BUY 5 RADIOS FOR FIREMEN

At Monday's meeting of Alpine Fire Board, on recommendation of Chief Malcolm Huey, jr., they authorized purchase of five more Plectron Radio Receivers, giving the department a total of 18, deemed sufficient for present manpower. Instead of the siren sounding, the station passes on the alarm to each fireman's home, a fast and efficient method of alerting all at once.

BENEFITS FOR COLD WAR VETS

New GI benefits, a law of Mar. 3 1966, are listed in a fact sheet now obtainable at the US Army Recruiting Station, 356 N. Magnolia, says MSgt E.R. Edwards, in charge. Included are home loans, medical care, relief, federal employment preference, job placement, educational and other items of value to the returnee or those entering the service.

FORDNEYS BUILD NEW HOME

If plans go smoothly, Mr. and Mrs. George Fordney will be in their new 3-bedroom home by Sept. 5th. Haydon Contractors are building the structure and making excellent headway. The freeway took their original home.

Mrs. Virgil Sanford entertained her Sunday School class with a party at the church last week. She teaches 17 youngsters, felt they deserved recognition for faithful attendance.

THIS IS not a four-square church, although it is in four square pieces having been moved down to Arnold Way and Tavern Rd., from E. Victoria. It is the first Baptist Church of Alpine, being assembled on the site of a former trailer park. Celeste got up early to get this with the sunlight on it. It will add greatly to the area.

Warn on Uncontrolled Waste of Tax Money

Enclosed with its monthly power bills, SD Gas & Electric Co. has given taxpayers a brief but startling resume of how the uncontrolled waste of tax dollars needs curbing, and at once.

The firm points out that bills now before Congress would establish a "federal electric bank", with a loan potential as high as $11 billion! It is underwritten by tax dollars, with no limitations. It would be for expanding

Rural Electrification Administration, (REA).

REA was started in 1935 to furnish power to remote rural areas where it was too costly to distribute it normally. Its purpose has been achieved; nearly 99% of all farms now have power.

But today nine out of 10 new REA customers are non farm! and 60% of REA loan money goes to generation and transmission facilities where existing local power suppliers are willing and able to provide service at competitive prices.

Loans have been made at only 2% less than half what it costs the government to borrow long-term cash today. Thus your tax dollars are used to support REA, which has outlived its original purpose.

REA is spending more than it should because it has ventured into fields not intended.

And, recipients of REA loans pay no income tax, contrasted with taxpaying, regulated utilities, which easily could provide service in those same areas.

Every taxpayer can help stop this blank-check legislation by writing to senators and congressmen urging them to defeat Bills HR 14837, HR 14,000 & S 3337.

WHEN THE Sheriff's office heard that Alpine was to have a bingo night, it sent Officer D. R. Oliver to tell Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sortino, in photo, that it is against the law. Oliver was quite pleasant and diplomatic, but firm in upholding the law. However they played bingo but not with money, so it was fun anyhow.

BINGO PARTY SUCCESSFUL

In spite of legal difficulties, the benefit bingo party Saturday night for Alpine's Pop Warner team, was an excellent success with over 70 participating and a net profit of $50 taken in.

Special thanks goes to everyone present who helped make the evening pleasant and also to Leo Ryan, Al Adams and Richard Zuelke for their cooperation.

Sunday Raymond Partridge, jr., will once more occupy the pulpit at Community Church in the absence of Dr. Roger Larson who is on a vacation tour of South America.

Marvin Silverman, Hatch serviceman, past president of La Mesa Branch 139, Fleet Reserve Assn., was elected to the office of Regional President, Southwest, Fleet Reserve Assn. at Disneyland Hotel, Sunday, Aug. 14.

MOATS BACK FROM LAKE
 Mr. and Mrs. Gene Moats and two children, Mary Eva Fitzgerald and Gene are back from a week visiting June Lake and Yosemite. They drove up in their air conditioned Buick station wagon, camped out every night. The falls were almost dry and we were so disappointed but we heard that during August they do not have much water go over. We loved the park, fished and enjoyed ourselves.

LIVELY OAKS DOINGS
 Monday Alpine's Lively Oakers met at the YC for their regular meeting and enjoyed an interesting demonstration by Judy Lee in stencil painting. The members showed quite a bit of interest and the paints and patterns are for sale.
 Aug. 29th the club is having a big party with prizes and fun for all. Emma Holmes, publicist for the club, invites all to come early, bring your lunch and stay all day.

ming her mother is preparing a nice feast for us so members, plan on being there.

Monday I called Melva Riley for news and she has two wonderful buys in registered quarter horses. She has Danger and Dina who were bred by Skip Beau and Poco Stripe at $750 each and they are both beautiful horses. Call her at 445-3648 if you are interested.

Fritz Hirsch had his two Shetland ponies for sale and after I had talked to his mother decided I wanted them so went down Wednesday and picked them up. Fritz had to sell them as he didn't have a place to board them and his parents thought it best that he sell the 2-year old mare and a 14-month old colt.

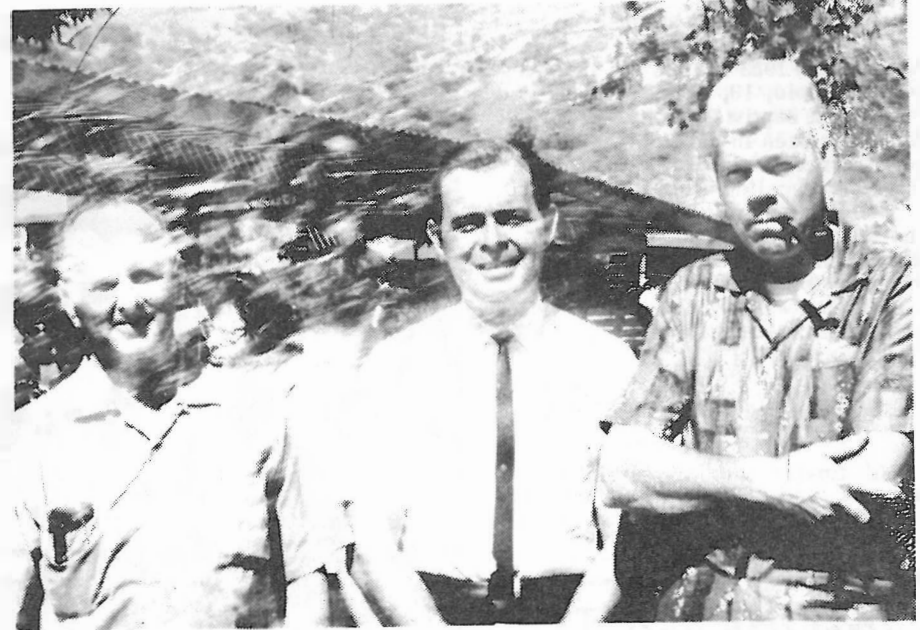

Peggy Moran, Eileen Dun's sister, has a horse in the Del Mar races. His name is Rubbish Man and he came in 5th Monday. They all have hopes of him doing better before the season is over. He has won several times at Caliente but is up against some real competition at Del Mar.

Our sympathy goes out to Pat Mitchell who had waited 11 months for a colt from her mare Heidi, only to have it die two hours after it was born. Dr. Immenschuh couldn't find a thing wrong with it but it never got on its feet and she felt real bad about it.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Godwin and her father Joseph Webb drove down from Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Allen of Tavern Road for a week. Mrs. Godwin is a schoolgirl friend of Mrs. Allen, enjoyed their visit very much.

THE JOB APPLICANT had easily filled out one of those four-page questionnaires, but was perplexed at the query: "Person to notify in case of accident?"

He finally wrote in the blank: "Anybody in sight."

Griffin gave the day's talk on progress of the society and its bright outlook for future growth. He authored "The Fearful Master", one of the society's books, also narrated its films and film strips.

CONTINUE WITH US FORESTRY

At the last session of Alpine's fire commissioners it was decided to keep up an agreement with the US forestry to cooperate on working arrangements for fires in the area. The agreement was drawn up by Asst. Chief Jack Blankenship. The two bodies have been working together for many years. Prior to the local fire department's formation, the only protection for Alpine was the forestry.

Funeral was in Wixom, Mich., recently for Chester Broni, Alpine property owner, who died suddenly while on a trip back there with his wife.

They owned the home and considerable land on Hwy 80 near the forestry station which has been taken for the freeway.

Mrs. Broni came here, then returned east, plans to stay in their home on the island of Kauai, Haw. Broni had been a machinist with Henry Ford in the early days, later owned his own manufacturing business in Detroit. He heeded the sage advice of Ford many years ago, bought raw land near growing towns, which yielded many successful sales.

She said "100,000,000 of them flew out at 6:30 and hunted for food for 2½ hours, then returned and the sky was literally all black/" Was absolutely impossible to believe unless you witness it yourself and we wouldn't have missed it for the world."

Daughter Ginney drove out with them, returned to duty in Washington, DC, Thursday.
