FIRST COUPLE IN ALPINE VILLAGE

Here is the first couple to move into the fine new Alpine Village, the adult apartment complex abuilding on the old Vineyard hill, with address of 2055 Arnold Way (445-4500).

They are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. England, from SD. At right is the resident manager, Duane Cracola, who, with his wife, is about the busiest man in town getting people moved in and superintending the many problems that come up every minute.

NEW OWNER AT ALPINE COTTAGES

The 22 units on 2 acres known as Alpine Cottages, 2250 Alpine Blvd. has just been acquired by Harry Coates of Western States Realty in EC. Sale was as of April 1. Mrs. Marjory Dady, formerly of Phoenix, took over as manager. Jameson and his wife Carna, who had managed the place, left for a vacation.

Seller was Wheaton College, a religious group of Wheaton, Ill., which received the gift property on an annuity basis from the builder, Mrs. Kate Carl-

The Englands came up from La Mesa where he has been in real estate, also farming. They like Alpine fine, are quite happy with their apartment No. 29, took a subscription to the Sun so they will know all that's going on in their new hometown.

strom, who lives in one house back of the units. No price was disclosed.

"We feel Alpine is a good place to own property now", Coates told the Sun when giving details of the sale and taking a subscription, "the place has a big future."

Have you noticed how the rain and sun have brought out lots of beautiful blue wild lilac around thia area? Marie Fuller, of Arnold Way reports a gorgeous blooming bush in front of their house.

CORDRY PLACE IS SOLD

Mr. & Mrs. Jerry Butts have purchased the 4-acre and house on Glen Oaks Dr. from Wm. Cordry, reports Betty Hodges of Alpine Realty, who made the sale.

ALPINE VILLAGE OPENED

On April 1 power and gas were turned on in the new Alpine Village and furniture moved in to some of the houses, reports Duane and Odessa Cracola, in charge. They are now living in the manager's quarters, and the office has replaced the temporary trailer booking rental office.

The Cracolas have worked for Auren Pierce, developer, before, having run the Park Madison for three years in EC. At presstime the roads were being paved and soon the area will be landscaped.

NEW FOLKS LIKE ALPINE

John Stingle, retired newsmen of LA who has wintered here, with his daughter Marilyn Lee, has moved from Willowside Terrace, to one of the Smith Cottages, 1548 Olivewood Lane.

Mrs. Lee is an author's writer, keeps busy on many MSS, was for years on the LA Examiner where she conducted a youth page.

For Easter vacation she is entertaining her cousin, little Miss Ruth Ann Herman, 10, of Pasadena, who likes Alpine fine, wants to ride a horse.

TAX DEADLINES APPROACHING

State and federal income taxes are due, postmarked before 5 p.m. on Tues. April 15. But county taxes are due April 10, next Thursday.

Pat Naud of the H&R Block, Income Tax Office, 2140 Alpine Blvd. reports that the final two weeks of taxtime as usual keeps her more than busy.

BUNNY HOP AT STALLION OAKS

Not that the Descanso guest ranch has been hibernating, but spring is everywhere, and for the Easter weekend Ed Torgersen, owner, and Tony Hutchins, manager, are staging a big Bunny hop tomorrow night, music by the "Emotions".

KIWANIS BREAKFAST LOOKS GOOD

Everything is all ready for the annual Easter Breakfast in the school auditorium, says Pres. Luther Mohr. W. S. Collier, head chef and his crew have everything ready. They look for a bumper crop of appetites.

Victuals will be served from 8 to 12. Adults $1., kids 7 to 12, 50¢ and tots to age 6, only 35¢. The stunt is worthy: to raise funds for youth activities.

ONLY 11 DAYS TO TAX TIME!

Pat Naud, manager of the busy H&R Block Income Tax Service office, 2140 Alpine Blvd., says time is running out for getting 1968 returns in before deadline April 15. Nuf sed!

COST OF FOOD, MONEY, LUMBER, TOO HIGH!

Recently banks jumped prime interest rate to 7½% - approaching usury - which means that mortgage interest rises also.

Our Congressman, Lionel Van Deerlin, D-SD, former news and TV reporter, and a staunch booster for this area, says that these soaring costs are "threatening to price average SD county folks out of the homebuying market".

He told the House Subcommittee on Housing that "matters are reaching the desperation point;" submitted testimony in response to an invitation by the subcommittee, which is investigating problems besetting the building industry.

"The cost of lumber once accounted for about 6½% of the price of a home," Van Deerlin said. "Now it represents nearly 13%." And in a recent 14-day period, the price of lumber in California shot up $10 per 1000 board feet, or 7%.

In the past year, increases in lumber and wood products have boosted the cost of a typical home by about $2,000, the Congressman testified.

"The trend is obvious - and ominous," he said. "Fewer people are going to be able to buy homes, and many honest contractors will be driven out of business when they cannot make good on wildly fluctuating material costs."

He said Congress has a duty to protect both buyers and builders from the "devastating effects" of inflation.

Every month the food index goes up. A few short years ago we thought a nickle for an apple was high but now a big apple costs 15¢ or more! And all fruits and produce are higher than ever.

Well do I remember the soaring prices just before that tragic Oct. 29, 1929 when the depression hit and so many jumped out of windows.

Perhaps it might be well to be prepared for the worst in this present situation. Maybe everyone should dig a cellar and stock it against a day when bread could go to $1 a loaf!

Which reminds me, now is a good time to start a little garden so you won't have to pay 29¢ it is for a head of sprayed lettuce! - CI

READER HAS SOME SCHOOL VIEWS
Dear Editor:

I appreciate Mr. Wm. F. House's concern about the forthcoming school board election, but wouldn't Mr. House and other interested voters like to ask the candidates some questions concerning the Alpine School District? These candidates are running for the Alpine School Board, not the University of California!

Sincerely,
Betty Brooks

YC NEEDS YOUNG HELP

The Youth Center is looking for two capable young men to help with the sports activities during the YC summer program. "It's a good chance to earn some cash and have fun at the same time" says Al Adams, prexy of the organization. The assistants will be working with a full time director who will see that Alpine area children will have a well-rounded program of arts, crafts and sports to keep them busy five days a week. All area children from 5 and up are welcome at the program during the months of July and August" say officials. The only requirement is a $1. annual membership card which may be purchased at the summer program if your family does not already have theirs.

FLORIST MOVES TO REA SHOP

Chas. & Barbara Roberson, owners of EC Florist, have just moved to the nice little building formerly Granny's Kitchen, 176 Rea Ave. It was almost a florist shop with its many decorations. There is plenty of parking, too.

"We are happy to serve Alpine and the back country", they say, also have the FTD wire service for flowers anywhere.

AMBULANCE SERVICE OFFERED

In order to evade the high costs of public ambulances, Peter Dart, of Campo, who operates a subscription service for the Mt. Empire, was in Alpine last week checking out the possibility of establishing such a service here.

"Cost is only $20 a year per family", he says, "which allows three calls in the year". He adds that at least 500 members must sign before the service can be started.

Dart will appear before the Monday meeting of Veterans of WW1 in Fuller Hall to explain details. He plans to speak to other groups soon. Details may be had by addressing him P. O. Box 216, Campo, Ca. 92006, or phone 478-5375.

SENIORS PAY HONOR TO IKE

Emma Holmes, president, Alpine Lively Oaks, at Monday's session had the club observe a minute of silence in memory of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, former president and chief of all forces in WW2, reports Nola Brabazon, club publicist.

They welcomed back John Reynolds who was hospitalized, were also glad to learn that Erna Earle is home, and doing fine. Burt Cassidy told some jokes, enjoyed by the 17 members on hand. Hostesses were Mrs. Martin Backstan and Mrs. Monte Werner. Card games were enjoyed.

On April 20 they will attend a "thank you tea" for the Senior citizens' queen, Mrs. Gracie Morley in Coronado, members going by charter bus. Details from Mrs. Jim Pinkerton, 445-3865.

UNIQUE ART AT LIBRARY FOR APRIL

Katherine Chene spent several hours arranging her many specimens of "Operation Salvage" in the library for this month's art exhibit, says Mrs. Elizabeth West, librarian. The display is quite unique, being made up mostly of salvaged items that attract attention. Picture in next issue.

BRIDAL SHOWER HONORS ALPINE

Saturday night friends of Donna Schwenck gathered at the home of Cecile & Celeste Irvine, Tavern Rd. and showered her with many beautiful gifts. Donna is getting married June 20th to Norman Dickman of EC., is a student at SD State College.

Seated next to Donna is Marion Bell and Sheri Jerney in corner.

The Alpine section of freeway "has put us several minutes closer to Alpine, and better to San Diego, and when the next two stretches are done, we'll practically be in Alpine!", says Ed Torgeresen, of Stallion Oaks Guest Ranch. Descanso.

Bob and Glo Newton and two children spent last weekend in Laguna Beach where they attended a unique party for Glo's sister-in-law, Dasa Cutkomp, who just became an American citizen. They enjoyed their trip and had a grand time.

I BELIEVE--

1. In fiscal responsibility- getting maximum, efficient results with taxpayers money.
2. In providing an excellent academic and vocational training.
3. In hiring educators that are examples of law-abiding citizenship.
4. In assuring a peaceful, cultured, and academic atmosphere at Grossmont College.

I DO NOT BELIEVE-

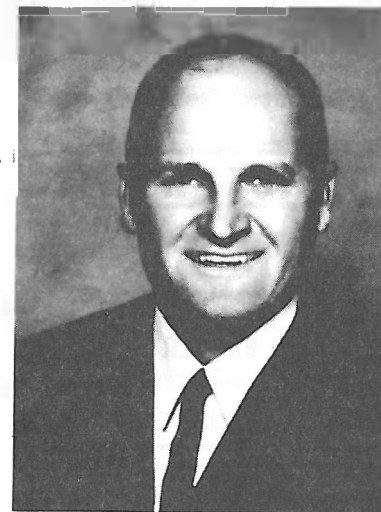

1. In using tax money for costly social experiments which have minor value to the primary task of the College which is training students in academic and vocational excellence.
2. In hiring avowed Communists. It is ridiculous for us to subsidize our own destruction;
3. In letting subversive and nihilistic organizations such as the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) organize at Grossmont College-- If we want our schools to teach the constitutional and peaceful processes of change.
4. In allowing militant and violent students to destroy public school property; nor dictate the professors to be hired and fired; nor to intimidate law-abiding students and faculty.

IF ELECTED, I WILL REPRESENT:

1. The taxpayers, who have made the GIFT OF EDUCATION available.
2. The law-abiding citizens.
3. The sincere, education-seeking students.
4. The hard-working, dedicated faculty.

BACKGROUND

I am a native of San Diego, graduate of Grossmont High School and have attended Ventura College and the University of Maryland. Volunteer firemen, let by Chief Dale Bennett, did a fine job of handling the fire which consumed the Miller place Sunday.

The Millers lost all they had as they were not at home at the time.

"I saw the smoke and heard the siren" Mrs. Miller said, "as I was visiting at the Convalescent Center at the time".

Their son Charles was lucky as his ham radio set and equipment were in the garage, which was not burned.

HORSE TALK

By the Double C's

If you want to watch the Lakeside Rodeo Queen contest, be at the school gym tomorrow at 1. The following entered: Petty Sattler, Karen Nelson, Holly Riding, Stacy Robinson, Brenda Hartman, Terry Plympton, Victoria Young, Justine Curtis, all from Lakeside, and Linda Rushing, only entry from Alpine.

The rodeo is scheduled for April 17-19, in conjunction with the Lakeside Family Fair. Proceeds will help complete El Cap's stadium. We helped on many money raising projects for this stadium and are happy to see it nearly finished even though we graduated two years ago.

Steve and Stacy King moved from their home on Tavern Road to El Cajon. They took their horses and are members of Alpine Riding Club. They sold their home and business to Doug Benson and his family.

Don't forget the pony show tomorrow in Lakeside at the Tumbleweed ring. Entry fees are $2. It is approved by the SD County Exhibitors' Assn. and the Junior Horsemen. Should be interesting with Rocky Wright judging.

Ginny Blanton, former Alpiner, was going to a horseshow Sunday when a truck and trailer whipped on a turn in El Cajon and ran her off the road. She was towing two of her horses and luckily didn't turn over. She and the horses were slightly injured but nothing permanently.

John Hendricks bought the nice saddle Maureen Carrell had for sale in the last issue. It was a real buy too.

We have never been at an Easter Sunrise Service but would like to go. Several Alpiners always attend the one held in Lakeside and now the Crest riders are scheduling one for Sunday starting at 5; Hope it is a nice, clear day. Rev. Woodhouse will preside over the services. We would try to go to one of them but are not going to be home Sunday.

We just learned that members of El Cap's stadium fund are staging an all-day gymkhana show the 12, and Sunday an equitation show at Tumbleweed ring. Gymkhana entry fees are $1. per class. Sunday's show is $2. to enter with Rusty Hunter judging.

Nikki and Bob Menconi brought home their Appaloosa stud Polka Dot Panda Monday afternoon. We weren't home or would have gotten his picture for this issue.

Alpine Riding Club has planned a ride and barbecue today starting at the Scully house with the riding going to the river and then back for food at their house on Tavern. Sounds like fun but we will be looking at the Grand Canyon for the first time we hope. We had planned on going to Oregon but just didn't have the time so will go when school is out.

Interested in Arabian horses? If you are, there is a beautiful show going on today thru Sunday at the Del Mar Fairgrounds. More than 1,000 entries have been booked so far and it is a benefit for the Pop Warner Football Club.

The show will have a complete variety of western and English classes and a special 200th Anniversary costume class, and a parade of champions plus the Sunday costume classes when the horses and riders will be decked out in exotic Arabian attire.

A charge of $1 for adults and kids over 12 for the afternoon and evening performances.

TRAILER PARK PROGRESSING

Now that the rains seem to have eased-- for awhile anyhow-- work is going ahead well on the 151-space Vista Alpine Mobile Home Estates, 2400 Alpine Blvd.

Shown working on electrical installations for the fine recreation hall, is the electric and plumbing contractor, right, Lee Grooms, of Santa Ana. At left is his assistant, Larry Gilson, of the Willows.

Date they hope to have first trailers in is May 10, if no more rain delays. Pavers are ready to blacktop all drive-ways and spaces, and Pacific Telephone is winding up installations, reports Resident Manager, Wm. Burrell.

Senior (at a basketball game): "See that big substitute down there playing forward? I think he's going to be our best man next year."

Here is the large, well appointed recreation hall at Alpine Village which is now open. The genial managers Duane Cracola and his wife are shown, with the huge fireplace at the back wall. The handsome furnishings are from Gustafson's in SD and Robert Gustafson, who lives in Palo Verde, saw to it that the setup was in keeping with the Spanish motif which will be used throughout the 290 units, 77 of which are nearing completion.

The Cracola's son, Wayne Doubrava, is an air traffic controller at Lindbergh

Field, being there a year after training at Gillespie.

The building is equipped with kitchen, card rooms and so on, and will be the scene of many jolly parties as the village is settled.

Rev. Jim Graves, pastor of Clairemont So. Baptist Church, is substituting for a few weeks at the First Baptist Church of Alpine, Tavern at Arnold, while the Rev. Caddell is on leave due to health problems.

GAS KILLS GIRLS IN CAMPER

Deadly monoxide seeping into a camper apparently killed Kerry, 4, and Cindy, 5, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle D. Jacquot, of SD while en route from Santee to Descanso where they discovered the tragedy. They were on their way to a weekend campout, stopped to check the sisters. CHP officers failed with oral resuscitation. Later in EC Valley Hospital they were pronounced dead.

Note- It is against the law to ride in a trailer, perhaps campers should be included, or some means should be used to test for gas while underway. -Ed.

LNG COMES TO ALPINE VILLAGE

Alpine does not realize it, but it has a big gas tank, as shown here. It is one of those new LNG (liquefied natural gas) installations of SDG&E south of Alpine Village, where residents are daily moving in.

For LNG it requires special tanks and equipment which workers are adjusting. When natural gas comes to the area in a few years, heaters and ranges will not have to be changed, because LNG is the same pressure as ordinary gas-- not propane.

OPEN MEETING TUESDAY

On Tuesday, April 8 at 7:30 pm, there will be a school board OPEN CANDIDATE MEETING at the school auditorium.

"Here is an opportunity for voters and parents to personally question the six candidates and hear their views" says the Alpine PTA and League of Women Voters, who are sponsoring the event.

Our tax system is based on the law of supply and demand. We supply the amount, the tax collector's demand.

CESARIOS VISIT FORMER HOME

Mr. & Mrs. Arthur Cesario, who lived here several years, now of Tucson, were here last week visiting friends and relatives.

Here they are painting the sign on their corner, Tavern Road and Arnold Way, which is for lease. They owned the old white 2-story house, a pioneer structure, but sold it. They still retain some acreage here, keep abreast of happenings by taking the Sun. "No doubt about it" says Cesario, "Alpine now has a great future with the freeway".

A miss is as good as a mile, but you can have a lot more fun with a miss!

GUSTAFSON HAS MODEL DISPLAY

Bob Gustafson, local resident, of the large furniture firm in SD that advertises in the Sun, working with Auren Pierce, developer of Alpine Village, the 290-unit adult apartment project here, has furnished tastily one, a model home, which is being shown daily by the Village managers, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Cracola.

Shown here is Pierce, left, with his co-developer, Norman J. Dahn. Gustafson has each room beautifully appointed, from furniture to pictures and smallest details.

This week the two firms are jointly going into the city papers with large ads telling of the project, first 77 units now nearing completion with a dozen or more moving in this week.

ANCIENT HOUSE AND GUMS RAZED

When Standard Oil Co., starts building shortly on the corner, Alpine Blvd. & S. Marshall, gone will be this old steep-roofed house recently vacated by Bill Brown, realtor, standing in foreground. It is thought to be built in the 1880's, and the eucalyptus trees, perhaps planted earlier on the old wagon road.

Alpine Tree Service, Tucker & Sons, are felling the giants which become firewood at their yard up the street.

Many people have taken pieces of shake roofing, boards and other mementos of the old place.

STALLION OAKS ADDS 60 ACRES

Ed Torgersen, owner of Stallion Oaks Guest Ranch, Boulder Creek Road, Descanso, just bought 60 acres adjoining his place for $55,000. Seller was Hamilton McKelvey, to Torgersen and Raymond Howard. They plan to develop the property as a large resort.

Here is a chance to win your weight in ice cream if you are 6 to 10 years old. The SD Milk Council is sponsoring a contest this month for writing the best "Why I like Milk" letter to them.

25 runners-up will attend a "Kid - Pleasing Breakfast" at the SD Zoo, Saturday, April 12, followed by a tour and a Skifari ride.

Entries can be of any length, but must be postmarked by today April 4. They will be judged on the basis of originality, thoughtfulness, and age of entrant.

Mail entries to SD Milk Council, 304 Ivy St., San Diego 92101. Winners will be notified by mail.

Ward Cushing says a nice husky-like little dog, without tags came to his home and if the owner doesn't show up, he will keep the animal. It is too bad people drop off dogs and cats instead of taking them to the pound.

All you kids between the ages of 4-9, be at the Youth Center Sunday at 2 and try your luck at finding the golden Easter Eggs, plus colored ones, that the 4H Amigos hid all around the area there. Nice prizes await the lucky ones.

JoAnn Villa is busy this week with the new little lamb she got from Mrs. Jerney for her 4H project. Her parents helped make the pen for the animal and now she has her hands full taking care of the steer and now the lamb.

Cecile and I gave Donna Schwenck a nice bridal shower at our home Friday night and she received some very useful gifts. Donna is engaged to Norman Dickman and they are getting married June 20.

Mark Schutzer's sister Cathy is flying down tomorrow to spend her Easter vacation with them, then they are all driving back to Reseda on Sunday to spend the holiday with his parents.

Mary Ann Hatcher moved to Whittier to make her home with her sister and brother-in-law, likes it very much.

Nancy Mitchell had a baby girl last week in Arkansas where she and Billy live. They named her Monica Marie. Nancy used to work in the Western Wear when they were living in Alpine, will be remembered by quite a few Alpiners.

Yvonne Randall is expecting her husband Randy home this weekend from Vietnam, says it has been a long, long wait but is glad he came through without any injuries.

KIWANIS ORATORY WINNERS

They spoke before the club at its Saturday breakfast last week in the Log Cabin Cafe, where they meet every Saturday at 7.

TRACTOR FLIPS, KILLS MAN

Frederick Gilbert, 44, of 3874 Mt. Blackburn in SD, was working on a tractor at his rental place, 1511 Alpine Terrace, Wednesday afternoon when it turned over on him, going down a 10' bank. He was pinned underneath, rescued by Lutz' Garage and Alpine Fire Dept. An ambulance took him to EC Valley Hospital where he was DOA on arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burrell, managers of Vista Alpine Mobilhome Estates, have been entertaining her cousin Mrs. Minna Mueller, of Falls City, Nebr. She has not seen her since she was 16, and they enjoyed a month's visit here.

WILL TRY FORMING VFW POST

Frank Forneris has slated a meeting in Fuller Hall for Wed. April 9 at 7:30 in an endeavor to form a post of Veterans of Foreign Wars. W.E. Sinclair, past commander, 1964-5, of Encanto Post 6847, will be here to explain details, objects and so on.

"All veterans interested are invited to be present" says Forneris, who may be reached for details at 445-4533.

TORGERSEN STARTS TRAIL RIDES

With exuberant spring in the air, Stallion Oaks Guest Ranch in Descanso, says owner Ed Torgersen, is starting some exciting early morning rides. April 5, 7, 9, 11 & 12, they saddle up at 6:30, ride an hour, then back for a whopping ranch breakfast. At 8 they start out again, returning 1½ hours later. "Reservations are needed", says Tony Hutchins, manager, 445-4179.

DEL MAR FAIR BOOKS BIG SHOWS

Free entertainment in the grandstand at the 1969 So. Calif. Expo in Del Mar, June 25 July 6, has been signed, reports R.J. O'Connor, manager.

Heading the talent is good old Jimmy Durante, Dale Robertson, Poncie Ponce, the Hawaiian TV star, supported by the Romanos, a family bike act, and Rudy and Annie, a laughable juggling team, plus the Far Western Rodeos featuring top riders and ropers.

Everything is shaping up nicely for this, the 80th annual SD County fair, says O'Connor.

SD COUPLE BUILD, MOVE HERE

Jas. Badami and his wife Sue, who have lived in SD for 21 years, coming out from St. Louis, completed building their nice home at 1725 Foss Road, moved in Wednesday.

Badami is a breadman with Weber Baking Co., in SD, bought the 1-1/3 acres some time ago, and are delighted to make their home here.

BEESON TRUCK DRIVER ESCAPES

Last week Rodney Cruse, 23, driving one of Beeson Disposal Service's big trucks escaped injury when wet earth on oiled road above Honey Hill let go, turning the truck over.

"We were really lucky" Benson told the Sun, "for Rodney was unhurt and it just bent the rear-view mirror when it went over the 6' bank".

Judge: "Did you have control of the car at the time of the accident?"

Man: "No sir, My wife was with me."

NEW FAMILY ENJOYS ALPINE

March 21 the Sun reported the arrival of the Benton family to 2358 Tavern Rd., where they bought the King Meat Processing firm and the house on 3.2 acres, originated by Virgil Wake some years ago.

Here is the Benson family after enjoying breakfast Sunday, from left: Doug's father, Alfred E. (Bennie) Benson, detective on the EC Police Dept., his daughter, Barbara Jean, 15, Mrs. Emma Benson, Peggy, Doug's wife, and Doug; and in front, their two kiddies, Mickie Lynn, 5, and Doug, jr., 8, with pets. They are in front of one of two new 15x15 foot refrigeration boxes which take care of added volume to the business, now known as Alpine Meat Co.

"We are equipped to do fast freezing" says Doug, "and can handle almost anything in this line and at competitive prices".

Some people's voices are hard to distinguish over the phone.

NICE PUBLICITY FOR ALPINE

As told recently in the Sun, the SDG&E Lite Lines, is sending out to all patrons with billing, this month, their cute little leaflet featuring this area. It is headed "A Community We Serve: Alpine" with a drawing and sketches of two horses, on the next page.

The Sun had the pleasure of driving Don Everberg, who prepared the story, around Alpine, and delving into its files for information which he used to good advantage. A nice tribute, indeed.

KITE CONTEST AT McCALL'S

Mrs. Ann Ferguson, teacher at McCall's Ranch School, is having some exciting kite flying contests for the youngsters in intermediate grades.

In the one just finished Nickey Nacca, 11, was first; Richard Franklin, 10, second, and Harold Pitt, 11, made third. More contests will be flown, the tournament going from March 28 to April 7 during the holiday.

The school now has 40 students enrolled, 1st grade through 10th, says Blanche McCall, principal.

OPTIMISTS INSTALL NEW MEMBERS

Last week Leo Manolakos, prexy of Alpine Optimist Club installed four new recruits: Andy Andermath, Ben Hale, Jack Young and Ray Bauman. Tom Nichols was put in previously, and two more are to be installed shortly.

Alpine Sun, April 4, 11, 18, 25, 1969

From earliest times, people with respiratory troubles came to Alpine for the relief its mild weather promised. To this day, the local newspaper, The Alpine Sun, says on its masthead, "Best Climate in the U.S. by Government Report." And the Sun's editor adds, "When the weather is bad here, it's worse everywhere else."

Horseback riding is a popular activity, and the big event of the year is Viejas Days Horse Show (May 10 and 11), which draws entries from as far away as Phoenix.

Despite its name, Alpine is not on a mountaintop. Elevation of the town ranges from 1,800 to 2,600 feet, which the Chamber of Commerce points out is above the fog, beyond the smog and, most of the time, below the snow level.

The 4,300 residents of Alpine include retirees, health seekers, poultry ranchers and local businessmen. Completion of the freeway should bring more people who will live in Alpine and commute to jobs elsewhere. As a consequence, the pace of housing construction has stepped up. Further gains to the economy are expected as newcomers are drawn by Alpine's relaxed country living.

SPRING THIS YEAR is bringing more than blossoms to the rural community of Alpine. Sometime in April, massive road-building machines will complete Interstate 8 through the town, making it just 30 freeway miles from San Diego.

Although Alpine has become easier to reach due to road improvements over the years, it has always seemed remote from city life. The freeway will speed up development of the area, but Alpine is likely to remain a refuge for people who like fresh air and horses.

Homesteaders first settled in Alpine around 1860, when the community was known as the Viejas stop on the stage line from Lakeside to the gold mines at Julian. The name was derived from 4,180-foot Viejas Mountain, northeast of town. One of the settlers said the countryside reminded him of the Swiss Alps, and in 1900, the residents decided to change the name officially to Alpine Center.

I've been in love with the same woman for 30 years. If my wife finds out, she'll kill me.

FIRE BURNS MILLERS OUT

Sunday afternoon around 3:15 while Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Miller were out, the 2-bedroom home owned by A. R. Carlson of Gorden Real Estate, 955 S. Grade Road, burned almost to the ground taking with it most of the possessions of the Miller family. Only thing that was saved was son Charles' ham radio equipment that was in the garage. Their beautiful, near new piano was gone, stereo and records, coin collections, etc. They have some insurance but said "not near enough to cover the loss".

They are looking for a home to take care of their immediate needs till something permanent can be secured. Mrs. Miller and her husband own and operate Alpine Printing Co., 2251½ Alpine Blvd.

TUCKERS CUTTING BIG OLD TREES

Alpine Tree Service, the new business here, run by Henry Tucker and sons Wm. and Thomas, are busy removing those tall, ancient eucalyptus from the corner of Alpine Blvd. and S. Marshall. It is preparatory to the contractor starting construction of the new Chevron Station on the Bill Brown property. Quite an improvement, too.

PO GOING MODERN

Postmaster H. T. Magnussen has just installed numerous new and modern distribution boxes, three being shown here for the route with Carrier Mike Lepage, left, and the substitute, Jimmy Rhea, caught by the Sun lensman one morning as they "worked up" the mail.

They now have 600 boxes on the single route - which should be two - with 670 families, and 2000 patrons! It is 67 miles long, but extended temporarily by 8 miles due to the closing of Alpine Blvd.

It is easy to see why the large, new postoffice is badly needed here. And more so with the opening this week of Alpine Village, and the big new trailer park to be ready next month.
