BOND ELECTION APR. 14
Voters in this school district will again go to the polls from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Tuesday, April 14, to ballot on school bonds of $250,000., for building added classrooms to get off double-sessions.

As before, three polls will be open: Alpine School Auditorium, Community Hall in Harbison Canyon and Mrs. A. Little's home, Japatul Valley.

THIS DRIVER HIT THE HAY AND THE HAY HIT HIM-- HE FELL ASLEEP, HIT A BIG VAN HEAD-ON AND AN ONCOMING HAY TRUCK THEN HIT HIM, SPEWING ITS LOAD OVER HWY 80 ON VIEJAS CREEK BRIDGE AT 2:45 A.M. LAST SATURDAY. BLOCKED ROAD UNTIL AFTER DAWN. DRIVER, J. F. COMORRE, JR., HOLLYWOOD WAS INSTANTLY KILLED. HIS CAR TOTALLED. OFFICER J.R. HOMESLEY OF CHP SAID DRIVER APPARENTLY FELL ASLEEP, CROSSED WHITE LINE.

Although the bonds failed along with the state loan measure, the tax rate was accepted. A last minute mailing piece by the opposition, sponsors of the issue claim, 'pulled the rug out from under it'.

THE FUTURE OF AMERICA DEPENDS UPON THE EDUCATION OF ITS YOUTH. VOTE YES FOR SCHOOL BONDS

School Board Answers Queries on Bond Election

Here are highlights from details released by the school board on the coming school bond election:

BUILDINGS: Seven rooms for kindergarten thru Sixth. One for retarded, one health-office, plus restrooms, storage, etc.

Cost of Site & Buildings: Architect estimate, $288,852. Maximum allowable under state rule cannot exceed $316,084.65. Includes: construction, site, development (on & off-site), architect fees, all utilities, surveys, well, sewer & construction tests, wages, advertising, state architect & planning fees, furniture & equipment, allowance for contingencies.

Why a Full Site for Only 8 Rooms? It is sound to plan ahead due to area growth; full need will be required. Land costs less now than later. Site development delayed will have to be financed locally, as state aid cannot be used then. Present plans will provide acreage and utilities adequate for complete elementary plant. Expansion later will cost far less per room as basic facilities will have been provided.

Why $250,000. Bonds & $1 million from State? Present legal rules limit Alpine to $126,000, which would be applied to reduce existing state loan. The state would then furnish the total necessary for building program. Assuming this to be $300,000, it would leave a balance of $124,000, on the bonds, $700,000, on state apportionment. This does not mean the board gets a blank check as laws control such use.

What Are Legal Restrictions on Use of Monies? Bonded indebtedness cannot exceed 5% of assessed valuation. So no more than $1,600,000 in bonds can be marketed now, nor till some current bonds are retired or assessed valuation increases. Bond money cannot be used for any purpose not stated in election call. Unused part of state money cannot be used till number of pupils requires more facilities, determined by state rule on maximum square feet per pupil.

What Happens to $124,000 Bond Reserves & State $700,000?

Start Building New Home

Work got underway this week on a 2000-foot luxury ranch type home in the Highlands, reports Bill Brown, manager, Alpine Branch of L.M. Realty who sold the lot.

It is being built by Mr. and Mrs. K.G. Bacheller, from Littleton, Colo. A building contractor, he plans to erect more deluxe homes later, choosing the Highlands as a site for his own home because he believes in the advantages offered by proper restrictions and planning in this scenic subdivision.

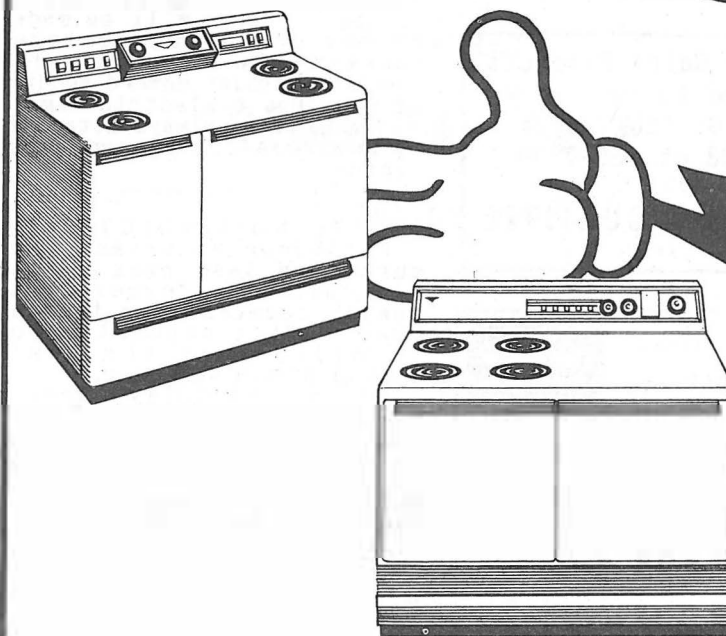

AT LONG LAST. A PLUMBER!
 Ever since Gene Wilcox quit his plumbing business and became a county building department inspector, Alpine has been minus this important service-- until Tom Casey started recently.

Two years ago Casey, a Lt. Cdr. of the navy, with his wife and daughter Kathy, bought the Harry Norse house on Flo Drive. He was retired February 1958. They like Alpine very much and already his service is going ahead.

STEARNS TO SHOW PHOTOS
 Community Church will hold its regular monthly family night dinner tonight at Fuller Hall. The Guild will furnish the meat. Please bring a salad, vegetable or dessert and table service.

Clarence Stearns, retired professional photographer, will show pictures and speak on photography.

'GOOD EGG' BREAKFAST DUE
The jolly annual session highlighted by the Good Egg Breakfast, of the egg industry of this county, will be at 8 a.m. on Thursday, April 4, with the debut of Miss 'Slick-Chick' for 1959. She is pretty Mary Lou Nicholas, 21, of E. C., a junior at State College, picked from a bevy of 13 lovelies. It will be in the Redwood Room, T & C Hotel.

Emcee will again be Hart Dunham, with Lloyd Geil, manager of Poultry and Egg National Board as principal speaker. Awards will be made by Ray Schwartz, western manager, and of course the county's popular Howard Keddle of S.D. Gas & Electric fame, on hand. It is always attended by numerous big eggmen from Alpine.

STARTLING PREDICTION!
Fallbrook Rotarians were surprised last week by the forecast of a former state realty commissioner that he sees a vast population of 20 million in the South coastal area by 1975.

He said he fully expects to see southern California built solidly from Santa Barbara to San Diego and inland to the mountains. He is Dean Watson, who for nine years was realty officer of the state.

4 TEACHERS RESIGN HERE
 With regrets Alpine school trustees accepted resignations of four teachers at Monday night's session. They are Mabel Trant, second grade, who prefers part-time work; Van Moody, Fifth, who finds it too far to drive up here; Catherine Hamilton, Sixth, for the same reason, and Elizabeth Kasper, Fourth, who wishes to be near her husband who is employed elsewhere.

Mrs. Jeanette Clements, popular bus driver, was also on the list, finds the work too much together with her household duties.

HACKNEY ESCAPES INJURY
 After closing his Club Alpine early Sunday morning he was driving up to visit cafe friends in Guatay when at the Wildwood curve a driver coming downhill at about 70 mph, forced Neil Hackney to swerve off Hwy 80. He slid over the bank, scraped under a big tree. The entire top of his car was sheared off and he only received a bruised hand and a shakeup. A trucker finally stopped, took him to Hilltop Garage which pulled in the wreck. The speeding motorist did not stop and was not apprehended.

We wonder why we speak of "common" sense. It isn't common at all.

SMALL TALK

by Cynthia Irvine
Age 10, 5th Grade

Boy, Easter vacation. We were going to go up to Redondo Beach but Mama has to help Daddy with his income tax so we can't go. We might get to go down to Agua Caliente Hot Springs and visit Dink and Ginney Frey. They are going down in their trailer Saturday to spend the week.

I went to Charlotte Wood's birthday party Saturday. She was 12 and we had a real nice time. She had some good news. Both of her brothers got the casts off their arms last week.

When I went with the twins to watch them have their tap dancing lesson I saw Lynn Blankenship with a patch over her right eye. She has to wear it until her other eye gets stronger.

Lorita Wilson missed her tap lesson Saturday because she wasn't feeling too good. She had her tonsils out last week and still had a sore throat.

Mama went to pick up Kathy Brock for Brownie meeting last Saturday and she was gone. She must have moved away from Alpine sometime last week as everything was gone.

Terry Buchmiller has his foot in a cast. He broke a bone when he was playing tennis.

I finally sold my rabbit to Frances Peterson. She is raising them for her 4-H project.

Diana Pekary and her mother and daddy are driving to Phoenix and Tucson for Easter vacation. They will be gone for a week.

Steve Woodall had a bandage over his eye last week. His dog bit him.

The twins have a new girl in their third grade. Her name is Robbin Range and she has one year old twin sister and brother. They were triplets but one had to die so now they have only twins.

We have a new girl on our street. Her name is Judy Ludwig and she is 17. She came from Evansville, Ind. She has a brother Phillip who is 15 and they like Alpine a lot.

Martin's goat had triplets one morning. They named them Romeo, Juliet and Theodore. And the next morning the other goat had 3 kids. They named them Midge, Mag and Midget. They gave one little baby to Libby Wake to raise for a pet and it is a cute little thing.

Carol woodie's toy collie had one baby. She might get to keep it.

The McCall kids get to go camping over to the Salton Sea during Easter vacation.

Those who do the most for the world's advancement are the ones who demand the least.

PTA NOMINATES NEW SLATE

There were many highlights at the last session of the PTA. Before the meeting parents browsed around to observe the display of exhibits by Julian Miller's Junior High science students. Ribbons were awarded to Jane Woodall and Marsha Sutterfield who won first prize. Sharon Knudsen and Jay Schaaf second prizes and Robert Jubeck a third. Honorable mention went to Tom Mathiason, Louis Guidette and Richard Peffley. Exhibits were judged by Dr. Boursky of Convair and Dr. Baum of the Naval Research Facility.

At the meeting, presided over by Mrs. Joanne Nichols, Mrs. Marie Kramer, chairman of the nominating committee, presented this slate of officers for next year: Peggy Hopkins, president; Jay Schuster, vice-president; Ruth Chynoweth secretary; Marge Cooper treasurer; Eleanor Kidder historian; Joanne Nichols parliamentarian. Election will be at the next meeting.

Andrew Wikholm, principal of Descanso elementary school was speaker. Wikholm gave an enlightening talk on the education of mentally retarded children.

A pie social climaxed the evening. Proceeds to go towards the 8th grade banquet.

ALPINE SCOUTS IN SURVEY
Scouts of Troop 105 had as their guest Monday John Hunter from the Survey Research Center, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. The university is conducting a national study of Scout troops for the purpose of getting the scoutmaster's reaction to the troop and the boys' reaction to the scouting program - whether or not he thinks scouting is good and whether it should be continued.

Throughout the U.S., 200 scoutmasters were chosen to be interviewed, also 98 troops. Alpine's Troop 105, with Scoutmaster Ray Partridge was one selected.

Partridge and the boys spent the evening filling out questionnaires to be used in the survey. Some questions asked: How would you rate your scoutmaster? How the scoutmaster rates the boys? How the father rates his boy. How do you rate yourself as a Scout? How often do you come to troop meetings? Do you think it would be a good idea if we didn't have rank? Who chooses patrol leaders? How often do your parents go to church?.

4-H PLANTS MEMORIAL TREE
Dedicated to the memory of Paul Black, late fire commissioner and civic worker, the 4-H Club held a ceremony at the fire station last Sunday week with Mike Robertson giving the eulogy. Miss Frances Peterson talked on aims of the 4-H, and Jeanette Jehl read Joyce Kilmer's immortal 'Trees'.

Grace reported that "Alpine responded real well, more than $1,000 will be the final count when everything is in which is much more than some larger communities around this area did".

A dinner is planned for sometime in May. Details to be announced.

SMITTY'S SERVICE MOVES

Jack and June Smith, noted for square dancing classes, also as local agent for Aeromotors, pumps and electrical services, have moved back to their home, 502 Arnold Way. Life Award to Mrs. Trail

Mrs. Hugh Trail sat in the audience at the PTA meeting last Tuesday evening, totally unaware that she was to be the recipient of the Honorary Life Membership Award. Such was her surprise when chairman Mrs. Ralph Frey made the announcement.

Mrs. Trail, who, with her husband, Hugh, lives on Alpine Terrace, has been in California since 1936, and in Alpine for 12 years. Her life, up to that time, was spent in Nebraska.

Mrs. Trail, who has a daughter, two grandchildren and a great grandchild, has shown an avid interest in the youth of Alpine. For 5 years she was associated with the Cub Scouts, assisting the cubmaster and acting as den mother, when she was needed. From this experience, she became interested in the Youth Center work, became affiliated with it, still serving as a member of the board. For the past four years, she has worked at the East County Fair, and on several occasions, has helped with barbecues put on by the 4-H. She was instigator of the last open house for the volunteer firemen of Alpine, and is chief welfare chairman of Civil Defense. Active in the Alpine Woman's Club, she is chairman through the club, of the San Diego Needlework Guild of America.

It is evident that Mrs. Trail has lead a full and busy life since she has lived in Alpine and is well deserving of this award.

manager, Alpine Branch, L.M. Realty, who says the investment protection afforded by the restrictive covenant in the Highlands will bring more homebuilders desiring the more costly type of dwelling with ample land, which points out the urgency of complete zoning for this community.

Bank Simplifies Loans

One of the biggest steps in banking has just been announced by Security First National Bank through A.J. Sutherland, sr., vice-president and chief administrative officer of the S.D. Division.

'It is Custom Credit, which includes benefits of both an installment loan and a checking account', he said.

The idea, unique in California banking, allows the user to buy for cash where and when he chooses, to his maximum personal advantage-- through the use of economical bank credit. Upon credit approval, one may use the cash simply by writing a check, borrowing against his loan, with no trips to the bank which merely bills him monthly, calling for payments commensurate with the amount in use.

'Basic economic questions answered by this approach to consumer credit' says Jas. E. Shelton, chairman of the board of the bank, 'are even more important than its unique service value to the individual family. We feel that the numerous forms of credit that are being offered the consumer today are involving a growing number of families in a complex web of obligations. Family budgeting becomes even more difficult. Our objective is to assist families in managing their financial affairs by establishing for them simple lines of credit. This approach is not fundamentally different from the type of bank credit long employed by industry.'

'Our philosophy, in brief,' Shelton added, 'is to do all that we can to help the customer become master of his own money. We want him to be a free agent when he is shopping and we seek to simplify the managing of the family budget.'

When enrollment rise requires more facilities, added bonds will be sold, but never exceeding 5% of valuation. Proceeds are applied to existing state loan and funds for building are drawn from credit balance of that loan. It may be repeated till bonds or state apportionment are consumed.

Why Bonds and State Apportionment More Than Present Need? State-aided districts find it near impossible to avoid half-day sessions if they must use lengthy procedures of election and planning every time they need rooms. Much is saved by fewer elections. As in the past, state funds may be exhausted. But when approval of apportionment is made, money is always available as needed. No interest is paid on unused parts of issue or state funds. It cannot be used till needed. The law was enacted for specific benefit of such districts as Alpine.

Why Not Build with Local Funds, Avoid State Debt? It is obvious that financial status cannot provide facilities from own resources. Local taxpayers have made their contribution to state building fund, are entitled to state aid. Interest is lower on state loans than on bonds. Any unpaid balance on state loan after 30 years is forgiven.
