

Tax money should build schools here, not be spent abroad!

CHICKEN STARTS FIRE, DIES!

Saturday morning flames demolished a chicken house on Sam Randazzo's place off Tavern Road. It was used by his son Alfred in 4H work with poultry and rabbits. It is believed that a chicken got onto a flykiller; was electrocuted, then burned, starting the blaze which quickly consumed the small building. About $12. in birds was lost and 5 rabbits were killed.

Note- Winona Copper on Tavern Road saw the fire start, took up her phone to report it, but two women were using the line. "I want to report the fire at Randazzo's" she said, whereupon one woman replied

MAY HAVE 3 SCHOOL SESSIONS

Unless more classrooms are forthcoming and money voted for running the school, triple sessions loom within a few years, is the opinion of Supt. Frank S. Brown.

Also, he points out, unless voters approve the raise in tax rate to $1.51 at the July 31 election, the cafeteria will have to close along with instrumental music and other services. Last year the proposed raise to $1.30 was defeated. Alpine's growth and an added enrollment of about 50 a year is the cause.

MORE ON PAGE 14

"Oh, that's been reported already". Miss Copper hung up, waited quite a time but there was no siren and no firemen, so she called the fire station to ask, but still none had been reported, so she informed them and promptly the fast truck answered her call, controlled the blaze.

This is a bad situation. It is against the law to hold a party line when anyone requests it for an emergency. While this involved only a chicken house, it might have been a home-- even lives at stake-- so a warning might just be in order.

GASTIL WINS FELLOWSHIP

Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Gastil are elated over the news that their son Russell has just been awarded a Ford Foundation fellowship for a year's study of the cultural change and stability in Fars Province, Iran. Young Gastil is a graduate of Grossmont and Harvard University. His brother is also an outstanding student.

Moreover, those who live in the country should share the phone with their neighbors.

Editorial*WATER FROM FEATHER RIVER?

With the coming of the dry season it might be well to again touch upon the water situation here, daily getting more acute with many wells going dry.

For some 10 years we have had a more or less steady drought. Dams that were once full, now hold but muddy gallons. Streams that often ran into August, are mere sandy washes. And wells that produced an abundance, are on the rocks, literally.

Alpine needs water and it needs it badly. Before this lovely community can develop as it should, to the point where a bank will come here and home loans are obtainable from FHA and banks, it must first have an adequate water supply.

Today we could get Colorado River water, but that will cost money. But many are spending thousands each year drilling wells and deepening old ones. Year by year this cost goes merrily on but hooking up to a big supply would stop that. Feather River water is 20 years off but what Alpine needs is water today, now. C.I.

DON'T FORGET FIRE MENACE

The Alpine Board of Fire Commissioners and Marshall Robt. Conard repeat their warning that the season for brush and grass blazes is here, so be sure to clean around incinerators and have spark arresters on them and never burn when wind blows. Weeds should be cleared 30 ft. around all buildings.

FINISH OILING DEHESA

County workers have completed the last 1/4 mile of oiling the newly aligned Dehesa Road from Tavern down. This gives the back country a *o. 2 route from the coast to Descanso where Japatul Road joins 80. In case of disaster should 80 be blocked, traffic would now have a fine artery that far up, about 40 miles from S.D. This route is now used by dozens of commuters of Alpine who work in South Bay areas.

WILCOX MOVES INTO NEW HOME

Another new family has moved here, the Roger Wilcoxes who are now at home in the dwelling they just built east of the R.D. Wilcox (his father) home off Tavern Road. He commutes to S.D. to the Aztec Iron Works, owned by his elder brother, Robert.

Highest honors and distinction in their major fields of study were earned by six, young Haydon being named for economics, as fifth in his graduating class of 1035 on June 8th.

He was accepted by Stanford University School of Law, where he will begin his studies in the fall. George also had the honor of receiving the Wall Street Journal Award (N6) presented which goes to the outstanding student in economics. He was nominated by Dr. Roy Cameron of S.D. in that department on the basis of his perfect straight 'A' average in this major field of study.

'I hope this note finds all well for you and Alpine. I hope to visit there soon to renew acquaintances. ### TROOP 105 HAD BIG NIGHT

The Boy Scouts had an impressive candlelight ceremony at their Court of Honor in the Youth Center on Monday, May 26. A Court of Honor is always a high spot for the troop as it is then that the boys who have worked hard and earned awards receive their recognition.

Jay Kenny received his Star Scout award, having earned five merit badges, and his one year service pin. Charles E. Bradley, who is already a Star Scout was awarded his First Aid Merit Badge and his 3 year pin.

Seven lads received their Tenderfoot awards; Dennis and Larry Chynoweth, James Coates, Bobby Keith, Mike Eggleston, Jimmy Hinds and Douglas Bowlus. A 3 year service pin was awarded to Tom Gilbert; a 2 year pin to Roger Rorie and a 1 year pin to Jimmy Vasquez.

Behind the boys are the men who aid the troop. Scoutmaster Bradley received his 5 year service pin which represents countless hours he has given to help Scouts. Don Mueller, president of the Troop Committee received his 1 year pin as did Phil Hall and Joe Kenny, Committee members.

The Scouts are excited now and looking forward to their long term camping trip to Camp Hual-Cu-Cuish in Cuyamaca. They leave for camp on July 1.

Scouts furnished a color guard for the dedication of the new flag pole at the Youth Center Grounds on June 17 at the Firemen-Youth Center barbecue.

There is a lot of activity in this group of boys and all will be better citizens for tomorrow because of what they have learned and have done for the community.

Enthusiast — "We have so many health food enthusiasts in this town people seldom get sick. Our people never die."

Leary Visitor — "But what is that funeral procession passing by?"

Enthusiast — "Oh, that's the end of our undertaker. He starved to death."

SUNBATHE BUT DON'T BURN

Up here in Alpine 'where the sunshine spends the year', the cult of the sun is rampant all year round and most outdoor lovers show the results in a good, healthy tan. But, for safety's sake, warns the American Cancer Society, don't overdo it as sometimes cancer may be brought on. Dr. David Miller, first veep of the society in S.D., points out that those of fair skin should shun burns as susceptibility is less among those with pigmented skins or with those that tan easily.

Note- The irritation of sunburn, faulty dentures, continued bruises, acids and smoking are today recognized as factors in the inception of cancer, so take heed and don't chance being the victim of this horrible and painful disease. - CI.

NEW INSPECTOR HELPS ALL

When the county opened its E.C. branch office recently it did a great service to the back country in many ways, a principal one being the building department. The new inspector is Milo Riche, who is getting acquainted hereabouts. 'Come in and get the permits' he says 'and we will give you prompt service and help you to get your building right, safe and according to code'. He says that many fires and other minor disasters can be averted if builders and 'do it yourself folk' will just follow the rules.

ANOTHER FAMILY BUYS

Paul S. Litchfield & wife are buying the Homolka property on Victoria Drive. They had purchased a pretty home on the path of the Freeway and had to find a place to put it. Before long another piece of Alpine acreage will be dotted with a home and garden. Fortunately it is not a barrack. Sale was made by Alpine Realty Co.

their home on Victoria Dr. He is now retired from practice in S.D.They report a marvelous trip but the doctor says 'We have no friends
in the world, everyone is jealous of the U.S. and they hate us. You can't buy friendship with foreign aid money. Many places don't need it anyhow, as King Saud with his great spending for luxuries at the cost of American taxpayers.'Dr. Tanner scored the black markets of Indonesia and Turkey,
described how they had to pay high prices. He said 'it is like those one-armed bandits up at Las Vegas-- they rob you on every hand'.They made hundreds of beautiful color photos, enjoyed the trip
immensely from a scenic and travel standpoint. While away Joe Markes lived on their place taking care of it for them.SCHOOL STORY FROM PAGE 1Note- A reader has suggested that we secure information on the plan of several school districts
in the north to whip the classroom shortage by running kindergartens into homes or church
buildings, allowing higher classes
to use their facilities, also
of getting portable classrooms
instead of expensive permanent ones.We wrote to the L.A. school board for a leaflet they have on this and will print the results
soon. The U.S. has just given Alpine $20,050. for new structures and it is said that we will be able to build two rooms but with the above plan we could get four.-CI.BARBECUE PAYS OFF WELLAlthough the Alpine firemen &
the Youth Center are still auditing returns from the joint barbecue
Sunday, spokesmen say that it looks as if they had made a record,
which will be verified at a meeting
tonight.

UNIQUE SHOP IN MOUNTAINS

Tucked away in picturesque spots around the beautiful back country are many thriving little businesses enjoying life to its fullest. One is that of H.A. Faulconer, master watchmaker of Descanso, who advertises regularly in the Sun.

Typical of the many unusual timepieces sent from all parts of the country for repairs or rebuilding the one pictured above is an early French example of the jeweled-lever escapement almost universally used in watches. This was sent by a collector in Riverside and extensive hand work was needed.

Restoration of 'oldies' is Faulconer's specialty, although he accepts watches of all kinds for repair. 'Nothing is more exciting,' he says, 'than a really fine watch with some irreplaceable part missing, which he has to make from scratch.'

His 'Sign of the Watchmaker' with its unique shop and latest electronic equipment is very interesting.
