National League's stingiest "gopher ball" pitcher last season. He yielded only seven homers in 187 innings, an average of only one every 26.7
 innings. During his last 19 games, 67 2/3 innings, he gave up one and in all of his 19 relief jobs 55 2/3, he gave up none.

 sixth grade teacher for first vice president, Mr. Carr for second vice president, Mrs. Day for third vice president, Mrs. Martin for secretary, Mrs. Brink for treasurer, Mrs.
 Fritz for auditor, and Mr. Piper for historian.

Erma Beidler, PTA president, announced a magazine luncheon to be held April 6 at Valley Ho, honoring the work done by the magazine chairman. Erma Beidler and June Hatherill will attend as representatives, with Helen Willis as alternate. The fifth grade parents had the highest percent members present, of the 30 who attended.
 Guests included Mrs. White, Mrs.
 Mathis, and Mr. Piper, teachers at Jamul Las Flores; Mr. Raymond, principal, and Mr. M. O. Evans, member of the school board. June Hatherill won the door prize.

Mrs. White's first graders and Mrs. Pope's third graders celebrated Valentine's Day with Valentine post offices. Both classes recently visited the Jamul post office and learned how mail is handled.

We had a big plumbing problem this week. All caused by a nail driven into a water pipe when our house was built three years ago.
 When rust broke free, water began seeping from a height of about three feet in the wall between laundry and closets, radiating to a width of about 10 feet. We paid a very reasonable plumbing bill and all that remains is a plastering job.

 Mrs. Stockman is included in this delivery.

Since knitting is a complicated hobby, counting stitches time consuming, some of the boxes also contain machine sewn outfits. But she still prefers knitting to sewing.

"I like to picture the children as I knit," said Mrs. Stockman.
 Although she does not see them personally, she does know that the recipients are peoples who "never had anything pretty or new before."

The years of being a housewife were filled with the joy of raising their son Robert, Mrs. Stockman told, and sharing his life as the father of two children.

The younger Stockmans lived nearby and saw much of the senior family. Little Suzie visited her grandparents once for a whole busy, happy summer. Those years ended all too soon. Nine years ago Robert Stockman was killed in an auto accident and a year later Suzie died of leukemia at the age of 10 1/2.

"I think it's about time I concentrated on someone else," said Mrs. Stockman. Last fall, when a friend donated a supply of yarn ends and material pieces, Mrs.
 Stockman had a field day.

"Oh, did I have fun," she said, telling about the brightly colored sunsuits sewed, and the many pairs of sock shoes knitted. "Perhaps these went to a hospital somewhere," she said.

Mrs. Hoistad explained that the carloads she has been sending for 30 years, go to San Vincente, 65 miles below Ensenada, or to the neglected interior of Tijuana and Mexicali, "where the real needy have no one else to help them."

The beauty of the grounds around the home reveal that the Stockmans are avid gardeners as well as being nature lovers.

In the rear, a large tilled area awaits the planting of a vegetable garden. Near the garage a sprinkling of oats marked the spot where Mr. Stockmans' "pet" wild rabbit breakfasts. The bunny must be wary however, for neglect of the oats will find them lunched upon by the many birds which daily enjoy their private "resort."

Here are some other bird facts
 I learned on my visit. The five member red-cap woodpecker family have not arrived yet to enjoy drinking from their favorite bird bath. There is one mockingbird who never bothers the fruit trees.
 The Bluejays scrap a lot. One of the Towhees is named Billy. Tit-mouses have little top knots on their heads. Last year 50 lbs. of grapes were left for the Lennets, Sparrows, Wren-tits and Robins who stayed on for the winter.

Seagulls and pigeons on Shelter Island also know a gift horse when they see the Stockman car coming. Frequently during summer, the couple motors to the bay with bread and wild seed. The scavengers of the sea "get mighty hungry when those fishing boats are inactive," said Mr. Stockman.

As I left, Mrs. Stockman seemed to be summing up her whole philosophy on life when she said,
 "There are so many wonderful things in the world to enjoy."

Privately, to me, Mr. Stockman made a good point also when he said, "My wife is a marvelous little lady. I'm not looking to swap her for anything."

ALPINE GARDENER

By JEAN McCULLOUGH

The Alpine gardener is the fortunate recipient of a nice young crabapple tree which came from the Pine Acres Tree nursery here in Alpine, whose proprietors, Carl and Margie Rose, went to considerable trouble to produce it for me. For, not all deciduous fruit bearing trees do well in a climate as warm as ours. Cherries, and plums, and some apples do better in a colder climate, but we have persimmons and figs and others that make up for them. As I have mentioned at an earlier date, the Pine Acres Tree Nursery is endeavoring to stock trees, etc., suitable to Alpine.

After you get all the trees and shrubs bought and planted, buy some more of them to replace the ones which have died for want of water before we were hooked up to the Colorado River water, for you know trees do a lot for the climate around us.

Next turn your attention to the planting of more bulbs, artichokes, asparagus, horseradish, etc. These, of course, for the kitchen garden. Then start planting gladiolus corms, as many of them as you have room for, then three weeks later plant more of them, and at the same intervals later on as long as you care to, so you will have a succession of these lovely blooms on into the fall. Plant the corms four to five inches deep in sandy soil and two to three inches deep in heavy soil, and five inches or so apart pointed side up. Dust the corms with fungicide before you plant them by putting them in a bag with the fungicide and shaking them gently. Do not put fertilizer on the corms when you plant them. Wait until the shoots are at least five inches tall.

When the blooming period is over and the foliage looks unsightly, dig them up, wash them off and put them in a box of shavings or sawdust until they are thoroughly dry. Then pull the tops

Mother's Only

I no longer harbor dirty thoughts about things like piles of socks dumped on the living room floor, etc.

In short, I no longer worry about not having a perfect house all the time.

If, at times, my "house beautiful" conscience gets dusty, I have only to pick it up and shake it in the sun.

There in the peaceful sunshine of common sense, I can forget the sock bag surfeit, and contemplate other household enigmas. For, I recall those same women's magazines said it was far more important for a mother to keep track of where the children are, and what they are doing, rather than, for example, where their socks are hidden.

After all, what point is there in spending all that time, morning after morning, helping first one child and then another, hunt for socks? The fact that mother knows she put some in a drawer only yesterday, means nothing. Today they escape detection.

Sometimes this is because they have landed atop a traverse rod, behind a dresser, or were stuffed in a dolly bed, a substitute for a miniature pillow.

Now, of course, we can locate all socks pronto, neatly stuffed in the communal detergent bag. Here at our house anyway, the lost sock problem is a trauma of the past.

Sometimes I wonder, though, what I would do if some ill-fated morn the sock bag were to turn up missing.

off and store the corms in flat trays until it is time to plant them again.

We'll have more to say about other new plants coming along in great abundance in the nurseries now, or why not start a lot of plants from seed you have gathered from time to time?

200th Anniversary

tended the committee's breakfast session, urged the group to commit itself to a declaration that a 1969 celebration would be staged. He declared that he and other city officials are highly in favor of such an observance.

The year 1969 will be the 200th anniversary of the dedication of Mission San Diego de Alcalá by Father Junipero Serra in 1769.

Most committee members expressed the opinion that the group should not commit itself to the staging of an exposition, fair, or any single major event.

"We want to maintain maximum flexibility in planning and we will consider a wide variety of suggestions from all elements and areas of the community," Marston said.

The committee unanimously resolved to meet regularly on the last Friday of each month. The co-chairmen were authorized to appoint "a small study group to present specific recommendations."

Robert F. Hale, manager of the Chamber of Commerce's World Trade Department and former consul general for the United States at Tijuana, B. C., Mexico, was named by General Manager John F. Borchers of the Chamber to set up a "clearing house" for the committee for ideas for the celebration. The committee requested that a Chamber staff member be made available for the assignment.

Foster pointed out that the committee has not adopted a name for itself nor for the celebration, and that there is a great deal of planning necessary.

Members of the committee, in addition to the two co-chairmen, are John Alessio, John F. Borchers, Mayor Curran, Charles C. Dail, Greer Ferver, Charles C. Hartman, T. M. Heggland, Graydon Hoffman, William E. Quirk, Harry Sugarman, Guilford Whitney, Lloyd Winburn, Tom Fletcher, James D. Forward, Jr., Robert M. Golden and Robert F. Hale.

COKE'S KITCHEN

Information this week from the booklet "Honey—some ways to use it," published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. We see so many bee hives scattered over our Alpine hills and honey, the nutritional food it is, thought you might like these recipes to add to your collection.

Distinctly flavored honeys come from orange blossoms, from the wild sage of the foothills of California and star-thistle of the Pacific Coast, buckwheat, mesquite and fireweed. Important commercial honeys come mostly from the clovers or clover blends.

Unless in a tightly sealed container, honey should be stored in a dry place, otherwise it is likely to absorb moisture and ferment. Honey may be kept almost indefinitely, if tightly covered, at ordinary room temperature with a low humidity. Higher temperatures injure both the flavor and color of honey. For cakes or other baked products made with honey, the oven temperature should be low. Honey can also be substituted for recipes calling for molasses with minor adjustments to the basic recipe.

"I'll be with you in the squeezing of a lemon." —Old Colonial saying.

HONEY COOKIES

½ cup butter
½ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
½ cup honey
2 cups flour
2 tps baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1 cup finely chopped nuts
Cream the butter and add the sugar gradually. Mix the egg and honey and add with the sifted dry ingredients and nuts to the butter and sugar mixture. Chill the dough, then form into a roll the desired size and wrap in heavy waxed paper. When firm, cut into thin slices with a sharp knife. Bake in a moderately hot oven from 10 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned.

HONEY DROP COOKIES

¾ cup butter
1 egg, beaten
¾ cup honey
2 T milk
2 cups sifted flour
2 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1 cup chopped nuts
½ cup chopped dates, figs or other dried fruits
½ cup chopped candied citron or pineapple
Cream the butter. Mix the beaten egg, honey and milk. Add the nuts and fruits to the sifted dry ingredients and add alternately with the liquid to the butter. Drop by small spoonfuls on a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderately hot oven for about 10 minutes.

San Diego Symphony Presents Concert

Music lovers of San Diego welcome back the famous American pianist, Byron Janis, who appears with Earl Bernard Murray and the San Diego Symphony Orchestra Tuesday, Feb. 25th, at 8:30 p.m. in Russ Auditorium.

Mr. Janis has performed extensively in Western Europe and in Yugoslavia during the past summer, winning special triumphs in Paris, where he was hailed as "one of the great pianists of our time." Mr. Janis first played in public at the age of 9 in Pittsburgh's Carnegie Hall and by the time he was 15 he appeared as soloist with Arturo Toscanini and the famed NBC Symphony. At eighteen after three years of recitals and appearing with orchestras throughout the United States, Byron Janis played his first recital in New York's Carnegie Hall, an event which stirred tremendous excitement in the musical world. Its success launched the pianist on the career which has led to the top of his profession. Janis made his European debut with the Concertgebouw of Amsterdam with five concerts in 1952. He has since made numerous concert tours in Western Europe, four in South America and last fall was sent by the State Department to play in the Soviet Union as part of the Cultural Exchange Program.

For his concert here with Earl Bernard Murray and the San Diego Symphony he will perform the Rachmaninoff Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini. The orchestra will play the Hindemith Metamorphosis on Themes by Weber, Brahms Tragic Overture and Haydn's Symphony No. 60.

that he has a fine new home and a lot of attention and affection and his lessons aren't hard at all, but a lot of fun.

The Horse Science School run by Dr. M. E. Ensminger has announced its 1964 schedule. The school will be held at Fresno, California, on June 15 through 25, and on the campus at Wisconsin State College, River Falls, July 20 through 30. The school will offer at both sessions a concentrated 6-day course in Horse Science which will consist of elementary instruction in the principles of horse breeding, nutrition, management, health, selecting and judging, equitation, farrier science and training. They will also offer an advanced Horse Science 4-day course consisting of advanced application and interpretation in horse breeding, feeding, management, disease prevention and parasite control, selecting and judging, equitation, farrier science and training. To take the advanced course one must have either Horse Science or equivalent training or experience or the approval of the Director of the Schools. Horsemen and horse lovers who would like to receive additional information regarding enrollment and the courses offered should write to Dr. M. E. Ensminger, Ph.D., Director, Horse Science School, 3699 East Sierra Avenue, Clovis, California.

A number of Alpine area horsemen are tentatively planning to attend the classes of the Horse Science School at Fresno next June, and from everything I have heard about the classes held last summer, this is a very worthwhile program. I sure hope that I will have the opportunity to get away and attend the beginners classes. Maybe I might see some of you there.

program featured a complete tour of the All-American Canal, where they learned how it operates. The day was completed with a dinner and program at the Flamingo Motel.

Tony and Nellie White have returned home after a month's vacation, visiting relatives in Montana and Iowa.

Smokey and Carolyn Harlin are the parents of a new baby girl, Jamie Lu, who arrived on Feb. 15 at the El Cajon Valley Hospital, weighing in at 7 lbs. 3 1/2 oz. She was greeted home by her sister, Linda, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Red Bryant are also parents of a new baby girl, Karen Marie, who arrived several weeks ago.

Jimmy Martin and his cousin, Ellen Walters, who share Feb. 12 as their birthdays, celebrated their seventh together at a party held on Feb. 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Walters of Lakeside. A rather unique part of the evening was dinner by candlelight, after a power failure put out the lights for approximately 30 minutes in the Lakeside area. Twenty-two members of their families were present to help with the celebration.

A traffic accident claimed another life in our area over the weekend. Timothy J. Clodfelter, a Navy aviation electronics technician died in El Cajon Valley Hospital of injuries suffered when his car went out of control and turned over on Highway 80, one mile west of Highway 79, in the early hours of Sunday morning.

The MYF has installed their new officers to serve for this year, and they are Jackie Thompson, president; Lorna Henriksen, vice president; Ruth Thompson, secretary; Mike Stephenson, treasurer; Tom Grzechowski, chairman of Christian Fellowship; Phyllis Henriksen, chairman of Christian Witness, and Jean Van Oort, chairman of Christian Outreach.

Several members of the MYF visited the MYF in El Cajon on Saturday to hear a missionary from Ghana.

Steven Vernon Gallegos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Gallegos, was baptized in a ceremony on Feb. 12, by Father Prince at the Blessed Sacrament Church. The godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Catala, who are also the great aunt and uncle of the baby. Steve and Bonnie entertained friends and relatives afterward with a dinner and party in their home.

Room mothers were busy last week, planning Valentine parties which were held in each of the rooms at school on Friday.

A going away party was held at the home of Steve and Bonnie Gallegos on Saturday night, for Bonnie's brother, Bernie Siekert, who is going in the army. Among the many persons attending were Bernie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Siekert of Campo, and his grandmother, Mrs. Florence Parker, from Wyoming.

Don't forget the WSCS home-made cherry pie sale that will be held at Perkin's Store on Saturday, Feb. 22.

Dulzura - Barrett Junction

By LaVERNE POWELL

Mrs. Gertrude Farmer had a family reunion at her home. Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Nagel of Reseda, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Cale of El Cajon, Mrs. Lavana Bowman of Lawndale, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Davis of Barger, Texas, who will return to their home by way of Juarez, Mexico. Mrs. Hazel Sperry and Mr. and Mrs. Lefty Johnson of Dulzura were guests of Mrs. Farmer. The group visited school and students and guests enjoyed each other.

Miss Paula Ann Hite will be given a reception in honor of her first birthday. Paula's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Lewis and her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hite. All are residents of Tecate, Calif.

Miss Susan Jo Hite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hite, became the bride of William Lee Kuhn, Saturday, Feb. 15, in Encinitas at the home of David H. Williams. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Durr, grandparents of the bride, and other close members of the family attended.

Mmes. "Sir Red" Holcomb, Walt Hite, Peter Hite and Joe Powell attended a fashion show at the Hotel del Coronado sponsored by the Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary of which Mrs. Holcomb and Mrs. Peter Hite are members.

HARBISON

By BETTYE CARPENTER

This is their story and they're sticking to it. The John McConnell family and the Matthews family drove up to spend last weekend in a cabin in the Lagunas. When they thought about leaving Sunday they found they were snowed in. The two fellows hiked about 10 miles to get assistance and on Monday they hiked the last three miles back in to help the ladies and the children back to where they had cars waiting. McConnells had to leave their truck up there. Lucy said the funny part was when they tried to pack their way through snow with their backs and arms packed with all sorts of gear. Even the little ones were toting things. As I remember it, last weekend was quite nice even though a bit chilly and it's hard to picture this comical situation. Know they had lots of fun though and will remember this unusual experience a long time.

Ski and Ruth Scott and Scotty and Mabel Scott left Monday for a two weeks vacation with their trailer (or trailers, I didn't check how many trailers pulled out). They were going to spend one night with the Bakkes who are staying at Farrenkop's place on the river and then drive on up toward Hoover Dam.

About 4 a.m. Wednesday morning Tracy Lee Ferguson notified her parents that she would soon be born and put in her appearance a few hours later. She allowed her mommy to get to Grossmont Hospital in plenty of time and then arrived weighing 6 lbs, 10 ounces. In a few days she will join Terry Lynne, almost three, and Dawn, 17 months, in the home of Pug and Sandy Ferguson. Congratulations.

There was a lovely birthday party last Saturday night for Connie Vidal. It was held in the Community Hall and was well attended by her family and friends. Two bands provided the music—one a Mexican band and the other the Pharaohs. Dancing to suit everyone's taste was provided throughout the evening. A beautiful lavender and white cake with "Sweet Sixteen" on it was presented to Connie and cokes were also served. Connie opened many lovely gifts and we feel sure she had a very happy birthday and one that she will long remember.

MOTHER GRUNDY

By OLIVE WOOLDRIDGE

A group of local citizens and friends of Deerhorn Valley area have been meeting once a month for a get-together and like the idea of potluck dinners for the coming meetings. The next one coming up is Sunday, at 2 p.m. at Winnetka Ranch. Those attending should bring a main dish and dessert and their own table setting. All residents of the areas around Honey Springs Road and Mother Grundy Truck Trail are invited and, of course, guests are welcome. The subject of the program will be Farm Bureau, a description of its function and its active part in legislation that affects farmers and rural areas. Mr. J. E. McNutt will be the speaker.

Lois and Allen Lamb became the proud parents of a son, Troy Le-cota, on Feb. 17 at Grossmont Hospital. He weighed 7 pounds, 7/8 ounces at birth. The Lambs are living at Winnetka Ranch.

MT. LAGUNA

By KATHY McMANUS

Mr. Bill "Obie" Oberlin arrived home from the hospital last Monday, Feb. 10. "Obie" spent 17 days in the Naval Hospital after suffering a heart attack and then became sick with pneumonia. We all hope that he will be back on his feet soon, and stays healthy for many more days to come.

Rev. and Mrs. Moore arrived home Wednesday, Feb. 12, from their four-week vacation in the desert. The Moores stayed at the Golden Lantern Trailer Park at Desert Hot Spring near Palm Springs. While they were away the Moores traded in their old trailer for a used but newer model. Their new trailer is blue and they say it's real nice and cozy inside. The Moores also enjoyed riding on the Tramway in San Jacinto Mountain.

Forty members of the Mt. Empire Parents and Boosters Club met Thursday, Feb. 13, at the high school cafeteria to discuss the fiesta to be held in April. This isn't a very big attendance considering that there are almost 300 students that attend the Mt. Empire Junior-Senior High School. The parents in this district might go to one or two of these meetings and see what they can do to help our district, which can use all the help it can get.

PINE VALLEY

By JUDY MULLINS

Welcome back to Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Major, who have just recently moved back into their Pine Valley home. They have been living in Imperial Valley, and have been greatly missed by all of their many friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Major recently were dinner guests at the home of their good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Houck. We sincerely hope that Mrs. Major, who was for a while quite ill, is now well on her way to a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wellband and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Houck went to San Diego on February 19 to take Uncle Bert Bangs out for a birthday dinner, to help him celebrate the 86th anniversary of his birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Houck took a trip last week to Laguna Beach to visit with Mrs. Ray Barnes. While they were there, they also enjoyed visiting with Mrs. Barnes' son, Jack, who recently came to California from Minneapolis, Minn., to attend his father's funeral.

Don't forget to come to the Square Dance at the Pine Valley Improvement Club on Saturday, Feb. 22. Everyone is welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pingely have recently left Pine Valley to spend a week in Desert Hot Springs where they have parked their new 10 feet wide, 55 feet long mobile home. They intend to leave their new trailer at Desert Hot Springs on a permanent basis.

There is going to be a home-made cherry pie sale on Feb. 22 at the Perkins Brothers Grocery Store in Descanso. The sale will start at 9 a.m. If you like cherry pie, you're sure to enjoy one of these home-made ones.
