was sick. He said this was the first time he had heard of difficulties here. He promised that the company was willing to cooperate. He pointed out that some of the trouble could be eliminated by an additional overhead wire reducing the 8 party to a 4 party line. Then with Mr. Clegal of the S.D. office, they answered questions. However no definite improvements were promised, except that the showing of a film here, on the technique of using a party line, intended as an aid in shortening the prolonged calls, would help.

John Paul, coordinator, S.D. County schools, gave an interesting talk on local problems, told of his talk as coordinator between students, teachers and principals.

Note- We did not sign the petition for better phone service because we believe the company is giving us the best it can for the money. We have very little trouble, which is always remedied quickly and courteously by the company's fine staff of men and women. Trouble lies mostly in the users those who perhaps just don't realize our problems; being in the country, 8 party lines, heavy traffic, and so on. The remedy lies in more courtesy and generosity toward fellow users, and holding the caol down to minimum of time, also spacing calls. We'd like to see the film; it might help enlighten users. and I say all this without favoring the phone company, because they spend no money with us on advertising in our area.

LAUGHS IN CHEAPER BY DOZEN

The Old Globe Theatre is dishing out perhaps the most laughs per minute in its history with that famous comedy 'Cheaper by the Dozen', the story of a family with 12 kids. As usual Craig Noel directs with master hand with a big juvenile element in the cast. The story, true by the way, is of 1925, in the living room of the Gilbreth home, Montclair, N.J., was written by Christopher Sergel from the book by two of the Gilbreths. Andy Anderson is the dynamic father and Peg Evans does well as the mother, with a fine talent array to round out the cast. This is just too good to miss, Closes May 2.

SAVE LILACS, URGES BIKE

Alpine has a wonderful chance to become noted for a natural attraction, its profuse and lovely wild lilac blossoms which adorn most all roads hereabouts.

At the last chamber of commerce meeting, president Ed Bike called attention to this, urged a campaign to save them as many are being removed for improvements, etc. 'We could make Alpine famous for this lovely wild flower' he said, 'which right now is perfuming this area so sweetly'.

Note- In 1937 I suggested the name of Lilac Drive when South Grade Road had two names, meeting at Tavern Rd. It was the only county registered road name following the chamber's acceptance of my name. I urged publicity for this which could have brought many visitors in spring, just like many other famous places as the Wistaria vine in Sierra Madre, the Christmas tree lane in Ontario and many others. The following year someone spiked the thing and old South Grade became the official name.-C I.

TRAILER PARK EXPANDS

The first mobile housing in Alpine, Trailer Estates, Tavern Rd., operated by Clarke Irvine, to install sanitary facilities to accommodate large new trailers with toilet and bath, under the rigid state code, is building three new spaces and installing facilities for four others. One has already been rented by a Pennsylvania family soon to come here. A rustic carport is being erected, and landscaping is going on. Total improvement will total $1500. Plumbing contractor is Gene Wilcox. Grading was done by Jack Hoistad, and Fred Rushing built the roads, to be paved this summer.

STURDIVANT TO HOSPITAL

Passing his physical exam at 87 with flying honors, H.D. Sturdivant, Alpine pioneer, is to enter Mercy hospital after Easter for an eye operation by Dr. Bond to remove cataracts which have recently practically blinded this grand old gentleman. He will be in a week or so.

'Dad passed his physical with a heart that the doctor said was perfect, even better than his own!' relates Mrs. Sturdivant.
