KRAFT, SCHRADE AT 80 MEET

A lively session was held at Fuller Hall Tuesday night by the Highway 80 Chamber of Commerce when Sen. Fred Kraft and Jack Schrade, Republican nominee for the 80th assembly district, told members that they would do all they could to speed improvement of U.S. 80. However, neither could promise much early progress, due mainly to the fact that highway business is in the hands of the state commission.

Don Walker, president, was in charge. Humphrey Lane, chairman, introduced Jas. Heavenside, history clerk in the senate. Kraft gave an interesting talk on the terrific growth of the state in the past decade, agreed to the urgency of development of 80.

He also touched upon water: 'Four years ago Feather River water was laughed at- today it is not far off'.

Schrade, who spent 29 years in the state, right on 80, promised to work for its improvement, said he could 'make no rash promises, but I'll be in there working for you- I live on 80!' He added that the state needs 80 because it will develop the valley and the harbor. He also mentioned the need for water here, pointing out that La Mesa-Spring Valley, with which he was connected, proves that outlying areas can get needed water.

A resolution was adopted commending the S.D. Union for its recent front page story and editorial on the need for improvement of 80. Pres. Walker said that from 7th place on the list, it was not near the top in priority for improving.

The tasty dinner was homecooked by Mmes. Weiwel and McCullough.

DOUBLE CLASSES IMPEND? G

At the first meeting of the PTA, according to Pres. Jerry Klipp of the school board, Alpine district will soon have to vote more bonds for at least 10 rooms, or undergo doubling up sessions. This must come regardless of the sale of the old plant. Enrollment is today 460, 62 over 1953, and some classes already have 50 students.

SCHOONOVER RECOVERING

The Rev. A.J. Schoonover is making steady recovery from a bad siege of the flu which he caught in February, having been in bed part of the time. That is why he declined driving one of the school buses again this year. He is able to attend to his work as pastor of Bethel Assembly church here.

ELKS HAVE SPLENDID RECORD

Making America a better place in which to live by helping with time and money and at the same time enjoying fun and fellowship, is the ideal of the great Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks which recently sent 40,000 members to L.A. for its national convention.

We think of the Elks at this time because the El Cajon lodge gave its fifth annual newspaper week dinner honoring the press of S.D. county, at which we were present. (Story elsewhere)

The new Grand Exalted Ruler, Wm. J. Jernick, in accepting his high post, said 'If this world had more respect for divine guidance, it might have less need for guided missiles'.

Faith in God and loyalty to country they stress as essentials which yield good will and tolerance. Their motto: 'The faults of our brothers we write upon the sand; their virtues upon the tablets of love and memory'. Over a million men are now members of the great body that started with only 15 actors and others in show business in N.Y. City in 1868. The grand lodge, organized in 1871, was broke, but Treasurer Tony Pastor loaned it $12. to keep going. Today it has assets of over $246 million. yearly it spends $2 million on youth: 600 Scout troops, hundreds of 4H clubs, Campfire Girl bodies, scholarships and so forth.

Brother Elks, we thank you for your fine gesture in honoring the press, and we warmly congratulate you upon your own splendid part in making America our wonderful country it is today.-C.I.

LIGHT'S DIAMOND JUBILEE

From Oct. 18 through 30, the nation is observing the 75th anniversary of Thos. A. Edison's perfection of the dynamo and the incandescent lamp and the progress of power which has so changed the world.

Electrical appliance dealers invite the public to join in the event called 'Diamond Jubilee Sell-a-bration days'. Dealers, distributors and manufacturers are cooperating to offer special values during that fortnight.

San Diego Gas & Electric Co. is staging a great prize contest, details of which are in their ad, this issue.

Note- Your editor has a special interest in this for during World War 1, he was on a navy ship at Key West, Fla. had the very great pleasure of meeting and talking many times with every boy's ideal, the wizard of Menlo Park, Mr. Edison. He was there working on submarine listening devices, which helped win the war and were forerunners of today's marvelous techniques. As to progress in every line, when I asked him, he said 'Don't be surprised at what anyone says, you'll live to see more amazing things than we dream of. That is all coming to pass today! C.I.

VOTE FOR COLORADO WATER

At a meeting Friday night at Mt. View Inn, residents of Flinn Springs voted nearly unanimously to join the proposed Rancho El Cajon Water District to get title to Colorado River water. R.W. Scruggs, chairman of the committee, said the session was well attended. Areas tentatively to be served are Blossom Valley, Harbison Canyon, Flinn Springs and Hawley Road.

Note- This is the project that the Sun and the Alpine Chamber of Commerce endeavored to get Alpine property owners interested in recently when we printed a questionnaire. Few were returned, so the matter was dropped. Now, while residents fiddle with deepening wells, Alpine is drying up. This community must have water and plenty of it or else! It seems that now is the time, since the opening last week of that second barrel from the Colorado.- C.I.

GROSSMONT CONCERTS BECKON

The usual delightful Grossmont Community Concert season opens Tuesday the 12th with Men of Song, a quartette of noted voices and the arranger. It starts at 8:15, in the Grossmont school auditorium, and many mountain folk as usual, will attend. Men of Song is rated one of the top 10 musical attractions in America, includes John Campbell, Carl Honzak, tenors; Roger White, baritone and Edmond Karlsrud, bass with Chas. Touchette, pianist-arranger. This is the first of four splendid concerts arranged by the association.

There are two big problems before city people today - where to park and where to jump.

AN ATTRACTIVE girl listened to chiding words from a policeman about the brevity of her bathing suit. What, he wanted to know, would her mother say if she saw her?

"She'd probably order me to bring it back at once," said the girl. "It's hers, you know."

LINDA DOWDY CELEBRATES

The youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dowdy, of Rancho Alpine, celebrated her 7th birthday with a lovely party Saturday week. Sister Sue planned the event with many interesting surprises for the guests and Linda was excited and happy over the many wonderful and educational presents. Helping her celebrate were Jeannie and Mary Alice Manning, Betsy McCa l, Cynthia, Cecile and Celeste Irvine Helen and Carol (ost, Barbara Butterworth, Freddie Kidder, Norman and Harry Way, Bruce and Chuck Hill, Otto Jehl, Stanley Glass, Dale Smith, Billy Norris and Dianne Adams.

Jas. A. Combs, retired fruit-grower of Yakima, Wash., was an interested visitor here last week, coming up from Lemon Grove where he is visiting a sister. He may settle here as he likes it.

ELKS HONOR THE PRESS

Newspaper Night was observed by El Cajon Elks Lodge in its spacious hall with a banquet Monday evening, its fifth annual honoring of newsmen of the county, as a part of National Newspaper Week.

Exalted Ruler Jas. Loftus and his brethren with Chas. Lanser as chairman, presented a splendid program, highlighted by a patriotic talk by B. P. Gibbons, Convair executive, who paid high tribute to the press, warned of the necessity for maintaining America's freedom.

Ivan Lake, East County writer for the S. D. Union, warmly accepted Gibbons' speech, told humorous anecdotes. The lodge orchestra presented dinner music, and the dinner was right up to Elk standards! (See editorial).

GAIL WILSON LEAVES

Mrs. Clara Standen is replacing Gail Wilson as organist at the Community Church, reports Dr. Roger Larson, the latter having accepted a similar post in S.D. She is being tendered a reception this evening at 7:30 in Fuller Hall. She has done a mighty fine work for the church.

NEW MEMBERS FOR CHURCH

Welcomed into membership Sunday morning at the Community Church were Miss Joanne Adams, the artist, by reaffirmation of faith, and Mr. and Mrs. Clayborne La Force, by letter from the First Methodist Church, S.D., reports Dr. Roger Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Clark, Empire Market, are entertaining his sister, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. R.G. Grant, Yale, Okla. for two weeks.

GARBAGE ELIMINATOR IS HIT

The disposal of kitchen refuse in the back country has been on real problems, just a little chore, but today something really new has arrived which is relieving folks of disposing of garbage. It is the Bardmatic, a factory-guaranteed; odorless, sanitary, inexpensive plan that not only digests garbage but also enriches the soil. It is simple to install, no plumbing, gas or power needed, and no chemicals or moving parts to worry one. The apparatus is handled by Stulzenburgs, of La Mesa, with G.H. Girard as sales representative who is covering the mountain communities, and with no little success.

The Bardmatic works on a scientific process never available for household use. It practically eliminates everything, including bones, coffee grounds, peelings and so forth, by the simple means of a catalytic starter.

Note- When we saw the literature and the simple, attractive setup, we bought one immediately and believe that eventually every householder in the back country will own one. It requires no trouble to install, merely digging a round hole 18 inches deep. - C.I.

REYNOLDS LOSES WIFE

Private services on Wednesday of last week were held for Maebelle C. Reynolds, 57, wife of John C. Reynolds, Victoria Dr., secretary of the Alpine Chamber of Commerce. She died of a heart ailment, in her sleep, on the previous Thursday morning at 4:40, before Dr. Earl C. Woodall could arrive. Paris Mortuary was in charge of service in Glen Abbey Memorial Park, where interment followed, Dr. Roger Larson conducting.

The Reynoldses came here late in 1949 after he retired in Chicago from the mortgage banking business. They had just happily celebrated their 35th anniversary on Sept. 20th. She was a member of Theodosia Chapter 182, O.E.S., of Illinois, where she was worthy matron in 1930, also a grand lecturer for the order. He had held office as worthy patron. In 1934 she was president of the statewide Gussid Hart Club of Ill., made up of worthy matrons; also belonged to Glenview Garden Club, and Irvine Park Womans' Club, Chicago, where she was active in the Art Institute, being a life member. Both were in the Chicago Civic Opera Association and the North Shore Sunday Evening Club, Winnetka, a cultural group. The couple had lived in Glenview, later Evanston, where he had served on the Village Board (council).

'Thank you kind friends' expresses Mr. Reynolds, 'for your warm words of sympathy . . . at a time like this . . . how much they mean, and are needed'.

YOUNG HUBBERT MARRIES

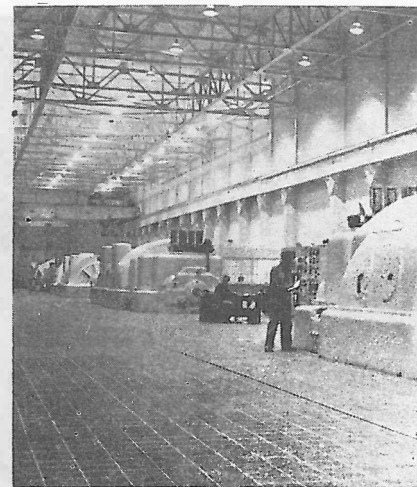

It has just been revealed that Wm. T. Hubbert, son of Dr. Ruth Hubbert, formerly of Alpine, is married and back in Davis at school where he and his bride are living. She was the former Nancy Louise Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Hughes, Burlingame. She is also a student at the university. Hubbert went to grammar school here, also to Grossmont.

HARRY SLYDER PASSES ON
 Word from Mrs. H.P. Snyder, Route 1, Glenmore, Pa., to George Butcher, tells of the sudden demise of her husband, in his sleep, on Sept. 20. He was a builder, erected the home occupied by Mrs. Jessie Young, Tavern Rd. They had been gone 5 years. His first wife, who died here, had been postmaster for some time. Snyder had many friends in this part of the county.

TWO HAPPY ALPINERS, MR. AND MRS. A.A. BARRELLE ON PORCH OF THEIR BEAUTIFUL ADOBE HOME ABOVE VICTORIA DRIVE. HE IS NOTED ARTIST. FORMERLY OF PHILADELPHIA. ONE OF HIS ADVERTISING IDEAS IS STILL GOING STRONG: SALT CONTAINER PICTURE OF CHILD AND UMBRELLA WITH SLOGAN 'WHEN IT RAINS IT POURS'.

 THE FAMILY and the dinner guest had seated themselves at the table, when the lady of the house noted an important omission. "Betty," she asked her little daughter, who had helped set the table, "why on earth didn't you put a knife and fork at Mr. White's place?"
 "I didn't think he'd need them," Betty replied. "Daddy said he eats like a horse."

members are coming in out-of-date costume. The luncheon, decorations, and program will follow the theme 'Remember the Time.'

From the original seven members the club has grown to more than 90. Forty years ago on October 20th, 1914, these women met to organize a club to improve and beautify Alpine and to provide entertainment throughout the year.

It was first called the Alpine Booster Club, then Monte Viejas club. In 1932 it affiliated with the Alpine Hall Co., became known as the Alpine Woman's Club Auxiliary. As the club grew, desire for their own clubhouse grew, and the treasury was built up with this project in mind. Thus when the opportunity came to buy the Alpine Hall in 1933 they were ready. MARY BALL ENGAGED Alpine Hall Co. until its dissolution on June 2nd, 1936, when the Alpine Womans' Club became incorporated and was able to handle the affairs of owning property and buildings.

Their achievements have been many through the years. The hall has been the scene of many benefits, dances, shows, political rallies and church meetings. Until the school auditorium was built it was the only large gathering place in Alpine.

They have participated in many major drives, were active in the Red Cross through both wars. The county library is in the clubhouse. Their activities in welfare are numerous, and the club has been a member of the Needlework Guild since 1921. Yearly the club has had Christmas baskets for needy families, and their interest in the Indians' welfare in Alpine was materially shown since 1921.
