

Area Students Win Awards

SAN DIEGO — Three students, Kathleen M. Robertson from Julian Union High School, Sherry Van Fleet from Mountain Empire High School and Carolyn Sangster from El Capitan High School, won outstanding student awards at a California Savings and Loan League recognition dinner this Friday at the Kona Kai Club in San Diego.

Each of the winners was presented with a check for $100 and an engraved medalion.

The dinner was attended by high school principals, faculty representatives, school administrative officials, parents of the students and Savings and Loan executives.

HORSE SHOW IS KEY ATTRACTION

DEL MAR — The 20th annual National Horse Show, one of the San Diego County Fair's key attractions, will offer 12 days of competition, opening June 24 and closing July 5. The Fair itself opens an 11-day run June 25.

Contestants will vie for open show premiums totalling $26,500, in eleven $500 stakes, two at $250 and one at $1,000. More than 100 performance classes in the open show will average $125 per purse.

Eric Atterbury, now in his sixth year as manager of the world's largest horse show, said he expects about 1750 horses to come to Del Mar, about 5,000 entries. Deadline for entries is May 24, a week earlier than last year.

Former Publisher Visits in Alpine

ALPINE — Franklin A. Hunt and his lovely wife, Freda, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Van Til who live on Lilac Lane in Alpine.

Hunt, associated with the Daily Californian in the editorial department, was located in Alpine almost three years ago. He published the Alpine Sun, briefly.

A tour of Alpine was enjoyed by both Mr. and Mrs. Hunt. They noted that not many changes had taken place on Tavern Rd., where they had lived three weeks.

Palo Verde, as always an outstanding attraction, was viewed by them as a wonderful addition to Alpine. They were pleased with the beautiful new service station built by their friend, Bob Wilson.

They spoke of many friends that they had made during their brief sojourn in our town. They would have been very pleased to see those who had given them so much help and encouragement when they were here, but time did not permit them to do so.

It is hoped that they will be able to visit Alpine again. The Hunts now reside in El Cajon.

Mail Boxes Need Attention

ALPINE — Your postmaster, Phil Hall recently made his yearly inspection of the rural route.

Among discrepancies noted, were: Loose boxes, boxes either too high or too low and lack of names and numbers.

Most boxes showed pride in ownership with name and number neatly inscribed, correct height and they were firmly placed on posts.

We wonder if the rural patrons realize how important it is to have name and number painted on his box clearly discernible to regular carrier or substitute on the route?

Furthermore, boxes clearly lettered with patrons name is certainly a big help to friends trying to locate a person.

Where possible, boxes should be grouped as shown in the picture on page 10. You will also note that there is a picture of how not to maintain a rural box.

Don't let yourself be classed in this category. Boxes should be of standard height, three feet, six inches, from road to bottom of the box.

Cooperation will bring attractiveness to the community and efficiency to the Alpine Post Office.

Death Looms on Highways

SACRAMENTO — "Death is a subject most of us don't like to talk about very often. This week it will be on our minds because of Memorial Day. I hope it will be on your mind when you are in your car, as well, because the sad truth is, far too many drivers and passengers will qualify for graves before the holiday is over."

This was the somber holiday message of California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden, as he laid the responsibility for the Memorial Day traffic accident record squarely on drivers.

"That record — good or bad — will depend on whether drivers understand and accept the necessity for sane and sensible practices behind the wheel.

"If their choice is to convert our streets and highways into jungles, where survival of the fittest is the rule, funeral processions will be seen many times following our holiday weekend.

"I ask you to contemplate death as you drive, though you may consider this morbid. Perhaps it is. But maybe it will cause smug or careless drivers to face up to reality now — before it's too late."

The 78-hour Memorial Day holiday begins at 6 p. m., Friday, May 28 and extends until midnight, Monday, May 31.

FREEWAY IS OPENED TUESDAY

Starting Tuesday morning, May 25, 1965, motorists will be routed over four miles of new Interstate 8 freeway from East Main Street in El Cajon to Harritt Road near Johnstown, announced Jacob Dekema, District Engineer for the State Division of Highways.

Dekema said the 4-lane freeway, which took 1-1/2 years to complete at a cost of $3.4 million dollars, includes interchanges at Greenfield Dr. and Harritt Road as well as grading for a future interchange at Los Coches Road.

Historic Tree Removed

DESCANSO — There is a particular oak tree which is one of the largest and oldest in the state of California and a move was made as far back as early 1941 to have it cut down. At that time a committee from Descanso headed by Mrs. Garnet Landis (now deceased) and Joe Brennan, San Diego Harbormaster, was formed to protect this tree.

In 1941 Mrs. Landis and Joe Brennan flew to Washington, D.C. to attempt to have the tree declared a national monument.

Due to the rapid approach of World War II and the fact that the government was heavily involved in national defense, the item concerning the tree was shelved for the duration of the war and in 1945 Mr. Brennan and Mrs. Landis succeeded in having the tree declared a national monument and at that time a concrete retaining wall was built around the tree on the side facing the highway.

Ten years ago part of the main tree fell and endangered buildings in the immediate area, and just two weeks previous to this date another section fell across power lines, knocking out the power and partly blocking Highway 80.

It was decided at this time the tree should be completely removed so as to eliminate the possibility of further damage or injuries to property or persons.

Capacity Crowd Sees Play

ALPINE — Friday night, the Alpine School auditorium was the scene of a play, the likes of which has not been seen in many a year!

School teachers and Kiwanians joined hands to present a really wonderful show to a "standing room only" audience.

Written by Jim Kennedy, "Wagon Wheels" was the story of a group of people who, as they came West, broke down in beautiful Alpine!

To mention all who had a part would be almost impossible. There were so many outstanding performances.

The villain delighted the audience, while the lavender cowboy brought howls of laughter. "Granny Goose" with his provocative potato chips, brought down the house!

It was interesting to note that when familiar songs were being sung on the stage by the actors, the charming children in the audience, sang right along with the group.

The dance hall girl was outstanding in her portrayal as was her manager. The chaperone was funny and had the audience watching her antics. And the song "I Don't Wanna Go" brought out a new personality in the actor who took the part.

The Indians were hilarious and the children were delighted at their dance.

Songs that were funny — songs that were gay — songs that were serious, for just a moment; all these added so much to an already great show and displayed some of the fine talent that we are beginning to discover in our local teaching staff.

One of the outstanding trios was the one which sang "Tumbling, Tumble Weeds." Here were fine voices and real talent.

A cute duet enchanted the audience and a "touching" song "Father Come Home" was beautifully done by a lovely Miss.

It has long been our opinion that Alpine has the finest staff in its schools in the County — perhaps in the state! And this marvelous performance that was enjoyed by all who were there, confirmed that opinion once again!

Amid all the fanfare and turmoil surrounding the University of California at Berkeley, comes a reassuring note. One of Alpine's residents, Mrs. Hattie Provenzano, has a niece that attends this fine school. And recently in the San Francisco Examiner, there was a fine article that told of her accomplishments (along with others) in helping the underprivileged.

It was pointed out that these students do not find the need (or time) to stand on the steps of the halls of learning and harangue crowds about the plight of the Negro. Nor do they march in picket lines outside restaurants, and they don't even try to get arrested!

They quietly go about the business of helping the minority groups by going to the core of the problem — education. The City School Resources Volunteers program has enrolled these young people and they spend several hours each week helping children in the classroom and in clubs in the schools.

The brightest scholar is encouraged, the backward pupil is coached. Stories for the blind are taped. Reading is emphasized and science experiments are tackled in the high schools.

Evening programs are included with a group of 100 UC students taking part where intensive coaching is given with emphasis on special talents.

Mrs. Provenzano's niece, Carol Fortino, was one of the first to join this unusual group. Three of her college years have been given to this program and she is now the head of a drive to recruit more help.

So it isn't all sit-in, or sit-down, or picket. Some of our young people have looked farther ahead and are doing something about the problem. And you may be sure that all of us, along with Mrs. Provenzano, are mighty proud of Carol and her co-workers. It is this kind of a young person that will make this world a better place in which to live.

If You Live Here ...

Now is the time to . . . shop for rhododendrons in bloom. Check your nursery for the spectacular, giant-flowered favorites in the colors you prefer and while there take a good look at the dwarf varieties that are gaining favor in California landscaping.

Keep roses healthy by . . . spraying or dusting with the controls your nurseryman recommends. A mulch around the roots will help conserve moisture. Remove any suckers that appear around your roses growing below the bud union.

Thin out . . . evergreen trees and shrubs now, removing unsightly suckers and cross branches. Pinch back fuchsias and other flowering plants to encourage branching.

If . . . April showers kept you out of the garden last month, catch up now with nursery transplants of annuals and perennials for quick summer color.

"The following advice has been offered by Juvenile Judge Philip B. Gillim, of Denver, Colorado. 'Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teen-ager, "What can we do? Where can we go?" The answer is, go home! Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork, rake the leaves, mow the lawn, shovel the walk, wash the car, learn to cook, scrub some floors, repair the sink, build a boat, get a job. Help the minister, priest or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons. And when you are through, and not too tired, read a good book.' ## Alcoholics Unanimous

By FRED TINKER

QUESTION: How can I tell if I am an alcoholic? I know I drink more than I should, but so do most of our friends. My wife keeps telling me I am an alcoholic, though. Is she right? How do you tell if a person is an alcoholic or just drinks too much? Is there any test I can take? Could a doctor tell me?

ANSWER: There are some doctors who could tell you. A doctor of medicine who specializes in alcoholism could tell you. However, in the long run, you'll have to answer that question for yourself, so you may as well do it now.

Here is the method used by the Johns Hopkins University Hospital of Baltimore. Answer these 20 questions as honestly as you can:

1. Do you lose time from work due to drinking?
2. Is drinking making your home life unhappy?
3. Do you drink because you are shy with other people?
4. Is drinking affecting your reputation?
5. Have you gotten into financial difficulty as a result of drinking?
6. Have you ever felt remorse after drinking?
7. Do you turn to lower companions and an inferior environment when drinking?
8. Does your drinking make you careless of your family's welfare?
9. Has your ambition decreased since drinking?
10. Do you crave a drink at a definite time daily?
11. Do you want a drink the next morning?
12. Does drinking cause you difficulty in sleeping?
13. Has your efficiency decreased since drinking?
14. Is drinking jeopardizing your job of business?
15. Do you drink to escape from worries or troubles?
16. Do you drink alone?
17. Have you ever had a complete loss of memory as a result of drinking?
18. Do you drink to build up your self-confidence?
19. Have you ever been to a hospital or institution on account of drinking?

In case you're wondering: When I first saw this test and answered the questions, I got a bit fat "yes" on all 20 of 'em. Chances are I have an alcohol problem. No-o-o-o?

If you have an alcohol problem, now is a good time for you to start being honest with yourself. Answer these 20 questions as though your life depends on it because, if you're one of us, it DOES. An alcoholic who does not acknowledge his affliction and do something about it has a very short, miserable life before him. No matter what his status in society may be right now, it will sink steadily, usually ending in Skid Row, jail, a mental institution or a hole in the ground.

If you think I'm trying to frighten you into doing something about your alcohol problem, if you have one, you're right. You couldn't be righter.

If Mr. Fred Yale of Rt. 1 Box 440, will come to Florence's Supperette on Hwy. 80, he will find that he has won $2.50 in merchandise. He may pick up this prize any time up until Monday evening when the offer expires.

So You're Normal?

Jittery? Back ache? Feel weak or chilly? Heart pounding, stomach upset, throat constricted? Cheer up? You may well be one of those "physically, emotionally and socially striking" persons who "actually form the stable background of any industrial, commercial, scientific or academic concern."

At least that's what an Oregon psychiatrist suggested to the nation's general practitioners at their annual meeting in San Francisco. As one observer commented, The University of Oregon medical school savant, Dr. Herman A. Dickel, almost made anxiety the new status symbol.

This should be most heartening to all of us herky-jerky folk who have in our jittery way felt constrained to admire the well adjusted, the coolly efficient, the calmly forceful. The good doctor tells us the only thing wrong with us is that we have all those good old All-American traits: Hard work, reliability, acute desire to do a good job, drive and perfectionism.

It's enough to give the tranquilizer manufacturers the jitters!

Fashion Tips... by Celeste Parr

Lingerie is "Lovely"

"Lingerie is lovely, as Eliza Doolittle would say, and today "fair ladies" everywhere are talking about the wonderful things that are happening in the fashion world of lingerie. For mothers and daughters alike, fashion has gone skin-deep — to lingerie carefully coordinated with outerwear, to at-home loungewear . . . to dreamysleepwear. A lingerie wardrobe takes planning now. It's fun to buy, fun to wear, and fun to care for and it makes you feel pretty 24 hours a day!

"How would you like to go to a medical convention, all expenses paid?"

Color is Fashionable —

Color is IN inside! A slip can look like a bouquet of spring flowers, a nightie like a leopard skin and you can serve breakfast in a shift the color of persimmon. So, DON'T stick to black and white. DO have a little fun with color! In fact, be a little more daring than you would be outside.

DO YOU SEE THOSE TINY DOTS THAT LOOK LIKE PEOPLE NEAR THE NOSE OF THE PLANE? THAT IS DOROTHY AND PHIL HALL STANDING BY THE WORLD'S LARGEST BOMBER.

Shift Into Leisure Gear —

Today loungewear plays as important a part as sportswear. Current favorites: casual shift and skimmer; the jumpsuit and lounging dress; the dramatic hostess gown for elaborate entertaining.

When you're shopping for your lingerie wardrobe you'll be amazed by the "fabric explosion" — stretch lace, taffeta and tricot for shaping precisely to your figure; batiste for cool summer sleeping; synthetic fleece and pile fabrics for warm but drapable loungewear.

MARCHING BANDS ARE ALWAYS A THRILL TO WATCH BUT THIS UNIT FROM EL TORO MARINE BASE BROUGHT A PARTICULAR THRILL TO YOUR PUBLISHER, RONALD VAN TIL WHEN IT MARCHED AT THE RECENT AIR SHOW. THIS WAS THE BAND IN WHICH HE ONCE PLAYED WHILE SERVING WITH THE MARINES. (Town and Country Photos)

What's Your Line? —

Good news about lingerie care. Did you know that if you lived in lingerie alone, you might never have to lift an iron again! A quick, gentle washing and today's lingerie comes out clean and fresh — ready for another day of making you the "fashion queen of the underworld."

Of Fabric, Fit and Free Time

Whatever your silhouette type, what you wear underneath means a sleeker, prettier line. Keep your wardrobe in mind when you're choosing lingerie and foundations.

By MARIE KRAMER

Starting this month we are adding a monthly poetry section. I would like to invite you all to send me your poems. This includes the children too. The only restriction is that the poem must be original and your own poem.

Writing is such fun and a wonderful way of self-expression. Let us see what you can do and at times, you may even surprise yourself!

IMAGINATION

I lay upon a patch of green
And look into a patch of blue
A patch of white floats on the scene
And another of a golden hue.

I turn my head and there I spy
Burrowed in the brush
With twitching nose and sparkling eye
A patch of brown so lush.

There, I've gone and done it again
With every stitch I'm taking,
My imagination is running wild
On this patchwork quilt I'm making.

"THE OCEAN"

Red sails set toward an azure patch
As white camps pound the shore
My heart beats fast as I lift the latch
To my private world of lore.

It seems to me I've clasped the world
Of color in my hands
And round my beating heart is curled
The rainbow's colored bands.

Dear Sirs:

Please put the following ad in your interesting paper. It is better every time we pick it up on the weekend when we are in Alpine.

P. B., San Diego

Dear Mr. Van Til:

I should have thanked you before this for the very nice way you put my ad in your paper and I want you to know it really paid off. I got many new clients thru that ad. I usually ask who sent them or how they found out about me and nearly all the new ones told me, thru your paper.

M. G., Boulevard

Manager: Restaurant with the tree inside Alpine, Calif.

Dear Sir,

I am a stranger to you altho I have eaten in your place on several occasions. Always enjoyed our meals with you people.

We are coming to California some time this summer and would like to stay in Alpine for a while if there are accommodations for travelers. If you could find time to let us know I would appreciate it.

I recall you have a local paper there and I think the subscription is one dollar for a certain length of time so am enclosing the dollar.

Town and Country News Alpine, Calif.

Dear Sir,

We are avid readers of your paper, and enjoy it very much. If we miss a copy, we can "fill in" at the library where one can read it in the reference area.

I. E. G., Alpine

(Editor's Note) We want all our wonderful friends to know how very much we appreciate their expressions of encouragement through their fine letters and the many phone calls we have recently received. It is gratifying to know that so many are backing us and we thank you for your interest.

OPEN HOUSE

By RUTH FULLER

ONE OF MY MOST PROMINENT FAULTS is that I am disorganized. I have a difficult time sticking to schedules. I tend to go off on tangents and I am hap-hazard and waste time dreadfully.

OF COURSE THERE ARE OTHER THINGS wrong with me too but I've often thought if I knew how to plan my days, things would be simpler. I discussed my problem with a friend of mine who said if I would just follow my horoscope, I would soon notice a distinct change and there would be a vast improvement in my life. Since I was convinced that any change would be an improvement, I decided to try it . . . surely I had nothing to lose.

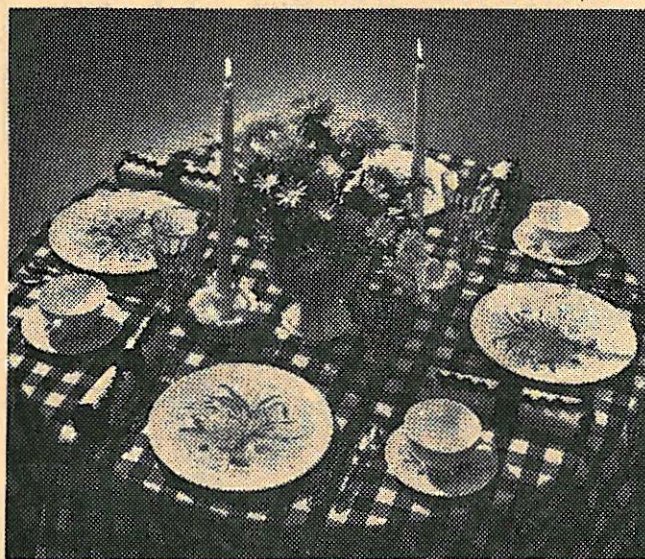

ON THE DAY I PROPOSED TO BEGIN AN orderly way of living, I overslept and didn't have time to consult my horoscope because at the last moment I discovered a large spot on my blouse, and had to iron another before I got breakfast. Robert chose this opportunity to comment that he was getting pretty tired of scrambled eggs every morning, couldn't I possibly think of something different? And then we had an argument about the coffee — it was strong enough for me, but not for him.

WHILE HE WAS COMPLAINING ABOUT the toast being overdone, I noticed that Mr. Sam had escaped and Robert said I had left the back door open and I said his shop was also open, and by this time it was getting late. We located Mr. Sam and confined him to the house and dashed out to the car. We had a very flat tire. With great foresight, Robert had left his car on the site of his current job. I felt pretty bitter about this and pointed out to him that if we had both cars there would be no problem.

WHEN I GOT HOME FROM WORK, I picked up the newspaper and scanned the headlines and belatedly turned to my horoscope. It said: "Don't overload your schedule today. See to it that relations with mate are improved. Much diplomacy is necessary or there is a mounting problem at home. Carrying through with obligations to higher-ups is most important today. And have a happy exterior."

SET A FRESH MOOD FOR SPRING

SAY WELCOME TO SPRING with a bold splash of flowers and a fearless checked print. In this lighthearted luncheon setting, yellow blossoms sing out on shining white melamine dinnerware against a crisp black and white gingham cloth. Yellow napkins are edged in black rickrack and yellow candles in white alabaster sticks flank a fresh floral centerpiece in a milk white compote. Yellow glass goblets in thumbprint design add a touch of elegance to this enchanting spring table setting.

"You're a real gentleman to get up and give me your seat!"

Old Newspaper Reveals History

"Parents universally appear to be, and indeed generally are really anxious for the welfare and happiness of their children, yet how few take the right method to render them respectable, useful or happy. In childhood unbounded indulgence; every caprice gratified, every turbulent passion unrestrained; in youth this criminal indulgence continued; till the inexperienced unwary beings thus left to their own unruly will are plunged in almost every species of moral turpitude, before they are conscious what moral rectitude means. . . ."

Except for the language used, this might be an excerpt from very modern writing, for in essence, these words are being spoken today about the modern child.

But this is not modern writing. It is taken from the "Morning Gazette and General Advertiser," dated Boston, Sunday Morning, October 16, 1814.

We are indebted to Margaret Hughes of the Alpine Security First National Bank for the words we have quoted.

A wonderful binder of old "Gazettes" has been passed down to Margaret and her husband, Sammy, from generation to generation.

Margaret and Sammy, along with their family, enjoy history. And history is vividly portrayed in the actual events reported in these old newspapers. Some of the news is history of the sort that is read in history books today. And although the papers contain news of the war of 1812, it is not so much this news — the catches the readers eye. It is more the homey news — the news that gives us insight into what people were really like in those days over 150 years ago. And it also gives us an insight into conditions, as they were those many years ago.

For instance in the obituary column we read the ages of the people who have recently died. They read: 53, 33, 25, 3, 28, 47, 37, 22, and 34.

An item headed "Postscript" catches our eye. Dated Saturday night, 12 o'clock, it continues:

** None of the stages have tonight brought us later news than that given in the previous columns. We shall forward handbills should any news of consequence reach us tomorrow.

And the announcements of the theaters:

On Monday Evening next, will be presented, by desire, for the 2d and last time this season, the admired Drama, in 3 acts, called THE IRON CHEST: Or Mysterious Murder. Sir Edward Mortimer and Mr. Cooper. To which will be added, for the first time this season, the popular Romance, in 2 acts, called, Blue Beard.

One other advertisement in this issue:

Bone Setting. Robert Hewes offers his services to the public in the above Art, having learnt it of his late Father, who was acknowledged to be one of the best Bone Setters perhaps in the world. . . . His manner of setting a bone is . . . by so moderate an operation that the most delicate Lady may venture to undergo it. Mr. Hewes also keeps on hand his celebrated NERVE OINTMENT, which is the best thing known to put upon a dislocated, strained or bruised Limb; or to cure the Rickets in children.

Current prices also cause some comments:

Beef, (best pieces) 10¢ per lb., apples, scarce and high, pork, 8 to 10¢ per lb., and eggs, 40¢ dozen.

On the first page of one issue we read an article written for the Evening Gazette concerning "The Divinity of Christ."

And on February 18, 1815, there appeared in the News of the Week the headline:

PEACE!!!

"Glory to God! PEACE on earth," — Bible.

On Monday last, we received the soulcheering news that our Commissioners at Ghent had, on the 24th Dec. last, signed preliminaries of Peace with the British Envoys.

And the Saturday edition, February 25, 1815 carried the following:

PROCLAMATION!
James Madison
President of the United States of America

WHEREAS a treaty of Peace and Amity between the United of America, and his Britannic Majesty was signed at Ghent on twenty-fourth day of December . . .

. . . I do hereby enjoin all . . . faithfully to observe and to fulfil the said Treaty and every clause and article, thereof.

History leaps from the pages of this wonderful collection of newspapers. And in fact, no one newspaper article can begin to give justice to the "stories" which might be taken from the pages of this fascinating collection.

We are indebted to Margaret Hughes and her husband, Sammy, for letting us have a glimpse of the past . . . a glimpse that has made those years gone by, very real.

The Ladies Luncheon for May, at Alpine Oaks was held on Wednesday, May 19th. The tables were very pretty with sweet peas and stock centerpieces arranged by Rose Andrews, member of a Seattle garden club. The little potted plants for favors were made of gumdrops of various sizes, so were not only pretty but good to eat as well.

Everyone present read a short quip which brought much laughter. Guests were Mrs. Theo Jones and Bette Cressey. Other committee members were Pat Weideman, Clara Dauer and Lil Leinhaupel.

Plans are being made for a Father's Day breakfast. Eva Mumford has again taken the chairmanship. She did such a nice job on the Easter breakfast.

Earl Brinks is home from the hospital after surgery and is doing very well. Good health to you, Earl.

Edna Bartges has gone back up to Van Nuys to take care of her daughter, Mary, who had major surgery.

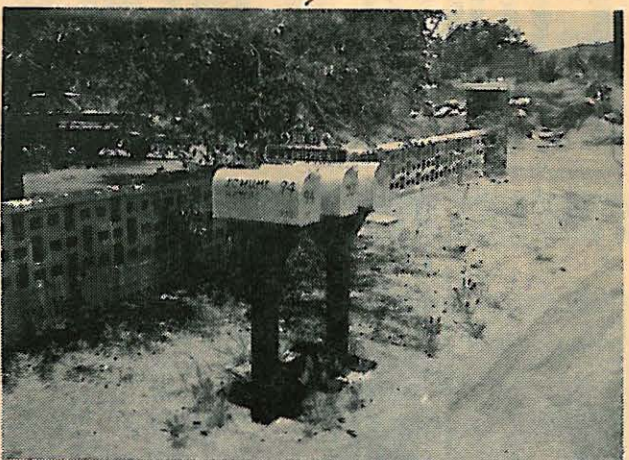

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Huffman are away for a few days taking care of some business at Big Bear.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Dauer are visiting with their daughter and family at La Habra.

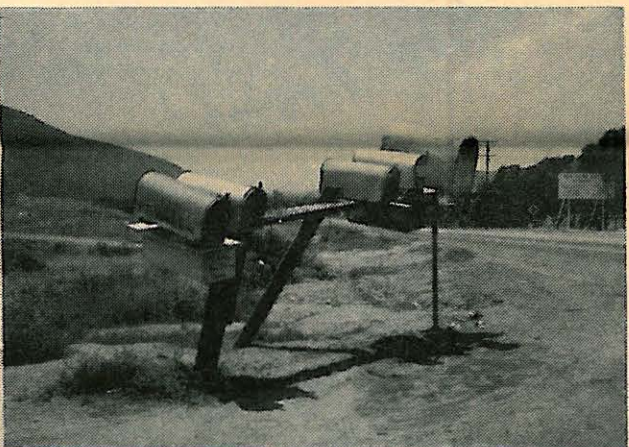

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Carter are spending a lot of time in San Diego, keeping their grandson company while he is recovering from an illness.

FIRE HYDRANT DECISION PENDING

ALPINE — At a meeting of the Alpine Fire Commissioners, several decisions were made, but still undecided is the matter of who will have jurisdiction over placement of the soon to be installed, fire hydrants.

However, the commissioners feel that they should be allowed to decide on the placement of the hydrants, and have made this proposal to the Rio MWD. It will be acted on by the department, and if accepted, will then go to the County Counsel for study.

teacher at Jamul-Las Flores School and to Mrs. Banner, Mrs. Nelson and the others that assisted Mrs. Johnson in her production of the Spring Festival last Friday. Just think of the time, effort and patience as well as the knowledge and devotion required to mold 30 or 40 untrained sixth, seventh and eighth graders into a band and a choir. Us old folks are real proud of all you students! . . . Talked to Frank Gute last weekend and he said that he and Goldy would be heading up for their summer place on Lake Pend'O Reille in Idaho within a month's time. Good fishing, hunting and relaxing. Marta Krause, mistress of Deerhorn Valley Ranch will be moving back up to her "Rancho del Alma" in Deerhorn Valley following the sale of her home. . . . Otto Becker left last Monday morning via a Polar flight to Munich in Bavaria and thence to his home in Baden-Baden in the Black Forest to join his sisters and brothers in a month-long family reunion which will take the group on a motor tour of Germany, France and Switzerland. Otto's been ready for this occasion for months but the question is "Is Germany ready for Otto?" . . . Ray Hughes' recent widow, Lora, is back from Washington and expressed her sincerest appreciation to all her friends and neighbors on the "Hill" for their assistance during the especially trying period of the past few weeks.

ALPINE

FIRST OF ALL, we hope the columnists read all of the Here and There column, because we have a message for them. As next Monday will be celebrated as Memorial Day and the Post Office will be closed, we beseech all of you to find a way to get your column to our office. If you can send it a day early and have it reach us by Saturday, it would be great. Or if someone is coming up to Alpine Monday, we'll be working as usual. But it may be that if it isn't all in (or at least some of it) early, some will be left out. And we don't want that to happen.

YOUR EDITOR HAD a real thrill when she attended the Gymkhana in Campo at the High School. These lovely people asked her to give one of the trophies to one of the winners. This is the first horse show she has been privileged to attend and it was very exciting. We're sure it isn't going to take her long to get into the swing of things and become a real horse fan. When she gave the trophy to the winner (who happened to turn out to be High Point Winner, B. C. Smiley,) he was kind enough to tell her exactly how to handle herself. It seems he has quite a lively horse. She loved the experience so much and is grateful to these fine people for asking her to be a part of their show.

GOLDIE VANCIL, SECRETARY to the Fire Commissioners will be taking a two months leave of absence in July and August and when she is gone, Helen Ellsberg will be taking her place. Mrs. Ellsberg has served as the secretary to this group before. . . . Mrs. Katherine Black, of Tappy's Motel has taken a well-deserved vacation and will be spending it in and near the Los Angeles area. . . . Mabel and Harvey Gilman are planning another little trip very soon. Their stay in Hawaii was such a thrill, but they don't plan to go quite so far this time. . . . Have you heard of the "Fun" contest that we are holding? I guess you wouldn't really call it a contest. But the first winner is Fred Yale of Rt. 1 Box 440 here in Alpine. All he needs to do is discover his name, which has been placed a few times in strategic spots in the paper, and take the item to Florence's Superette and he can take home with him, $2.50 worth of merchandise. Monday night is the deadline for the contest and we hope he discovers his name. Let us know if you like this kind of a contest. We think it's fun, and who knows, you may be chosen next week! . . . The lovely daughter of Dr. Bredesen, chiropractor out on Tavern Road, was chosen as one of the cheer leaders at El Capitan High School. This was a tough contest and we are proud and happy for Carol. We know she will be enjoying the fun at the games next year and we congratulate her! . . . Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gustafson of the Log Cabin Trailer Park, had a surprise visit from Mr. and Mrs. Roy Norman of Superior, Wisc., and Roy's sister, Esther, from Hudson, Wisc. Incidentally, May Norman, Roy's wife, and Irene Gustafson, taught at the same school in Minnesota. A fine reunion was held by these old friends and relatives.

OUR SYMPATHY TO Jim Creelman who is at El Cajon Valley Hospital this week. Jim recently had eye surgery done but plans to be home this weekend. Hurry and get well Jim, that camper bus is almost ready to leave for the fish camp and it wouldn't be the same without you! . . . Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hasbrouck and son Paul attended a reception at the Islandia Hotel given by Norvel Young, president of Pepperdine College for all prospective students. Paul will attend Pepperdine in the fall with his brother Steven who will be returning to his third year pre-med course. . . . Congratulations to Bob and Kaaren Phelps on the birth of their first child, a beautiful little girl they have named Teena Kaareen. She arrived Wednesday, May 19 at Grossmont Hospital weighing in at a big, healthy 8 lbs., 3 oz. . . . Best wishes from all in the Valley to our newlyweds, Ronald and Rae Ann (Riggs) Fields who are at the present time residing in El Cajon. . . . Bunny Fields, Dorothy Riggs and Maggie Greenwell are now Champions of the Leagues at Parkway Bowl.
