The new offices were provided through the joint efforts of the Directors of the Lakeside Irrigation District and Rio San Diego MWD. Both districts will share the Board of Directors.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LaFORCE

If you haven't been out these early summer evenings sniffing the air, then you've missed one of the best reasons for living in the mountains. The perfume of every flower that blooms here is scenting the air of early evening. Somehow, this scent of summer's beginning, seems sweetest just at sunset. There's the last of the wild lilac, and the yucca, the Johnny-jump-ups, and the blue flowering sage; there's the first of the larkspur, the wild sweet pea, and penstamen to name a few of the many natives that give the air its special blend of perfume. Breathe deeply of it and you can sort out the separate scents on the soft evening breeze. Add to it the perfumes of your own and neighbor's flower beds, flowering trees, fruits growing, berries ripening, and grasses beginning to dry. This sum of sweet smells would be lost if it did not have the clean mountain air to ride upon. Flower gardens never smell so good in town where a trace, at least, of traffic fumes must be mingled with their perfume. Breathe deep and give

VFW Pit Barbecue At Viejas Sunday

The pit barbecue being held as a benefit for the new VFW Post at the Viejas Indian Reservation will be held Sunday, June 7th, at the Reservation.

In addition to the barbecue there will be Indian dances, including the eagle dance and the hoop dance, performed by the Little Road Runners. Also members of the San Diego Sky Divers Club will put on a demonstration of sky diving over the Reservation, landing nearby the barbecue area. Live music will be furnished for dancing, and free horseback rides will be offered for those who want to explore the Reservation.

The tickets are $1.00 for adults and 75 cents for children. All proceeds will go toward establishing the new all-Indian VFW Post which will have its headquarters in the Community House on the Reservation.

Alpine School Graduation June 8

Graduation exercises of the Alpine School will be held Monday, June 8, at 8 p.m. in the Alpine School Auditorium.

Theme for the evening will be "Our American Heritage" and will be the subject of the major address which will be given by four students, Celeste Irvine, Lawrence Dyer, Marion Bell and Donna Schwenck.

There will be 73 graduates in this class. Special awards of merit and scholarship will be presented by Mr. Paul C. Clay, District Superintendent.

The graduating class will present a gift to the school in the form of the first school song of Alpine School. Entitled "Hail to Alpine," the words written by the students are sung to the tune of Cornell's Alma Mater, according to Mr. Leo Ryan, Alpine School principal.

Bees Swarming -- House Hunting

Alpine bees have been busier than usual seeking new homes.. around the community. Several swarms have been caught by local bee men. Here we see Hollis Mancil, of South Grade Road, getting ready to invite a nice swarm of honey bees to move into one of his bee gums. The bees are hanging up in the branches of the pretty flowering acacia tree in the George and Mary Allen, and W. A. Burnett place on Tavern Road. Mr. Burnett brought the ladders for Mr. Mancil to get the bees down, but says he will get out of the way when the little honey makers begin to buzz around. With the aid of the smoker, he holds in his hand, Mr. Mancil tranquilized the bees and with a big soft brush swept them off into the bee box.

The bees swarm, leaving their home hive, when there are too many queens. One of the extra queens gathers a following around her (we don't know how she manages this!) and they all take off together. Alighting on a branch or bush the worker bees surround the queen, forming the round mass of bees we call a swarm. They keep her in their center to protect her. If she is captured in the new hive they will remain also; if she is not they will follow her. The queen was successfully brushed into this new hive we know, for the workers went immediately in it also. Only one queen bee to a hive is the rule of the bee world.

George and Ardelle Craft of Morena Village announce the birth of a grandson, named Gregory Scott Craft. He is the son of Dean and Cladia Craft of Lemon Grove. Dean's mother, Mrs. Paul Craft of Illinois was here to welcome the new baby. Congratulations.

Mt. Empire Woman's Club enjoyed a wonderful day on their last meeting day a week ago Wednesday, but instead of having a meeting, 25 members attended the matinee of Mad, Mad, Mad World at the Cinerama Theatre, and 14 of them enjoyed dinner afterwards at Anthony's East of El Cajon. The rest went to Margaret's near Fletcher Hills for dinner. It was a very funny show, and everyone agreed there should have been a few more "Mads" in the title.

On Thursday of last week the Homemakers met at the home of Peggy Fisher, north of Highway 94, for a potluck luncheon and meeting. It was held in the patio, and everyone spoke of the delicious food; 18 were present. Lucille Hoitt of San Diego, formerly of Buckman Springs Road attended, and Mrs. Maddox of Buckman Springs Road became a new member. Marie Martin brought her two houseguests from the Los Angeles area. It was a lovely day.

Pedge Beckett and Bee Boyd drove to Yuma, Arizona on Wednesday evening of last week to attend the graduation of a relative of Mrs. Beckett. They spent the night at the home of the Becketts in Mexicali, and returned home early the next morning. The Becketts maintain a home on East Highway 94 also, and their son has been attending Mt. Empire High School.

Last Friday night was the Junior-Senior Prom and all night party honoring the Mt. Empire High School graduates. The banquet was held in the school cafe.

Foster Homes Needed in Alpine

A critical shortage of foster homes exists in San Diego County. Both full time and Day Care homes are needed in the Alpine area.

Due to this shortage many children must wait for a home and may remain in inadequate and harmful situations.

A Full Time home is a temporary home for an unrelated child who will live as a member of the family until he can return to his own home.

According to California law, any person other than a close relative caring for a child under sixteen must have a license. Licensing is for the protection of the child, giving assurance that good care and guidance will be provided.

Licenses are issued by the San Diego County Department of Public Welfare, free of charge.

If you are interested please call 234-8871, Extension 245 in San Diego.

Rabies Reappears In County

In mid-May, San Diego County had its first laboratory confirmed case of rabies in six months. The case occurred in a stray dog found in Otay Mesa. The county's last laboratory confirmed case of rabies was in November in a stray dog in Chula Vista.

The reappearance of animal rabies in the county this month was not unexpected. Two Tijuana dogs brought to the San Diego Department of Public Health Laboratory for examination in April proved rabid. One of the animals had bitten at least two other dogs before it died. This is how rabies spreads.

As long as infected dogs are in Tijuana, rabies will continue to spread. We must continue to face

JAMUL

By THERESA EGAN
A luncheon was held in the Palm Room of the Grant Hotel May 25, its purpose a briefing of all new PTA presidents in the area on what is expected of them for the coming year. From Jamul-Las Flores our new PTA president, Ruth Willis, and Joan Miller, health and welfare officer attended, learning the do's and don'ts.

For that next haircut try Mr. Paul Ficarella, new proprietor of the Jamul Barber Shop, Indian Springs, at the junction of Hwy. 94 and Lyons Valley Road. He offers the community the services of a full-time barber, something we haven't had for a good while. Until the end of school, June 12, he'll be open every day from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. including the weekend. From then on he'll be open from Tuesday through Saturday 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., closing Sundays and Mondays, the same days as the beauty shop next door. His longer hours make it convenient for the working man of Jamul and outlying areas to stop on the way home from work. A resident of Los Angeles, he first came to San Diego for basic training at the Naval Training Center in '43, and after the service attended barber school. In '58 he returned to San Diego on vacation and decided to open a business in the area.

Al Lester drove the Lyon Valley route to the Lagunas Thursday to visit a brother-in-law camped up in the National Forest. If you plan to go up, he cautions, better make your reservation first. About 40 cars were turned away that day.

Monte Vista High School's Senior Prom was held Friday night in the Caribbean Room at the El Cortez Hotel. The theme was "Ebb Tide," music by Charles Parnell and his orchestra. Lots of atmosphere, we hear, and it was a perfect evening. Sandra Mangels and Linda Whitaker and escorts attended. There was an After-Prom for those who cared to attend.

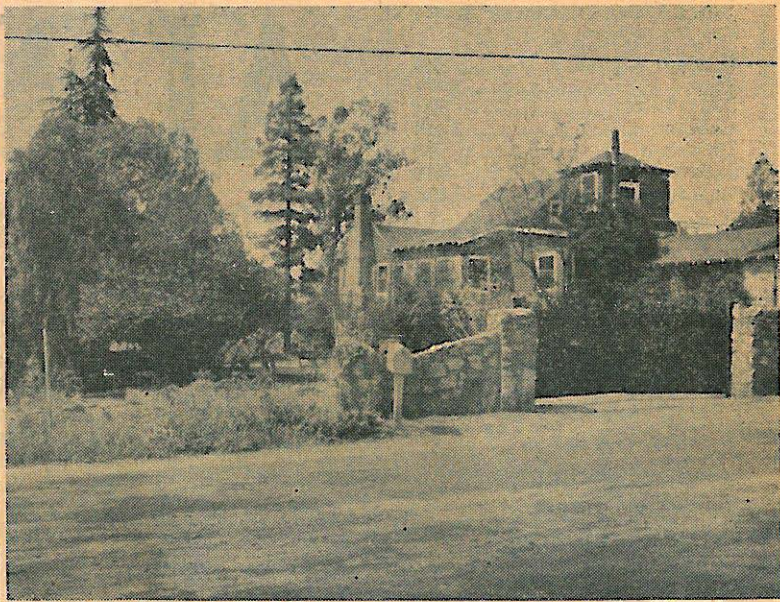

Graduating from Monte Vista High School this month are Sandra Mangels and Linda Whitaker of Jamul. Both are three-year graduates and have charted a definite course for the future. Sandra expects to do secretarial work after graduation. Along with her school courses she's been attending a class in Data Processing Monday evenings at Grossmont Junior College, and next year will further specialize her secretarial training with a course in Legal Training. Linda, as announced earlier, is looking forward to a September wedding to Dennis Bird of Jamul, and hopes to train for a career in beauty.

Mrs. Olive Coddling has opened a guest ranch to be known as the Alpine Heights Guest Ranch on Alpine Heights road. The guest ranch will cater to residential guests and vacationers, and is located on the property owned by Mrs. Mary Hollywood and the facilities were used by her for many years as a rest home.

By PAT MARTIN
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Burrows arrived home on May 24 after spending five weeks at their ranch in Cheyenne, Okla., visiting with their son, Gerald. They report that Gerald in fine, and he likes ranching. While there, they helped Gerald with the cattle and the planting. The day after they returned home, they received a call from their other son, Doyle, who told them that they had a new granddaughter, who was born to his wife, Mary, on May 25, at El Cajon Valley Hospital. She was named Mary Lynn, and weighed 8 lbs., 11 oz. It was an exciting homecoming surprise for the proud grandparents.

Mrs. John Schmucher is home again after being in and out of the hospital during the past few weeks. We hope she is feeling better now.

A group of approximately 40 people attended the annual work day at the Ellis Ranch Cemetery on Saturday, when they hoed weeds, planted flowers, and put up a tank for water storage to water the plants. Among those present were Frank Ellis, and his sisters, Mrs. Dora Case and Mrs. Christina Groome, all of Lemon Grove.

We are glad to hear that Kay Lacki is home and recovering nicely after being rushed back to the hospital last week due to complications after surgery. We hope Kay will continue improving, and feel as good as new real soon.

We have received word that Ray Crawford, U. S. Army, is attending mechanic school at Fort Hood, Tex., after being transferred there from Fort Sam Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Harol Lush entertained their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Myers, and their five children over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Myers drove down from Anaheim, where they live.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rod Serafin on Sunday were their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Costantino, who own the Champagne Art Gallery in La Jolla, and Mr. and Mrs. William Lumbkin, also of La Jolla.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Reynolds were visited by their son, First Lieut. Phil Papin, USAF on Sunday, before he had to return to his base

The large stone house has been completely renovated with new stucco on the upper stories, a new roof and painted. Presently Mr. and Mrs. Coddling are refurbishing the patio and yard area, the pool and badminton courts, and contemplating the installation of sauna bath to be constructed from a small outbuilding.

Mrs. Coddling is a licensed practical nurse and has done private nursing in San Diego County for several years. She has specialized in nutrition, and will offer special diets to guests as well as home style meals.

The large stone house on Alpine Heights Road has been a landmark for many years, and for most of the time has been operated as a rest home. It is ideally located on a quiet road and surrounded by 10 acres of rolling property. The view from the home is one of the most attractive in the Alpine area.

Transportation facilities will be available for guests to church services, the shopping area of Alpine and other local places of interest. Guests will enjoy the tree-shaded patio and garden, the swimming pool, shuffleboard and badminton courts, and the large, lovely living room overlooking the mountains.

Mrs. Hollywood, owner of the property, will assist Mrs. Coddling in getting the guest ranch in operation.

The all-night Prom at Mt. Empire was a roaring success. The banquet started at 7:30 p.m. and it was delicious. It featured a fruit dish, salad shrimp of roast beef, and Angel food cake for dessert, yum, yum. Immediately following the banquet the Prom began. Vic Spies and his Magic Music Makers provided the entertainment. The decor was beautiful, the theme was Mid-Summer's Night Dream and it was just that, a dream come true. The dance ended at 1 a.m. and the After Prom began immediately after. Hamburgers were served in the cafeteria to fill the students' empty stomachs. Swimming, more dancing and a hootenanny were the highlights. The After Prom ended at 6 a.m. It was sponsored by the Parents and Boosters Club and was designed to keep the students off the highways during the Memorial Day weekend. The Prom is an annual event sponsored by each Junior Class for the Seniors. Those attending from Mt. Laguna were Miss Sue Stuart and A/1

Harbison Canyon Fire Regulations

By LORNA FERGUSON

The most pleasurable time of the year, to most of us, has arrived, and along with it, without the help of everyone, also may come the bitter that so many times goes with the sweet. By all of this, I am referring to the FIRE SEASON, with its possibility of tragedy, great cost to individuals, and drain on a tax budget. Following are a few pointers that some of us may have forgotten or do not know:

All structures should have a clearing of not less than 303 feet completely surrounding same; incinerators require a surrounding clearance of not less than 10 feet; a legal incinerator must have a spark arrester (1/4-inch mesh) securely covering the top; fire season officially opened on the 15th day of April and from that time on until the season is declared closed, your burning hours are before 9:00 a.m. or after 6:00 p.m., and there may be times during the summer months when you will be further restricted by any or all of the fire governing bodies; you not only need a burning permit for any debris, refuse, and brush or grass (cut and stacked), but a permit is now needed in order to burn in a legal incinerator.

The California State Division of Forestry patrolmen are already on the job doing cabin inspection. This means that any day now, a patrolman may roll up to your place and notify you that you are breaking the law. Let's all make

The Crest Woman's Club baked 50 dozen cookies last week for the Army-Navy YMCA in San Diego. The women were told, "The fellows want real he-man cookies, not any of this little tea-party stuff." So that is what they baked, and that is a lot of cookies!

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Winberg of 2409 Suncrest Boulevard, were hosts May 27 at a farewell dinner for Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tracy of La Mesa. Tracy was recently retired from the Pacific Telephone Company after 43 years service. He and his wife are leaving for a six to eight week trailer trip through North Dakota and up into Canada. Mrs. Tracy left her prized houseplants with Mrs. Winberg so Jenette could "baby-sit" with them until the Tracy's return.

It was Mrs. George Ditmer's birthday May 25, and did she pull a switch! She cooked and served a special birthday dinner for her daughter, Rosemarie Rafesnider, and her seven grandchildren. But tradition was served, for Johnny Rafesnider, 12, baked and decorated a lovely cake for his grandmother.

Mrs. Earl Lee of 2169 West Drive, was given a Special Award for her Seascape in oils at the last meeting of the Adult Education class in oil painting, Thursday, May 28. The award certificate was presented at a pot-luck luncheon at the Youth Center in La Mesa.

SD Chamber Opposes Reduction of Water

Opposition was expressed last week by the Board of Directors of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce to the recent order of the Department of the Interior reducing delivery of Colorado River water by 10%. The Directors stated that this decision is contrary to the provisions of the Colorado River compact which holds that power generation is subservient to agricultural and domestic use of water.

Early this year the Department of the Interior requested a voluntary 10% reduction in the use of Colorado River water. Following a rebuff from water users, Secretary Udall announced a 10% reduction in the amount of Colorado River water to be supplied to water agencies in California, Arizona and Nevada for the balance of 1964. This reduction was ordered to resume the filling of Lake Powell above Glen Canyon Dam on the Upper Colorado in the hope

THE DIE IS CAST

Last Tuesday the voters of the State of California nominated and elected a large number of candidates who were seeking public office. The election also eliminated a large number of persons from the races, at least for this election year.

Now that the actors have been selected for the final performance on November 3rd, the election propaganda will be issued from far fewer campaign headquarters than was the case before last Tuesday's election. This will give the voters a better opportunity of reviewing the qualifications of the candidates to be voted on in November.

The finalists for the Federal, State and local offices that are of direct interest to the voters of this area, and the offices which they seek are as follows: For President, the Democratic voters chose delegates headed by Governor Brown who are supposedly unpledged but who undoubtedly will support President Johnson for re-election, probably with a strong campaign to have Governor Brown as his Vice-Presidential running mate. The Republican voters chose a group of delegates pledged to vote for the nomination of Barry Goldwater who is predicted to become the Republican nominee.

For United States Senator, the Democratic voters chose as their nominee Pierre Salinger, which was a surprise to everyone except to the vast majority of voters who voted for him. The Republican voters chose George Murphy as their nominee in the hopes that Hollywood glamour may have some allure to the voters in November.

For Representative in Congress to represent this area, the Democrats chose Paul D. Carpenter, a newcomer in politics. The Republican voters chose the present incumbent, James B. Utt, who has established a habit of being elected.

For Board of Supervisors to represent this area, none of the four candidates received a majority which requires a runoff in November between the two with the highest number of votes who are Henry A. Boney and incumbent David W. Bird.

thanks for living, for another summer and clean air.

I always look forward to the return of the bright butterflies, those frivolous darlings of the summer gardens. The big gaudily marked ones are those most people enjoy best. They seem so care-free and undismayed in a world where any sensible insect must give a wing flutter to the problem of survival. The butterfly dresses up in her fancy costume and drifts around serenely unaware of all the fuss about insecticides. It would be nice to be rid of cut worms and those big green brutes with a horn on their heads and saw teeth on their backs, and the moths that expertly dodge our furious efforts to smack them, and manage to stay alive in clouds of spray, but how sad it would be to lose the lazy butterflies. In this hard driving world of work and politics, war and free-ways, beatles and bottles and two party telephones, the sight of some creatures unafflicted by any such problem, just enjoying the summer time, is a real lift to the spirit.

They say the wild scrubs have grown more this spring than in the three springs past, and that it's because the rains came just right—enough rain in the right space of time. In one spot on South

Grade road there grows a patch of grass-wood just coming into bloom making a full acre of creamy white. In the moonlight it looks like a field of snow. Its perfume is delicate and elusive, makes you want to sniff and sniff to try and identify it, to get another delightful taste of it.

Honey bees seem to be in greater abundance this season too, judging by the many swarms we've seen hereabouts. Neighbor Mancil has had three come to settle in his front yard the past 10 days. With little effort he put them in a bee-gum where they now live contentedly taking nectar from all the blossoms on the place. We see them in the garden, on the flowering sage and the carrots that have gone to bloom, and in the orange and lemon trees. They dot the blackberry vines and the strawberry patch and even the tiny blooms of the wild mustard on the mesa. They're mixing wild holly, and nectar from the pepper trees' pale spray, with the umbrella trees lavender flowers, and taste of celery and onion flowers, and they especially favor the honey-suckle where their humming is a nice busy sound at the kitchen door. Our city visitor, hearing it, said with pleasure, "Where's that nice oiled motor running?" Bee keepers would probably liken a nice oiled motor to the hum of bees, and be just as pleased.

Dear Editor:

Will you please print this letter as I would like for everyone in Alpine to know how grateful I am to Mr. and Mrs. Wake, and Mr. Fordice for helping me with my beef project. I also wish to express my gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Ken Jerney, and Mr. and Mrs. Carol Dun for their support at the auction. Only for friends and neighbors like them I would have taken a big loss on my beef project.

Let's stop eating Australian bull and support our own American stockmen and producers and our Future Farmers of America. Write to your congressman and senators and let them know how we feel.

Sincerely yours,

the past 12 years this group has made a tour of the State to look over future projects. After the State chamber completes these meetings a conference is arranged with the State Highway Commission in Sacramento for the purpose of recommending the state-wide improvements.

The Directors approved and will recommend seventeen State Highway projects within the County without designating priority. Included in the list is Highway 80 from 2.5 miles east of Flinn Springs to the East San Diego County line, a distance of 51.6 miles. The section of Highway 80 from Broadway in El Cajon to Johnstown is now under construction and the section from Johnstown to 2.5 miles east of Flinn Springs is in the planning stage.

cafeteria and kindergarten programs.

The School Board had previously called for bids for the purchase of school busses which were received on May 21. The Board will hold a special meeting on June 15 to award a contract for their purchase.

After the defeat of the tax override proposition earlier in the year, an organization of the mothers of the school children in the District was formed to campaign for the passage of the proposition last Tuesday. Their slogan was "we are going to pass the tax," and they are given credit for its passage.

OBITUARY

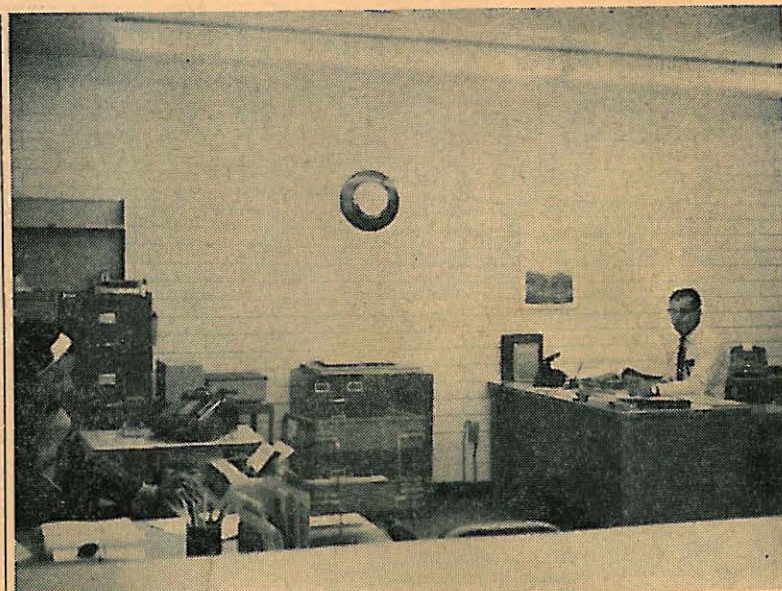

LORISSA GALLOWAY

Services were held Tuesday for Lorissa Galloway, 73, of 412 Arnold Way, Galloway Valley, El Cajon, who died last Thursday in a hospital where she had been for some time.

The El Cajon Mortuary conducted the services, and burial was in the Alpine Cemetery.

Miss Galloway was born in Michigan, but lived in San Diego County since 1922. She was of the family who owned the property known as Galloway Valley at the head of Harbison Canyon. She is survived by a brother, Francis, of San Diego.

Neil Galloway, a brother, was well-known in the area, and wrote a number of Echoes of the Past stories from his memories of the past in the Alpine area, passed away in January of 1963. Miss Galloway left the home on Arnold Way shortly before then and was in a rest home until her death.

Dr. Marjorie Warmer, dean of women at San Diego State College, will present the commencement address; and E. T. Smith of Wesleyan Methodist Church in Lakeside and G. Edward Garner of the Santee Methodist Church will assist with ceremonies.

SCHOOL TALK

HARBISON CANYON

By SANDI CRAIN

The boys and girls in Mrs. DeLong's class are studying about the San Diego Zoo. They had many fierce wild animals in their shoe box cages. Recently they took a trip to the San Diego Zoo to culminate their unit.

Mrs. Fox's 2nd and 3rd graders are learning to give reports. They are learning multiplication and measurements.

Mrs. Crawford's 3rd grade pupils are giving reports also. They are studying about the birds found in our community. Drawings illustrate their science reports.

Social studies is quite interesting for the 4th grade class. They are comparing the way the African and Japanese people are alike and how they differ from in the games they play, the work they do, and their dress. During their arithmetic period they are planning a trip to anywhere in the world they wish to go. They must include all expenses in their project.

Speaking of interesting math projects, have you visited the Harbison Canyon Bank? The 6th grade has a math project of purchasing a house, getting the floor plans and the land area and to consider financing. They have set up a bank to loan money to the students of the class. There are four bankers and the rest are borrowers. If you have any financial problems, come to our bank. Bank hours are from 9 to 10 a.m.

Mr. Gaston visited the Security First National Bank of Alpine with four of his students. They learned a lot about the bank so that later when he takes all of the sixth graders they will be better informed as to what to look for and how the bank operates.

rectors meeting room in the original building which is the space the Rio district has been using. They will also share a fire-proof vault in the new addition.

The building addition was designed by Bert C. Wilkas, civil engineer in Lakeside, and was constructed by Edward V. Ceiplis.

The joint effort of the two districts in constructing this addition will result in a savings to both districts. The Rio district did not have to purchase land for an office, and the combined use of the existing facilities held the new construction to a minimum.

The office staff of Rio had previously moved into the new quarters, and Tuesday's ceremonies were the official opening and the presenting of the keys to the Rio district.

Youth Center Board Requests Local Sheriff

The need of having a resident Deputy Sheriff in Alpine was discussed by the Board of the Youth Center at their meeting held last Monday night. It was reported that the Youth Center has been entered and that the lights are broken regularly, that the Alpine school has been broken into, and in order to protect against further vandalism a resident officer is needed. The Board voted to write a letter to the Sheriff's office pointing out that Alpine and Harbison Canyon now have over 4,000 residents and telling of the vandalism at the school and the Youth Center.

Mr. William Ossana has been hired by the Youth Center board to conduct a summer program at the Center. Mrs. Wooldridge and a high school girl will assist with the program.

Arrangements are being made with the Boy Scouts to help in a cleanup program for the picnic area, which will be accomplished shortly after the close of school.

Discussion was held regarding a baseball program for the summer. At the present time there has been a lack of support for a baseball program, but further inquiries will be made regarding having Little League baseball, and a program was set for junior baseball, if possible.

Movie Makers Produce in Alpine Again

Once more Alpine has been the site for a movie production. Members of the Grossmont College Drama Department with Chairman Martin Gerrish, spent Sunday May 31st at Sky Mesa Ranch making a movie from original scripts written by eleven students in the department. Under the supervision of Mr. Gerrish, who also manned the camera, the eleven students each wrote a scene and directed it with others playing the parts, the whole coordinated by a musical number which inspired the project.

The young people showed imagination and much energy in their assignments. Each vignette stressed action, dashing costumes, and emotions to match. There were swagging cowboys, in high boots, wearing guns spoiling for a fight; there was an outlaw to be captured and hanged; a lovely Indian maid wore a beautiful costume made expressly for the show by one student who is of Indian ancestry, and who was himself an impressive Brave in a genuine fringed buckskin suit. A lovely Spanish dancer made a romantic addition to the crowd, and a long gowned pioneer woman stood out against the mountains and the blue sky. There were several filmed fights; a hanging, a wom-

Local Writer in National Magazine

Mrs. Helen Ellsberg of Alpine has one of her articles published in the June issue of Mademoiselle. The article entitled "New Old Worlds to Conquer" deals with the stories of the young women in the United States who are working in the field of oceanography both in California and in the East. It stresses the adventure these girls are finding in their studies of under water phenomena, and the growing field this is for young women.

Mrs. Ellsberg has resided in Alpine for over 3 years, and in Coronado and San Francisco before coming here. She is a native of Portland, Oregon, and studied at the University of Oregon. Her first experience as a writer was at age 14 when she wrote a newspaper column. She has been writing magazine articles for the past 10 years, and has been published in such other national magazines as American Homes, Woman's Day, Goodhousekeeping, Sunset and Audubon.

In the research for the article in Mademoiselle, Mrs. Ellsberg wrote to the Institute of Oceanography in Monaco, one of the oldest and most reknown, requesting information about women who might work there. She received a letter in answer from His Serene Highness Prince Ranier of Monaco stating that at the present time no women are working at the Institute of Oceanography.

DEERHORN VALLEY

By ROY WALLIN

Another report of childish, as well as destructive, vandalism up in the Monte Robles area. Sarah and Dave Barnum were at their place this past weekend and discovered a number of glass bottles broken, trees pulled out by their roots, the bamboo shades on their cabana utterly demolished, and a number of empty beer cans lying about the immediate area, bearing silent witness to the wanton acts of either adult or juvenile delinquents. Seeing as how this is the second occurrence in as many weeks, "Keep a weather eye open for suspicious cars, people or activities" might bear repeating.

Incidentally, Dave and Sarah had water in their 26 foot well, but it's gone again after the last blast—one consolation, Dave, e'f'en you don't hit water, it'll make one heckuva fine air raid shelter.

Back from his cruise to WesPac is Ron Sherby, MMI, of the USS Ticonderoga, bright-eyed and bushy-tailed, ready to clear his land, clean his well out, and start construction on his "three bedroom bar"—word is, the house-warming will take place on Labor Day. Good to have you back.

Heard an interesting item from Mrs. Curry, one of the folks up in the Monte Robles section—in telling about killing a gopher snake, she went on to say that the gopher snakes were mating with the rattlers and within a few years would be as poisonous and therefore a threat to humans. Asked Jim Wolfe, ex-keeper at the San Diego Zoo about it, and he said he'd seen it on the Zoorama TV show, so it kinda looks like we'll have to start killing gopher snakes now too.

Caught a glimpse of Capt. C. D. Murrell and the Mrs. driving by in their Triumph last week to spend a day at their mountain hideaway—both looked real well and said "hi" to all their friends and neighbors.

Also seen in this neck of the weeds this past Memorial Day weekend, were the Cooks of Imperial Beach, spending an enjoyable weekend with their children, and Helen and Bob Daly, taking a break from his cross-country hauling.

The community meeting to hear the candidates for the office of Supervisor for our district as well as several speakers on the proposed school district unification was at the Young Christian Workers Camp Building last Thursday evening with an attendance of approximately 40, representing Dulzura, Jamul, Barrett Junction, as well as our own community. Roy Commors, of Jamul, introduced the speakers. First was "Christy" Christiansen, candidate for Supervisor, who voiced his opinions.

Mr. Snodgrass, also a candidate for Supervisor, then spoke on his platform.

Mr. Brink, president of the Jamul Community Club; Mr. Brown, president of the Jamul-Las Flores School Board, and Mr. Raymond, principal of the Jamul-Las Flores School, spoke on the proposed unification. In general, the speakers favored a unification of the Jamul-Las Flores, Barrett, and Dulzura districts as opposed to unifying under the Cajon Valley Union School District, favoring the rural atmosphere of education with regard to the students as opposed to group and grade segregation evident in non-rural schools, the possible deterioration of transportation facilities effecting the safety of our students, the lengthened travel time involved in to and from transit, the imminent possibility of double sessions until adequate facilities were constructed, the loss of the voice of the individual parent, land-owner, or resident in becoming a very small part of a large entity, the possible change in the status of the professional educator in voicing his or her view to a local school board to the possible end of a teachers' strike as witnessed in recent times, the present possession of sufficient property to build a high school as opposed to the possible expensive purchase of necessary land for increased school activities, and the need for a local school district judged by the predicted growth of this area. The speakers felt that these factors coupled with the sparsity of population, our area's geographic isolation, and its community identity would present a strong case to the State Board of Education in favor of permitting the electorate of the Jamul-Las Flores Union, Barrett and Dulzura School Districts and Dulzura School Districts should become one unified school district within the boundaries of said districts. Petitions, stating this, were available at the meeting for the signatures of registered voters and property owners, as well as at the Deerhorn Valley Lodge, and at the Deerhorn Valley Civic Club meeting next Friday.

Close on the heels of this past community meeting is the June meeting of the Deerhorn Valley Civic Club which will take place at 8 p.m., this Friday, at the building on the Young Christian Workers Camp. The main item on the agenda will be the proposed changes to the Civic Club's Constitution, which include changing the name of current local events and activities, to voice our opinions, to discuss issues, and to exchange pleasantries over a cup of coffee and a piece of cake.

PINE VALLEY

By LADONNA MUHLHAUSER
We are pleased to report the new manager of the Hobart House is Mrs. Helen Evans, formerly Helen Thompsen, operator and owner of Cafe del Rey Moro in Balboa Park. Mrs. Evans owns her home in the valley and for the past nine years has been at the Cafe del Rey Moro. She told this reporter that with the help of her able chef, Tom Ramsey, formerly at the Sands, they plan to make only changes which will please the patrons of the dining room.

Lou Herring leaves today for Oklahoma City, and then to Shawnee, Oklahoma, to get his mother and bring her back to California for the summer. To quote Mrs. Herring, "I'd come to California via Wagon Train rather than endure this summer heat."

The cutest story I've heard lately concerns two local boys, each with brand new cars. It seems one night this week the boy with the Tempest just turned onto Second Street in El Cajon when he ran out of gas. The young chap with the new Chevy pickup picked him up and started for a gas station. They had gone only a short way when the pickup ran out of gas. About this time a policeman came along and offered to help the boys. And, you guessed it, a mile down the road the patrol car ran out of gas. But all ended well after the policeman radioed in their predicament.

Albert Mullins will graduate from Grossmont Junior College on June 12th.

Mrs. Billie Requa was most happy to have her nephew and wife, the Stetters, drop in on her from Daly City. They were taking the "short cut" to Montana, but were eager to check on Billie.

Under the able direction of Fire Chief Louis Perna, the local folks are taking a two-week course in the use of the rescuator and a very good thing, too, for Charles Mills, Carl Hubbard and more were able to give Max Belovich the treatment he needed Tuesday when he was struck down with a heart attack. At last report Max was in the El Cajon Valley Hospital and doing as well as could be expected.

Stella Breedlove drove up from San Diego Thursday for a few days' visit with her old friend and neighbor, Ella Belle Tondro.

Something new was added to the Election Poll this year. Catherine Hadley reported to CBS and NBC via telephone. She was a busy gal for the first hundred ballots counted, running from the voting headquarters to a telephone.

Many thanks go to Mrs. Schultz and Mrs. Trenti for the use of their cars for transporting folks to the polls.

The entire Mullins family will walk more carefully for they found their first rattler in 12 years. As Ruth's eyes are not too good, and there are two small the possibility that a rabid animal may at any time wander across the border from Tijuana and bring rabies into San Diego County.

Unvaccinated stray dogs are still the most serious problem in rabies control. Tijuana is attacking the problem with a vaccination program for dogs and a periodic roundup of stray dogs.

San Diego County dog owners can help by having dogs four months of age and older vaccinated against rabies. This should be done every two years. The rabies vaccine used in San Diego County protects a dog for a two-year period. All dogs should be confined to the property of their owners and not be allowed to run loose. When a dog is taken away from home it should be kept on a leash.

 ere of Fashions" Wednesday evening, May 27, in the Monarch gym. Featured were clothes made during the school year. Linda Whitaker, Waren Connors, and Linda Hooten of Jamul were among those taking part.

Apologies to Mrs. Eva Swinney of Jamul Beauty Shop. I misspelled her name in a recent column.

Happy news. Jean and Virgil Beasley and son, Russell will welcome a new member to their family. The blessed event will take place around Thanksgiving.

Hugh and Joan Miller spent last weekend camping with their family at Lake Elsinore. Facilities there for camping and trailering include barbeque pits and showers. Ruth Willis went to Elsinore a couple of weeks ago for the day, and checked on facilities, intending to accompany the Millers.

Russel Beasley, 12, and his neighbors, Don Scheerer, 12, and Bill Scheerer, 14, have formed a team called the Jamul Bobcats. They belong to the Junior Bowling League at the Golden Bowl in Casa de Oro. Watch these boys. We hear they're doing real well.

Item for the bulletin board: New post office hours are 8:30 to 5 on weekdays and 8:30 to noon on Saturdays. Money orders are no longer sold on Saturdays.

Anareba and George Rinner, Daley's Truck Trail in Lee Valley, belong to the Rideouts, a four-member band playing country music. George plays lead guitar, and Anareba plays rhythm and is learning bass guitar. Bob Allison of El Cajon, "the boss," does most of the singing, but Anareba sings occasionally on request. The Riners have lived in Lee Valley seven years.

The Fair is over for another year and Alpine was fortunate in having two girls, Donna Schwenck and Lyn Blankenship representing the 4-H Club, who proudly won ribbons in the Cooking Division.

Lyn won first place for her apple muffins, banana nut bread and rolled biscuits, while Donna won firsts for raised coffee cake, yeast bread, cookies, muffins, rolled biscuits and quick breads. The girls love to cook and the proof is certainly "in the puddings."

Congratulations to Donna and Lyn and a special thanks for sharing their prize winning recipes with Coke's Kitchen.

LYN'S APPLE MUFFINS

2 cups flour
 4 tsp. baking powder
 3/4 tsp. salt
 3/4 tsp. cinnamon
 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 beaten egg
 1 cup milk
 1/2 cup melted shortening
 3/4 cup chopped apples
 Sift dry ingredients, combine egg, milk and shortening. Make well in ingredients, add liquid all at once, stir until mixed. Add apples and fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake 400 degrees for 25 minutes.

LYN'S BANANA NUT BREAD

3/4 cup shortening
 2 1/2 cups flour
 1 3/4 cup sugar
 1 1/4 tsp. baking powder
 1 tsp. soda
 1 tsp. salt
 1 1/4 cup bananas (3 bananas)
 3/4 cup buttermilk
 1/2 cup eggs (2 large eggs)
 3/4 cup chopped nuts
 Stir shortening, sift in dry ingredients, add bananas and half of buttermilk. Mix until all flour is dampened, beat 2 min., add remaining buttermilk, eggs, beat 2 min. longer, fold in nuts. Bake in paper-lined loaf pan for 45 minutes in 325 degree oven.

DONNA'S TANGY ORANGE DROPS

Sift together, 1 1/2 cups flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. salt, cream 1/2 cup margarine (1 stick), gradually add 3/4 cup sugar, creaming well, add 1 unbeaten egg, blend in dry ingredients add 3 T orange juice, 3/4 cup coconut. Drop by rounded tsp. on greased baking dish. Frost while warm—1 T orange juice, 1 T water to one (1) cup powdered sugar. Immediately dip cookie in coconut and sprinkle with grated orange rind—return to broiler and toast coconut, watching carefully. Cookies are baked in 350 degrees oven for approximately 10 minutes—makes 2 1/2 dozen.

DONNA'S STRAWBERRY CREAM CHIFFON CAKE

2 cups flour (sifted)
 1 1/2 cup sugar
 3 tsp. baking powder
 1 tsp. salt
 1/2 cup salad oil
 7 unbeaten egg yolks
 3/4 cup cold water
 grated rind of 2 oranges
 1 cup egg whites (7 or 8 eggs)
 1/2 tsp. cream of tartar
 Heat oven to 325 degrees. Use ungreased tube pan 10x4. Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, salt into bowl—make well, add oil, egg yolks and grated rind. Beat until smooth, one minute by electric mixer. Measure egg white, cream of tartar into large mixing bowl. Beat until whites are very stiff, on high speed 3 to 5 minutes. Pour egg yolks over beaten whites gradually folding until blended. Do not stir. Pour into ungreased pan and bake 325 degrees for 55 minutes. Top should spring back when lightly touched. Turn pan upside down to cool (Donna uses a soda pop bottle), until perfectly cold, loosen with knife and remove cake.

STRAWBERRY CREAM FROSTING

Mash 1 pt. strawberries, add 2 T sugar, mix in 1 tsp. gelatin softened in 1 T water and dissolve over hot water. Chill. When partially set, fold in 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped and sweetened. Cover top and sides with sweetened whipped cream. Donna adds a little drop of red food coloring to bring out true strawberry color. Refrigerate until used.

The Parents and Boosters Club have worked diligently to make this an outstanding affair and under stand the decorations were "out of this world" and the dinner was absolutely the finest. Connie Jones was responsible for the decorations and Charlotte Northington the banquet. Members of the Homemakers Club furnished homemade cookies for the refreshments. After the dance there was a swimming party and a hootenanny, and on Saturday morning the parents served a delicious breakfast to the tired group. All in all, it was a memorable affair, and those in charge are to be commended for their efforts.

that the level can be built up sufficiently to begin power production this year.

The Directors were concerned with the Secretary's action as it came without warning to irrigators and does not take crop patterns into consideration. Also, the filling of Lake Powell will reduce the flow into Lake Mead above Hoover Dam seriously affecting the Metropolitan Water District, which supplies water to this area via the San Diego County Water Authority.

The Alpine water supply delivered by Rio San Diego MWD is based on Colorado River water, which is delivered to Rio by the Metropolitan Water District and the San Diego County Water Authority. Both of these agencies have voiced opposition to the secretary's order.

ALPINE GARDENER

By JEAN McCULLOUGH

I am having a great time renewing some of my rambles through woods at my home in Eastern Canada in retrospect.

Last year a friend from Connecticut sent me two bulbs, one of Jack-in-the-pulpit, and one of yellow Ladys-slipper. I planted them in five-gallon cans in acid type, or leaf mold, soil and stood them in a partially shaded place. Both plants came up. The Jack-in-the-pulpit bloomed, the Lady's-slipper did not. I was very pleased, of course, that the wildlings stood their change of residence the way they did.

I watered them sparingly, and left them pretty much alone. I got an extra thrill this spring to see these two wild beauties poking up their heads again. They had survived the year in their new home, and what's more they are both blooming, the blooms have been out two weeks or more, and both plants have put up new shoots.

No one comes to our house but I must trot them around to see my two prizes. What I need now to complete my back-east garden are Trilliums, Adder's tongue, Dutchman's breeches, and a small plant we used to call Pinkies which used to be the first to come up in the spring. There are nurseries in the northern part of the country which would in all likelihood stock wildflowers. Of course, we have plenty of wild flowers right here so why try to have both East and West.

The ground is drying up so fast now, so start applying plenty of mulch to conserve all the moisture you can for there is a long hot summer ahead of us.

Handy Household Hints

(For Harried Homemakers)

Brushing loose crumbs from a cake before frosting pays off in neat, quick results, and a spanking-clean kitchen sponge is just perfect for the job. Dampen it ever so slightly and brush over cake. Sponge is a snap to rinse, and if you are a cake-baking addict, it's a good idea to store it in a plastic bag, ready for the next time.

When you're in a hurry and want to dry small items such as baby booties, a cap, or a pair of stockings, just slip them in the hood of your hair drier, and turn the setting to cool. They'll be dry in a few minutes.

Planning a picnic? The day before, fill several small balloons with cold water, knot each opening, and place the balloons in the freezer overnight. (Don't fill them too full, or they'll break). Come picnic morn, put the balloons into your picnic cooler, and pack the food around them. The balloons hold the water as the ice in them melts, and the food remains cool and dry.

Iron-on patches will stick to fabric better if you place a piece of aluminum foil under the area to be patched, and another piece over it before ironing with a hot iron. Helps to concentrate the heat on the patch, and makes it adhere.
