NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Louise Polk, Librarian
Something new, and we hope interesting, is now being featured at your local library -- "THE PATRON'S CORNER" -- giving news and views of Alpine area authors.

I would like to call your attention to an article written by one of our local patrons, Mr. Wendell E. Smith, and published by RELICS magazine (February, 1973 issue). If you haven't already seen it, I strongly urge you to stop by and read of his experience as a "fisherman" -- a pleasant surprise is in store for you!

It is hoped that other people of the community will "come forth" with their own contributions so that this special feature may be continued each month.

Another new shipment of paper backs and non-fiction has recently arrived. We will continue to receive these periodic shipments, so be sure to visit the library often to see "what's new".

A reminder: If there is something special you want to read and we don't have it, our County Library Headquarters will make every effort to secure it for you. Just stop by with your request -- or call it in -- we'll do the rest! I do need your help in order to provide you with the books you want!

A new feature at the Alpine Library...

Notes From The Library

By Louise Polk, Librarian
A very important event is being planned by the San Diego County Library for the week of April 1-7. Nationally, this is called THE WEEK OF THE YOUNG CHILD and libraries throughout the country will devote the entire week to stress the importance of books and libraries on the pre-school, kindergarten age child. Although the interest will be child-centered, I am sure the community will also be interested in what the "Junior Citizens" of Alpine can do.

Various activities are being planned by the Alpine Library in cooperation with Mrs. Marjorie Couden and Mrs. Nettie Stout, kindergarten teachers of the Alpine Elementary School, and Mr. F. N. Schraff of McCall's Ranch School.

The Library will be the scene of the youngster's participation in their special week. They will make a field trip to the library, there will be a special display of new children's books; and they will have their own special showing of their art and craft work. The highlight of the week will be a Story-Time and Party for the children to be held at the Alpine Woman's Club on Saturday morning, April 7th, at 10:30 am. Mrs. Pat Law of the Lakeside Library Staff will be our guest story teller -- and I can assure you that you'll be thrilled with her performance.

All in all, the week of April 1-7 promises to be a fun week for the children and I hope the community will find time during that week to join in the festivities honoring THE YOUNG CHILD.

RELICS

February, 1973 35¢

A LINK TO OUR PIONEER HERITAGE

I WAS so intrigued by "Barbed Wire in Lake Isabella" by Jesse S. James in the February 1971 RELICS that I decided to do some fishing on my own. But instead of dipping in a lake for barbed wire as Jesse and his square-dancing friend did, I wet my line in an old small-town cistern for mementoes of the past.

The "fishing" took place in Larned, Kansas, at the back doorsteps of my sister-in-law's home last April. On previous visits I had cast an envious eye on her old cistern pump and had taken pictures of it and noticed that it was made by the Star Bucket Pump Mfg. Co., of St. Louis, Missouri. The pump was no longer operable. The iron chain that lifted the little sheetmetal buckets of water to the pump's spout had rusted out, broken apart and fallen to the bottom of the cistern.

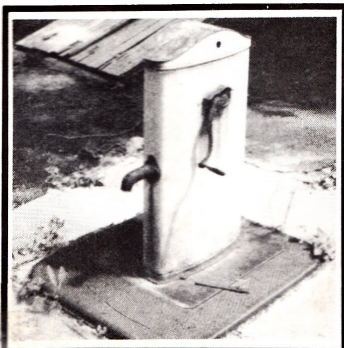

On our last visit in 1972 I figured that if Mr. James could fish in a lake for barbed wire I could try my hand at fishing this cistern right at home. What might I salvage from the depths if I fashioned a hook from a wire coathanger and lowered it with a carpenter's chalk-line 16' to 18' below ground level?

I took the metal lid off the pump to begin my fishing and lowered my line between the upper wheel and the side of the pump. I soon hooked onto something. I was expecting part of the chain. Instead my hook was taken by an iron wheel about ten inches in diameter. Where had that come from? It lacked a center hub to fit an axle and looked like an old car rim.

Naturally, I could not get the wheel through the small slit; nor could I let it drop back for fear of cracking the cement liner at the cistern's bottom. What to do?

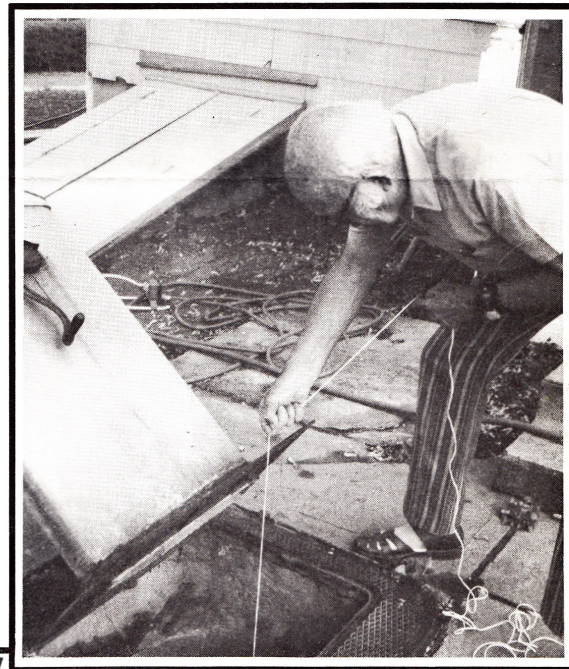

Finally I went next door and enlisted the aid of Frank Schraeder, a retired wheat farmer who had lived around one of these old cistern pumps in his younger days. Frank proved to be knowledgeable. He explained what the wheel was. It did not have an axle but rested in the bottom turn of the chain. It had wide flanges and its weight held the chain and buckets in place. He showed me how to shift a couple of long flat bars at the base of the pump so we could lay the whole pump over on its side. Now we could and did get the wheel out. I started fishing again for the chain. I hooked into it but could barely lift one end out of the water when my light chalk line broke. We pulled out the first section and I helped him pull out the remaining section—a sixteen-footer, half the length of the original one-piece continuous chain.

We dragged both lengths across the sidewalk onto the lawn where we could hose down the loose rust. Then we rolled up some of the chain and placed it against the pump to photograph it.

On our next trip to Kansas I'd like to net one of those interesting and often attractive old cistern bucket pumps for a garden conversational piece. But stay away from my favorite fishing hole! Find your own—there are lots of them throughout the Midwest. Not so in California.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY LIBRARY

The Week of the Young Child

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Louise Polk, Librarian
 On behalf of the San Diego County Library and myself, I would like to take this opportunity to thank EVERYONE who contributed to make our recent celebration of the WEEK OF THE YOUNG CHILD such an unqualified success. It is so heartening to experience the wonderful cooperation of the schools, children, parents, community and press for only with this kind of interest and participation could our activities be so meaningful to the junior citizens of Alpine.

As anticipated, the highlight of the week was the Saturday morning Store Time Party Event. Mrs. Pat Law's expertise in story telling kept her audience completely attentive and the party that followed was a fitting climax for the WEEK OF THE YOUNG CHILD.

It is hoped that sometime in the near future similar activities can be scheduled, and I am sure they will be equally successful.

Last Thursday, May 3rd, was quite an exciting one for Mrs. Lucile Smart's Special Education Class from Alpine Elementary School. It was their day to do the "Grand Tour" of Alpine. Their first stop was at Security Pacific Bank, where they were met and hosted by Mr. Close, Bank Manager, and his staff, Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Bourn. From there, they visited with Mrs. Louise Polk at the Library which gave them a chance to browse and become familiar with the many children's books on display. They even managed to come away with some surprise treats! In celebration of National Post Office Week, the students were given a tour of that facility by Mr. Magnusson, Postmaster.

All in all, it was a very exciting morning for the group, which included: Starlett Cable, Deborah Hamilton, Kenny Drinkard, Ronald Drinkard, Jerry Duckworth, Jimmy Ellis, Ronnie Owen and John Withrow, and also the parent who accompanied the group with Mrs. Lucile Smart was Mrs. Robert Hamilton.

Polk Poster Lures Library Readers

Alpiners will observe a new poster around town - one that is familiar to many, but the face has changed. MRS. LOUISE POLK, Alpine Librarian, got one of the old posters of "Uncle Sam" which said, "Uncle Sam Wants You." She then commissioned Alpine artist, WENDELL SMITH, to alter James Montgomery Flagg's poster, which he did. The poster now reads, "MRS. POLK WANTS YOU", and on the next line it says, "To Come to the Library." Uncle Sam's face was also changed, and the person doing the pointing is now Mrs. Polk - only a caricature study of her. Look for the poster and encourage your children to read. The Library has many fine books!

ALPINE SCHOOL CHILDREN BUSY TAKING WALKING FIELD TRIPS

Mrs. Claire Westrick's class visited Mrs. Polk at the Library last week to get acquainted. They are Audie Cudney, Richard Lowe, Bobby Sadler, Bonnie Klatz, Jeff Brown, Jeff von Radics, Arthur Wright, Morris Nocita and Christy Weisfeld.

Children from the Alpine Elementary School have been busy taking walking field trips around Alpine. A week ago Tuesday, Mrs. Marilyn Clark took her first graders to the Library and to the House of Pisces. Mrs. Polk, Alpine's Librarian, showed the eager youngsters all around the Library. All 29 of them sat attentively listening to the story, "The Ant and The Elephant". From the Library, the youngsters went to the House of Pisces to look at the fish and to buy some equipment they needed for their aquarium at school. Tina Pinkerton met them there and explained about the fish. The class voted to purchase 4 guppies and some live plants, and Tina gave them a skin Jiver model to put in their aquarium. Their walk took them back to the wall outside the Library where refreshments of cookies and punch were served.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Louise Polk, Librarian
The Library has been a busy place this past week -- for, in addition to its regular operating schedule, it has been host to two classes from the Alpine Elementary School. On Tuesday, May 15th, Mrs. Marilyn Clark and her students were our guests, and on Thursday, May 17th, Mrs. Claire Westrick and her class paid us a visit. The children were given a brief orientation to the Library and enjoyed a short story time with me. Judging from their attentive reactions, I feel safe in saying that the visits were a real success.

Our June Library plans are now complete. As mentioned in last week's Alpine Sun, the Alpine Branch of the San Diego County Library will sponsor a puppet show on Saturday, June 2nd. Mrs. Susan Shaw, Children's Librarian from Headquarters, will present her entertaining "TROUBLE WITH TRUFFLES" show at the Youth Center at 10:30 a. m. On Saturday, June 9th, we will have two films: "SEAL ISLAND" - an animal documentary, a new release from the Disney Studios, "TOOT, WHISTLE, PLUNK AND BOOM" - an animated cartoon, also from the Disney Studios.

So be sure to set aside the first two Saturday mornings in June (2nd & 9th) for our special programs.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Louise Polk, Librarian

I hope that everyone enjoyed Mrs. Susan Shaw's puppet shows last Saturday as much as I did. Judging from audience reaction, I feel safe in saying that both "Trouble with Truffles" and "The Howl of the Owl" measured up to all expectations and were a great success. Thank you, Mrs. Shaw, for a delightful performance!

It was so nice to see so many of our library friends in attendance, and hope that this Saturday, June 9th, will find all of you back at the Youth Center for our two Disney Film Productions, "Seal Island" and "Toot, Whistle, Plunk and Boom".

Remember:

Date: Saturday, June 9th

Time: 10:30 - 11:30 a. m.

SEE YOU THEN & THERE

If you haven't been to the Library recently, I urge you to come in and browse around. We are replacing some of our old selections with new ones, so we will have many "different" books. We are receiving some of the latest fiction and non-fiction -- and many other books that are new to the Library. Our paperback selection is very good and the "Food for Thought" display has many of the very latest cookbooks of all varieties. Our juvenile selections are also increasing -- and what beautiful books they are!! In fact, they are as popular with the adults as they are with the children. You'll just have to "come and see" for yourself.

Susan Shaw and her puppets performed last Saturday at the Youth Center much to the delight of the Alpine youngsters attending. There was a full house of boys and girls who saw and enjoyed "The Trouble With Truffles" and "The Howl of the Owl". Mrs. Shaw's programs have been a success in many of the San Diego branch libraries and Alpine was no exception.

The Children were eager to listen to what the puppets had to say for very often the audience was asked to answer a question. One of the key charms of Mrs. Shaw's presentation was that excitement was created by audience participation. The show came alive as the children began to answer the puppets questions.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Louise Polk, Librarian

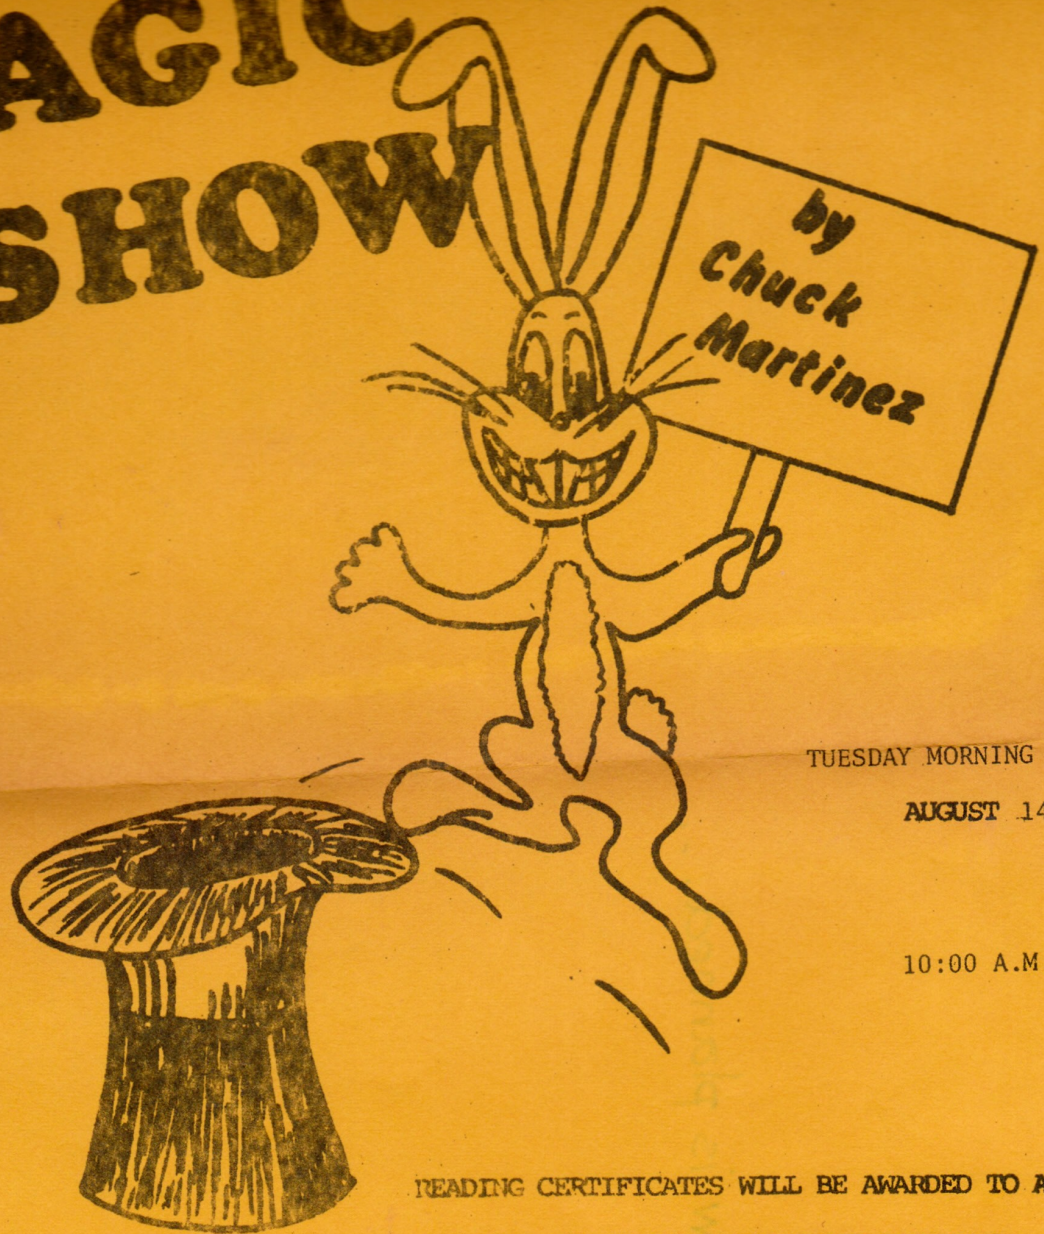

This past week has been another eventful one for us at the Library. We were visited by Mr. Jack Ades' 4th-5th grade class for an orientation on the use of the Library, and we had another large turnout for our Film Program on Saturday, June 9th. The response to our two June Library sponsored activities has been so heartening, that I am happy to announce: "More of the same -- only more so" for the future.

I have visited the Alpine Elementary School classrooms to familiarize all the students with the County-Wide Library Summer Reading Program -- June 13th - August 15th. This year's theme is The Library is a-MAZ E-ing and promises to be a fun challenge for all who participate. Reading books is, naturally enough, one of the main areas of interest, but the program has been enlarged to include arts, crafts, films, etc., so as to attract the largest number of participants as possible. Anyone over 3 years old may register, complete his requirements, and obtain a certificate at the end of the program-- it's as easy as that!!!

We are especially fortunate this year in having been able to make arrangements with personnel from Headquarters and with the Youth Center Directors to co-ordinate a variety of activities. The exact schedule will be forthcoming -- in the meantime, come to the Library, register and get started on the best Summer Reading Program yet!!!

Are you a newcomer to Alpine? If so, I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to the community and to encourage you to visit our local branch of the San Diego County Library system. As all of our regular patrons will attest, we might be "small in physical structure (for the present) but we make every attempt to be "big" in providing you with services to suit your literary interests. Hopefully, you will take advantage of the increased hours of operation, the NEW LOOK we've recently acquired and the addition of at least 300 new and new-to-Alpine books to our collection. Still another treat in store for everyone is the beautiful display of one of our local artists, Shirley Johannesma. We hope to see you soon and often!!!

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

by Louise Polk

Now that the SEPTEMBER-BACK-TO-SCHOOL confusion is over, and the weather has turned so pleasant, we, at the Library would like to see all of you more often--especially our young friends. We have missed some of our "regulars" but have enjoyed meeting those of you who are new. By the way have you seen "Mrs. Polk's Cauldron?" Better take a minute to stop by and see what that's all about--you might get a pleasant surprise!!!!!!

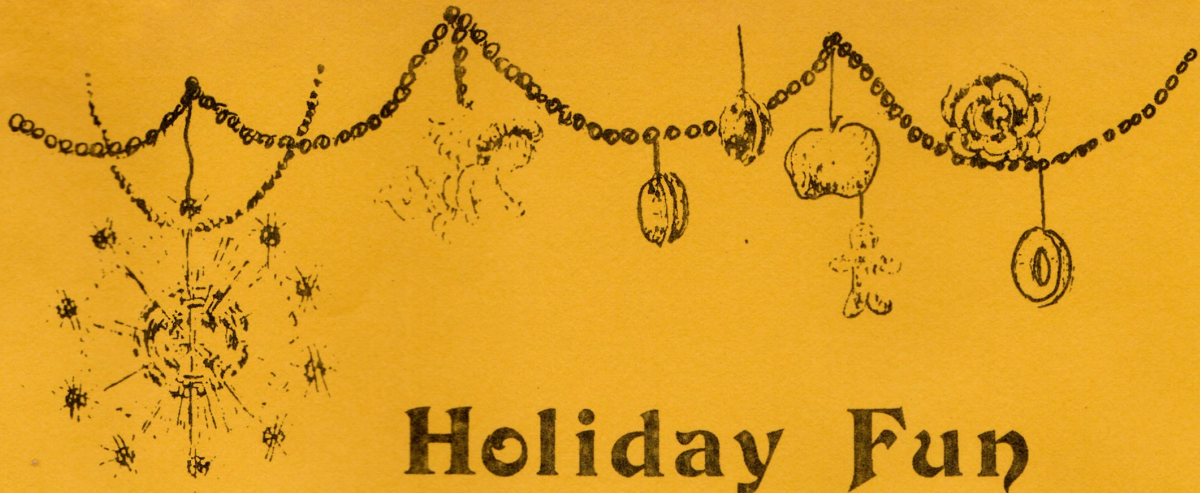

The Library continues to be a busy center of interest and activity. In the last 6 weeks, over 600 books have been added to our collection. Hopefully, you will find something here to suit your reading interests! If not, just let us know and we will make every effort to get the book(s) you want. Many of you already taking advantage of our Book Request policy and finding it a wonderful feature of the County Library System. To those of you who are not familiar with this special service come in and acquaint yourselves with the countless books that are available to you as a borrower.

Another added feature is our circulating set of Americana Encyclopedias. Although the very latest set is still "For Library Use Only" (as are all the sets of encyclopedias) we feel quite fortunate in having a set available to our patrons for charging out purposes.

Certain basic information remains standard--and these encyclopedias can be put to very effective use by anyone who needs specific information and cannot spare the time to do research in the Library.

We are very pleased with the favorable reactions we are getting from our patrons regarding our new hours of operation. The 6-day week opening at 10:00 every morning apparently suits the needs of the community. Perhaps if you think of our schedule on a 2 day basis--e. g. Mon. & Wed. 10:00 to 8:00, Tues & Thurs. 10:00 to 5:30, Fri & Sat. 10:00 to 2:00, you might find it easier to remember. I would like to take this opportunity to remind you that we will be closed on Monday, October 22nd in observance of Veterans Day, a legal holiday. Other than this, the Library will be open as scheduled, so come in and get a good supply of reading material to tide you over the long week-end.

"Tis the season"...the Alpine Library will soon be "jolly" when our 3 to 5 year old youngsters participate in our especially planned Holiday Fun Programs. The activities are scheduled for the first three Wednesdays of December (5, 12, 19) at 10:30 a.m. in the library and will include arts and crafts and a story time. All supplies for the crafts will be provided FREE by our San Diego County Library Headquarters. So mothers gather up the little ones and bring them to the library for some holiday fun for them and surprises for you!!!

The month of November provided me with the opportunity to visit every class at Alpine Elementary School. It was so nice to see so many of my old friends and to make so many new ones. Remember- as the poster in the school office window says; Mrs. Polk wants you to come to the Library.

On Wednesday, November 28, Mrs. Webster's first grade class paid us a visit at the library. It was a very rewarding experience for all of us and one which I hope can be repeated by all the classes when or if possible.

The Pine Valley Improvement Group and the San Diego County Library have extended an invitation to all who can attend to join them in their Christmas Fun In Pine Valley Special. It will be held on Tuesday evening, December 18, at 6:30 p.m. in the Pine Valley Club House. The program promises to be one of the highlights of the Holiday Season. Christmas carols, Santa's visit, treats, AND CHUCK MARTINEZ with his terrific magic show just can't miss being an enjoyable evening for all.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY
by LOUISE POLK

Have you been to the Library lately? If not, you should put it on your "MUST!" list of things to see. It has been beautifully decorated for the holiday season and I would like to take this opportunity to express our appreciation and gratitude to all who contributed in creating such a lovely season setting for the Library.

Last Wednesday's "Holiday Fun Time" at the Alpine Library was all that it had promised to be, for both the three-to-five year olds and the Library staff. I regret that I am unable to "tell all" at this time but I can assure you that the parents of the participating youngsters will be very proud and pleased with their little one's craft projects.

Our Christmas Story Time will be held on Wednesday December 12 and on Wednesday, December 19. We will complete our craft projects for Mom and Dad, so be sure to bring the children to the Library at 10:00 a.m. on those days.

Another reminder: "Christmas Fun in Pine Valley". This very special event is sponsored by the Pine Valley Improvement Group and the San Diego County Library.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY
by LOUISE POLK

Now that Spring seems to be upon us, Ada and I have started our own library version of Spring house cleaning. With the permission and encouragement of our Regional Coordinator Clare Chandler we are in the process of removing books which have been seldom read, or over-read, and replacing them with different selections obtained from Library Headquarters.

Naturally, this project cannot be accomplished overnight, nor would anyone want it to be. At this point all I can promise is "pot luck at the library"... which books and when they will arrive is anyone's guess. So to satisfy your curiosity you'll just have to come in often to see what is new and different. If you have any favorite general subjects or authors you would like to see included in this innovation, be sure to let us know.

There is one important thing I would like to stress... PLEASE do not confuse this with our regular book-requesting policy. It is in no way intended as a substitute for your special requests but rather consider it as a supplement to your reading interests.

One of our main objectives in the County Library System is to give the best possible service to our borrowers and, with your help, I'm sure we will continue to achieve this goal.

As you may recall, the National Library Association sets aside the first week of April (1-6) to honor the young child. With the cooperation and interest shown by Mr. Purvis and his staff at the Alpine Elementary School, we will again have a library display of the creative work of the youngsters from Kindergarten to third grade. So make a mental note of April 1-6, "The Week of the Young Child." More details later.

For this month's creative display, we would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks to Mrs. Pauline Smith who has loaned us some items from her Far East Folk Art collection. Currently on display is "Benigata" the colorful and beautiful textile block print created by the natives of Okinawa. You should make every effort to see this unusual display.

Another reminder of our library hours:

Tues. Thu. 10-5:30
Fri. Sat. 10-2.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY
BY LOUISE POLK

Our library spring housecleaning shows every promise of being a tremendous success. Your interest and enthusiasm over our recent shipment of NOT SO NEW BOOKS has been very heartening. More books and new paper backs are on the way, so keep coming in to take advantage of these many pleasant reading hours still awaiting you.

Our plans for the THE WEEK OF THE YOUNG CHILD continue as announced in a previous issue of the Alpine Sun.

WHO: K-3rd grade students from Alpine Elementary School

WHAT: DISPLAY of their creative work; library visits and story time.

WHEN: April 1, -5 during regular library hours.

WHERE: Alpine Library

As a personal addition to honoring the young child, I would like to take this opportunity to invite all of my pre-school friends to a special Story Time of their own on Tuesday morning April 2nd at 10:30 am. Mothers, I am sorry that this is such short notice for you, but I would like to see as many of your little ones as possible for several reasons:

1-Although this particular week is set aside for the school-age child, I feel that your "soon-to-be" children might enjoy and profit by participating in this event.

2-This will be my last opportunity to have a special time with them, because, with the end of THE WEEK OF THE YOUNG CHILD, will come the end of my service with the San Diego County Library System.

Ever since my surgery last summer, I have come to realize that the days keep getting shorter while my list of "things to do" keeps getting longer.

In order to do justice to all of my commitments, I have found it necessary to shorten that list. My acceptance by the Alpine Community has been one of my dearest treasures, and I regret that after April 5th, I will no longer be able to serve you. Please know that I shall miss each and every one of you, as well as my working relationships with my Regional Coordinator, CLARE CHANDLER, my assistant, ADA LYONS; and our local substitute, DOROTHY LONG. I have indeed been fortunate in having all of these wonderful associations-- Thank You !!!! Remember - I STILL WANT YOU TO GO TO THE LIBRARY.

Louise Polk Resigns Library Post As Of April 5

LOUISE POLK, Alpine Librarian, will be leaving Alpine as of April 5.

LOUISE POLK Alpine's librarian for the last year and a half is resigning her post as of April 5th. Alpiners young and old will miss Mrs. Polk who has been so interested in building an interesting program for the young readers of Alpine as well as being pleasant and most helpful to the adult readers.

Visitors to the library have noticed the changes that have taken place since Mrs. Polk's arrival. Young readers now have a colorful corner for themselves with a gaily colored, patchwork rug to plop themselves down on as they thumb through their books or listen to stories told by Mrs. Polk or members of the County Staff. "The Patron's Corner" giving views and news of the Alpine Area authors was added for the adult readers.

Many varied and interesting programs were planned for the youth of Alpine. Summer reading programs, puppet shows, magician programs, films and story hours were planned for the young readers. Many came to the events and there was hardly a boy or girl who didn't enjoy the library events. Groups of students from Alpine Elementary made walking trips to learn about the library. Mrs. Polk was most happy to greet them and answer any question they might have.

Perhaps Mrs. Polk's feelings about the library are summed up in a poster which appeared last summer. The poster a picture of Mrs. Polk pointing her finger and saying, "Mrs. Polk wants YOU to come to the library" expresses Mrs. Polk's feelings toward both the children and adults. Young and old will miss her.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
FROM YOUR LIBRARY

by PHYLLIS WATTERS

It has been said by the people living in and around Alpine - "I don't use the Alpine Library because I can never find what I want. You are too small to have much reference material and any of the books that I want." This statement and my ensuing conversation regarding the above statement prompted this article.

DID YOU KNOW the Alpine Library is as large a source of reference or general reading material as any of your largest libraries? We (Libraries of San Diego County) belong to the Serra Regional System and this brings all sorts of material and books into your hands. Come into the Library and request what you need or want and if we do not have it WE WILL ORDER IT FOR YOU at no cost and this will be delivered right to the Alpine Library. Of course, there is a time element - we cannot get you books "today that you needed yesterday." Try to give us time.

DID YOU KNOW that films are available to you at no cost? Come see us for all the pertinent details.

DID YOU KNOW that very few children even open the door to the Alpine Library alone come in? We are constantly changing our books (except for some of the old favorites). Does your child want to know more about a certain person, subject or just read a good fiction book - bring that child in and let us help him.

DID YOU KNOW your Library is community minded? If we can be of any service to you whether you are a housewife, teacher, student, mechanic or whatever and need or want some material, come in and talk with us and see what we can do to help you out.

DID YOU KNOW that specially planned programs sponsored by your Library are possible if we, your Library staff, feel adult and/or children will attend and participate?

DO YOU KNOW LIBRARY HOURS?

Monday -10:00 am to 8:00 pm
Tuesday -10:00 am to 5:30 pm
Wednesday-10:00 am to 8:00 pm
Thursday -10:00 am to 5:30 pm
Friday -10:00 am to 2:00 pm
Saturday -10:00 am to 2:00 pm

DID YOU KNOW that your Library would like to sponsor a Story Hour for 3 to 5 year olds in the Fall? If this sounds good to you, come in and enroll you child or children for the Fall. Also entertain the thought of volunteering as a story hour teller -

On Wednesday, July 10th the Alpine Library will sponsor a Shadow Show at the Youth Center beginning at 2P. M.

PHYLLIS WATTERS, Alpine's Librarian, and myself, invite all young Alpiners to see this special show and to learn about shadow puppets.

And don't forget the Youth Center's new "Youth Power" job service. Persons needing qualified teen-age help for any kind of job, please list your job with us at the Youth Center. We have willing workers ready to do the job.

ALPINE LIBRARY GIVES SPECIAL PROGRAM TO ALPINE YOUTH

The Alpine Library's summer reading program ended with a delightful note by presenting a special program for the participating children and their parents.

Certificates were presented to the children who completed the reading program and there was a drawing for a special prize from among those who had participated. The two names drawn from the hat were ROBERT WILSON and BARBARA HOUSE who received a $5. gift certificate from the Walden Bookstore which was donated by the Alpine Art Association.

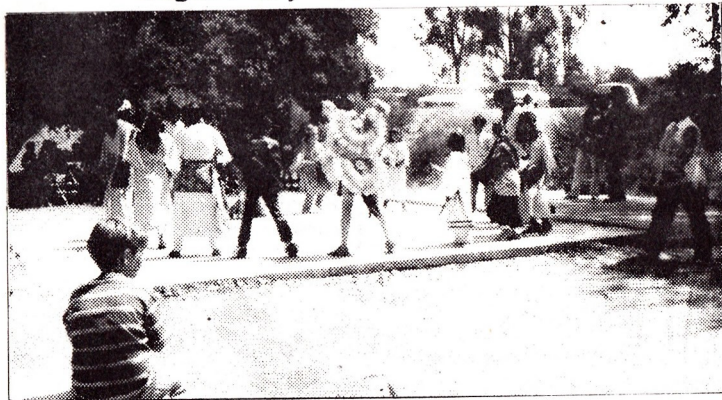

Children were entertained by the Santa Ysabel Mission Reservations dancers who put on a wonderful performance.

Several children from the Youth Center provided a magic show. SADEE GALLEE, SHAWNNA JERGENSON, GREG PATTON, ANGIE HAYNIE, RONNIE JERGENSON and KELLY AULT were the able magicians. The finishing touches were some modern dances done by JENNIFER GALLEE, MARGIE RANALLONE and LESLIE HOWELL.

An estimated 200 people viewed the program and shared the good time.

INDIAN CHILDREN DANCE FOR ALPINE

Alpine was treated to a wonderful program of Indian dances as part of the program put on for Alpine children on Wednesday, August 7 at the picnic area of the Youth Center.

The dance group, which included 15 youngsters is call The Santa Ysabel Educational Dance Class. The children range in age from 4 years to 16 years old. The purpose of the children starting young is for them to learn at an early age the proud History of the American Indian Dances and to regain important parts of their distinctive culture.

The dances that were done included the Snake dance, Pound dance, War dance, Friendship dance and the Round dance. These dances are from the Plains Indians of Oklahoma but the children also do a variety of dances from many tribes including the Bird Dance of the Digueno Tribe.

All of the dancers are from the Santa Ysabel Reservation and are themselves Digueno. They practice their dancing at the Santa Ysabel Educational Center and are taught by MRS. MARCEL OSUNA, dance director. The native dress worn by the children are all from the Plains regions with two girls wearing the dress of the Digueno Tribe.

This dance group has been together for about 1 year now and dance well. In no time at all they will probably be some of the best dancers in San Diego County. They really enjoy putting on performances and will do so for the asking. They will be happy to dance for clubs, etc. if given about a two week notice. Contact Mrs. Osuna at 765-1393 or Mrs. James Panchette 765-0617 for further information.

CERTIFICATES PRESENTED TO ALPINE CHILDREN

The summer reading game, sponsored by the Alpine Branch Library, presented certificates to several children of Alpine Wednesday, August 7 at the Alpine Youth Center. Mrs. Phyllis Waters, our Alpine Librarian, has worked very hard this summer on this special program along with the Youth Center. The children have had an enjoyable summer reading. Several films were also shown at the center. The special drawing was won by Barbara House and Robert Wilson. This prize was donated by the Alpine Area Art Association. Each child will receive a $5 gift certificate to a book store. Eighty-six children registered for the summer reading program. Fifty-three read ten or more books.

Paul Branson, Youth Center Director, also presented a special Magic Show with some of the children from the center. These children have worked with Paul performing these tricks this summer and have really had a great time. Also on the program were the Santa Ysabel Mission Indian Reservation Dancers. These children ranged from 5 years to 16. They gave a great performance under the direction of Mrs. Osuna. Mrs. Osuna has spent a great deal of time teaching these children their traditional dances. We wish to thank her and the children for coming from the Mission of Santa Ysabel and giving us a delightful afternoon of entertainment.

At the close of the program the children enjoyed punch and cookies which were donated by many of the mothers of Alpine. We the parents of Alpine wish to thank Mrs. Phyllis Waters, our librarian, for caring enough to have given so much of her time to this reading program for our children.

THE MOUNTAINEER, AUGUST 23, 1974

The children of the Santa Ysabel Mission Indian Reservation who performed last week at the Alpine Youth Center for the Alpine Library Program, would like to perform for us again in the near future. I know that many would welcome the youngsters back again, as they certainly provided a great show for us. Mrs. Marcel Osuna can be reached at 765-1393 or Mrs. James Panchetti 765-0617. These children will dance anywhere. They have been performing for over a year now.

For further information you can contact Mrs. Phyllis Waters (our Librarian) 445-4221 or Doti Clancy 445-4019.

LEATA JUDD is shown with several examples of her sculptures, which include a bust of her father, ROGER MOORE, owls, quail, and some abstract figures.

Judd's Mud Shows Love of Life

by Glo Newton

Observing wildlife in its natural habitat is a pastime which is common to most back-country people; the tools sometimes used are binoculars, guns (regrettably), pen and paper, or cameras.

LEATA JUDD watches wildlife with a wire tool and sponge in hand, for she is a sculptor. A long-time resident of Alpine, Leata still thrills to the sight of a covey of quail or to the sound of the barn owl's flight. She is definitely one who appreciates nature.

Living on 20 acres off of Victoria Drive enables the Judds to see many rare sights in the wilds. Leata relates one time when her guinea hens chased off several coyotes who had chicken for breakfast in mind.

Leata became interested in sculpting through her father's (ROGER MOORE) great talent for it. Mr. Moore used to walk in the woods and work the natural Alpine adobe, leaving it in various stages for Leata to find. As a man in his 80's now, Mr. Moore has shifted his interest from sculpting the Indian to his study of Early Man. Mr. Moore lives with the Judds now, and enjoys his grandchildren JODIE, 14, and DAVID, 19, who are still at home.

In addition to studying with her father, Leata also worked with local artist BYRON RODARMEL. It was during this period that she did busts of painter and serigrapher JUSTIN GRUELLE of Lilac Lane, and her father (pictured). She went on to study with STAN STEDT of La Mesa, where she learned more about sculpting the human form.

A product of Alpine Schools, Leata laughingly says, "If they don't know me, they haven't lived here very long!" Since she hasn't exactly been in hiding during her time here, she's right. A past member of the Woman's Club, Leata has been a member of the Alpine Area Art Association for four years. She has taken that membership quite seriously, holding several offices, and volunteering her time at Chaparral Middle School for many hours in the fields of clay, dry flower arranging, leather, and other crafts. This she has done long after her offspring graduated from the school.

Renewing an old custom of having art exhibits in the Alpine Library, this month's display couldn't be more fitting than to begin with Leata Judd's sculptures. The tradition was started years ago when HOLGER A. O. NICOLIASEN'S sister wished to establish a memorial for her brother. The monthly exhibit was moved to the Art Chalet when it opened. Present Art Association Exhibit Chairman PAT HOLMES felt a need to show creations that didn't hang well. Thus, the library exhibit was reborn.

Leata hopes to do some larger sculptures in the future. Her part in the Mountain Mamas' Muddery necessitates small work as well.

Librarian PHYLLIS WATTERS is justifiably enthusiastic about the new exhibit. I think you will be too; for Leata's figures are more than representational sculptures. They show a genuine respect for life at all levels.

WENDELL SMITH'S WORK DISPLAYED IN ALPINE LIBRARY

Pieces of broken glass, pitch forks, broken pottery, nails, all sound like junk, but to Alpine artist Wendell Smith they're the inspiration for works of art. A display of Wendell's work can be seen at the Alpine Library.

Each and every artistic piece has an interesting story that accompanies it. The "Owl" that peers down from the wall behind Mrs. WATTERS' desk is constructed from relic material collected by Mr. Smith years ago. The head of the owl is a pie safe panel he picked up in a New Mexico ghost town. Pie safes were cabinets with doors. On each of the paneled doors were perforated tin pieces. In the early days, pies were baked and put in the pie safes to cool and keep.

A piece called "Bandelier Pueblo Pottery Shards" has been created from bits of Indian pottery found when the Smiths were coming back from the cave dwellings 25 or 30 years ago. Wendell united the bits of pottery in a sand casting creating a beautiful wall panel.

Wendell's interest in the old and the artistic has lead him down many interesting paths since his retirement from the San Diego Union Tribune. He now uses his artistic talents, an interest in writing and photography, to write articles on interesting collections and relics.

His work room may look like a junk pile to the average person but to Wendell it's the beginning of artistic expression.

ROBERT GROVES' PAINTINGS
FEATURED AT ALPINE LIBRARY

Ten paintings by ROBERT GROVES of Alpine are featured at the Alpine Library this month. Mr. Groves, a commercial artist, does both oils and watercolors, but prefers watercolors.

Groves began his career at the Frank Wiggins Trade School in Los Angeles. After retiring in 1971, he moved from California to Mesa, Arizona. There he began taking art seriously in the "painting pictures" theme. He took lessons from a local artist, JETTY STOUGHTON, and also from other local artists.

ROGER MOORE SCULPTURES ON EXHIBIT AT ALPINE LIBRARY

Alpine Sun - May 15, 1975

Sculptures of local resident ROGER MOORE will be on display at the Alpine Library during the month of May. Born east of Ramona, Mr. Moore has lived in Alpine for 40 years. He lives with his daughter and her family, whom Alpiners know as the TOM JUDDS.

Moore became interested in sculpture as a child, over eighty years ago. He works at it every day, and has a fascination for early man. He uses native clays, and has never had any lessons.

An old streetcar was once his studio when he and the Judds lived on the Lazy A Ranch.

Mr. Moore draws from his experiences as a cowboy in the Imperial Valley to express his ideas in art.

At the Library will be shown Moore's two Indian heads and two "End of the Trail". Don't miss his fine expressions in our own native clays--drop in to the library today.

"Summer is a three-ring circus at Alpine Public Library," said Librarian Phyllis Watters, making her point by presenting a copy of her dark pink and black schedule of summer reading programs.

At the top of the schedule an elephant, a clown, and a bear were balancing balls. All on their heads? No! They were using trunk, hands, and nose, respectively.

The first event was the puppet show "The Mystery of the Three Ring Circus," which was presented in Alpine by the children's department of the San Diego Public Library on July 9.

Clown Peter Pumpkin, an instructor in Foolery Magic Shops of Sears Roebuck, will present a magic ventriloquist show on Wednesday, July 30, from 2:00 to 3:00 P.M., reserving a bit of that time for presenting summer reading certificates and serving refreshments.

The program is free to all ages. Peter Pumpkin and the librarian extend a special invitation to Crest. For further information call the librarian at 445-4221.

Alpine Public Library

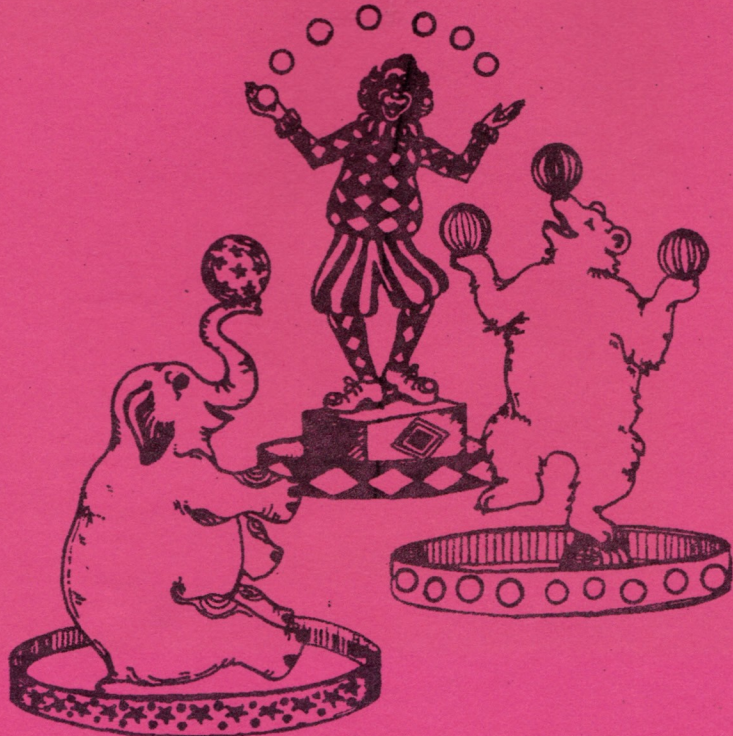

On Friday, July 11, at 7 P.M., the Alpine Branch Library and the Women's Club co-sponsored the presentation of the second classic feature film starring John Wayne.

The 100-minute western movie portrayed the saga of a western stagecoach and the intermingling of eight different lives — the pure, the devious, and the undetermined. The stagecoach served as a metaphor for life's journey and demonstrated the behavior and revelation of the character in a group of people under stress.

This program was geared not only for children, but also for adults. It was instituted as a family night, where the whole family could do something together.

CREATING CHRISTMAS NOSTALGIA THROUGH ANTIQUE DOLLS

The antique dolls and toys on display are typical of the ones owned and loved by children during the turn of century--on display at the Alpine Library through the courtesy of MARLENE WEIL.

The dolls are German made with beautiful bisque heads and with movable jointed bodies. Their clothing was designed and sewn from antique fabrics from styles of that era.

Ms. Weil lives in Alpine, and happily shares the toys she loves with the children and grown-ups of Alpine, and perhaps offers a bit of nostalgia to our Senior Citizens.

ALLIE VIGNEAULT SHOWS DOLLS IN SAN DIEGO AND ALPINE

ALLIE'S dolls were busy during the month of March. Last week ALLIE VIGNEAULT, Alpine's "Doll Lady", gave programs to the San Diego Doll Club, and to the Evening Belles Doll Club, on the subjects, respectively, "Award Winners", showing slides of winning dolls at United Federation of Doll Clubs Conventions and Conferences. Allie has attended since 1957. Club members displayed their "winners", together with some of Allie's.

The Evening Belles' program was titled "Peddlers of My Childhood", and Allie showed dolls and scenes depicting these peddlers.

In April "Allie's Dolls" will be displayed in the Alpine Library, as one of Alpine's Bicentennial efforts, the theme being "200 Years of Dolls". These include historical and political, dolls in song and story, dolls of stage and screen, TV and radio, and others, making up the history of our country for the last 200 years.

BUD PREISSER

RECYCLED REFUSE REAPS RESULTS

What is junk or trash to most people, is a possible article for creative work for BUD PREISSER, who is currently exhibiting some of his creative arrangements of natural combinations at the Alpine Library.

Bud's display which will remain in the library the month of May includes beautiful handcrafted birds made from redwood and sugar pine, a road runner with its nest of eggs, two small chairs made from buckwheat, and several other interesting creations.

Once you view this display you would think that Bud has been working on his hobby for a long time. However, only upon moving to the Alpine Village Apartments recently and having a lot of time on his hands has Bud begun to work with native materials and discarded items. Not since teaching handicrafts at the Denver Athletic Club prior to World War II had Bud had a chance to work on small crafts.

Long walks in the "south 40" as Bud calls the area behind the Village Apartments, led him to the old DAVIS home which had been condemned. On his first walks he brought home redwood pieces and sugar block window frames. "That's where it all started," explained Bud. "I started carving birds using different combinations of woods." With each walk, a different treasure is unearthed and brought back to his apartment workshop which is a 20" by 8"

(Yes, inch) doorway storage area.

Bud's wife MARY says, "He kept bringing old wood home. I kept wondering what in the world he would do with it." But Mary is quite pleased and often makes suggestions for his work.

Not only does he make attractive hanging baskets outside, plaques and arrangements inside, but he has worked making chains. He has different sized molds, usually pieces of wood, to gauge the size. Finding old pieces of wire or his walks Bud turns them into chains for hanging potted plants or lately he's been making copper bracelets, an old remedy for arthritis which many believe to be a cure. Bud has given chains to some of the Village residents and some of the recipients don't even take them off their arms.

Bud's life now is quite a bit different than when he was working with the Grossmont High School District, Bud retired as a shop painter there years ago, sold his house and moved to Alpine. His fear of not being able to garden or keep busy has been replaced by his excitement of working on his new found hobby.

Stop in the Alpine Library and see Bud's display.

Friday, May 28th, at 7 p.m., the Alpine Library and the Woman's Club will be co-sponsoring a feature film starring Charles Chaplin.

Chaplin's classic comedy is a satiric look at the machine age and the little fellow's struggle in the working world. Chaplin was quoted as saying "it started from an abstract idea, an impulse to say something about the way life is being standardized and channelized, and men turned into machines — and the way I felt about it. I knew that was what I wanted to do before I thought up any of the details. It was just my old Charlie character in the circumstances of 1936."

Also a short comedy entitled "Little Beau Peppe" will be shown. Everyone is cordially invited to attend this evening of films from the very young, not so young and all adults. There is no admission fee — it's all FREE.

Remember the place to be on May 28th is the Woman's Club at 2156 Alpine Blvd., for the first movie in a new summer series. Any further information can be obtained by calling the Alpine Library at 445-4221.

FILMS FOR CHILDREN PLANNED

At 3 p. m. on Wednesday, July 14, come to the Children's Summer Films to be shown in the Woman's Club at 2156 Alpine Blvd. This showing is for all children, stated PHYLLIS WATTERS, Librarian.

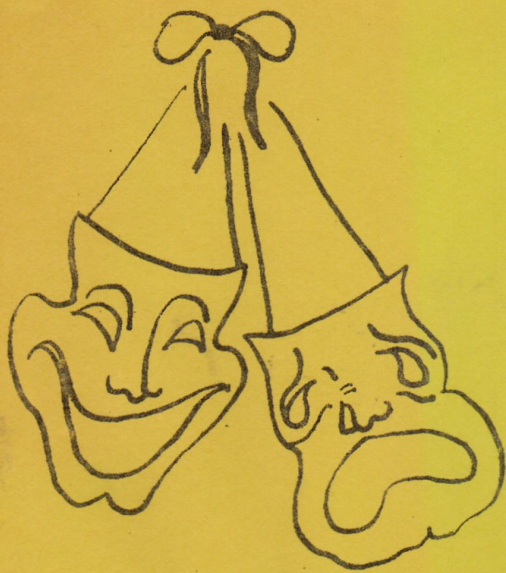

The films to be shown are these:
"Sneetches"--This is from the book by Dr. Seuss. It is a story of the star-bellied sneetches that had bellies with stars and their close relatives, the plain bellied sneetches that had none upon "thars".

"Astronoughts"--Inspired by newspaper headlines, the magnificent 6 1/2 gang convert an old boiler into a space ship. Their wildest dreams seem realized when they are lifted into "outer space". This delusion lasts long enough to give the group some thrilling moments, including a space walk, followed by a quick return to reality.

"Boy and a Boa"--This is an entertaining story of Martin and his pet boa snake. Nigel, the boa, accidentally gets loose in the local library and takes us on an interesting snake's eye tour of the various library facilities.

For a fun time afternoon, join us at the FREE films. All are welcome and encouraged to attend.

This program is co-sponsored by the Alpine Library and Woman's Club. For further information, please call the Alpine Library at 445-4221.

ALPINE SUN - August 5, 1976

Kids of all ages packed the Alpine Woman's Club to enjoy the puppet show sponsored jointly by the Woman's Club and the Library to honor those who completed the summer "People Make America Reading Club." There were loud shouts of glee and helping hints to the puppets as PAUL REVERE'S ride was retold to the imaginative group. The audience got to meet the puppets up close as the puppeteers led them through the group of excited children. It was an enjoyable end for those who made good use of the Library during the summer.

Special cups filled with goodies were offered to all the viewers whether they participated or not.

Reporters' Day With Editor

"May I please speak with Alpine Librarian Phyllis Watters?" asked La Cresta News Reporter Lloyd Wilkerson on August 9, 1976, after his editor had given an assignment. "Do you have in your library a copy of Hamlin Garland's poem 'Do You Fear The Wind'?" "Thanks. Now my brother wants to ask you some questions."

Lee Wilkerson's words on the telephone were as follows: "Mrs. Watters, do you have La Cresta News in your library?" "Good! How late does the library stay open today?" "O. K. Thank you. We'll come up today." -lc

On the floor of La Cresta News office, Lloyd examines Webster's newest Collegiate Dictionary.

"Have you looked at the front of the book beneath the protective covering yet?" the editor wondered.

"No. . . . Oh! Red with gold letters! It's trick!"

"Trick? What does that word mean?"

"Neat!"

Lee looked around from the desk where he was doing some lettering and described the book-back, "Excellent!"

Then Lloyd checked the biographical section of the dictionary for information about Hamlin Garland. "Nannie, he lived forty years in the nineteenth century and forty years in the twentieth," he shared. -lc

Alpine Librarian Phyllis Watters gives a copy of "Do You Fear The Wind?" to the twin reporters. When the twins began asking questions about the life of Hamlin Garland, Phyllis took a large reference book from a shelf, walked with the reporters to a round table, sat down with them, and read aloud about Hamlin Garland. The three had quite a discussion about Garland's rugged background on the farm and his moves from Wisconsin to Boston to Hollywood. -lc

Alpine Librarian Phyllis Watters brought copies of La Cresta News to the round table, where the two La Cresta News reporters had fun reading their own published creative writing in Alpine Library.

On the way back to Crest, they stopped at Taco Bell for a little feast of their choice.

At 4:25 P. M., back in Crest, the La Cresta News reporters wrote their articles about the poem. See them in this issue under the larger heading CONDENSE: AN OPERATION LATE START IN ENGLISH. -lc
